LOREE QUITS UNDER FIRE

Rock Island Meeting Results in Resignation of President.

SESSION IS STORMY

His Policy Not in Accord With That of the Principal Owners.

HIGHEST PAID RAILROAD MAN

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Lenor Fresnell Loree, the highest salaried railroad president in the world, suddenly resigned today as the executive head of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company. His retirement came at the conclusion of a series of stormy sessions with the owners of the Rock Island properties lasting through an entire week, and at which radical differences regarding policies developed and failed of adjustment.

Mr. Loree's resignation came as a sensational surprise to the railroad world. Nine months ago he was induced to leave the presidency of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad by the payment of a cash bonus of $500,000 and a five years' contract at an annual salary of $75,000. This contract, so liberal in its terms as to be almost beyond credit, provided that in the event of his leaving the service of the Rock Island his salary should continue during the life of the contract and that in the event of his death his widow should continue to receive it.

Winchell's Policies Accepted.

Within less than one year after the signing of this contract his retirement was practically forced under charges that he had disorganized the property instead of organizing it, and had failed in accomplishment of the Moores' purpose to weld their railroad properties into one homogeneous system of tremendous tonnage possibilities.

The battle was largely between Mr. Loree and B. F. Winchell, whose methods and policies have been diametrically opposed from the beginning. The policy outlined and advocated by Mr. Winchell won the day and hereafter he will be sole executive head of the system, with supreme power, subordinate only to the owners.

The positions which Mr. Loree resigned are: President of the Rock Island Company of New Jersey, the holding company for Rock Island system securities; director of the same company, chairman of the executive board of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company, director of the same company, and chairman of the board of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad Company. To succeed him in the latter position B. F. Yoakum, former president of the 'Frisco, was elected.

Net Earnings Decreased.

Robert Mather was elected president and director of the Rock Island Company of New Jersey; director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company and chairman of the board of the same company. As successor to Mr. Loree, however, Mr. Mather will not have the powers which the Moores, Mr. Reid and W. B. Leeds delegated to Mr. Loree.

It is understood that following the recent annual report of the Rock Island disclosing a decrease in net earnings far greater than any other western system, the Moore brothers and their associates began an investigation. They are said to have found conditions which were highly displeasing, although they refused tonight to say aught except praise for Mr. Loree's ability.

It was said, however, that Mr. Loree's failure to gain the approval of the Moore syndicate was due largely to the fact that he applied eastern railroad methods to a western system where conditions are totally different. His first move was to fill many important operating positions on the Rock Island with Pennsylvania men.

Mr. Loree's rise in the railroad world was rapid. He entered the engineer's corps of the Pennsylvania railroad at Pittsburgh, became general manager of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, and later fourth vice president of the same. Two years ago he was made president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

DIED ON A TRAIN.

Literary and Society Women of Washington Succumbs on Her Return from Europe.

WSHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Henrietta Seawell, sister of Mollie Elliott Seawell, an authoress, died last night on a railroad train on the way from New York to this city, of heart disease. Miss Seawell, who was well known in literary and social circles in Washington, arrived in New York yesterday on the steamer Zeeland.

Dr. Henry D. Frye of this city, who had attended her in several cases of illness, was summoned to New York by use of the wireless telegraph and Miss Seawell, accompanied by her sister and physician, was placed on the midnight train. She was suffering seriously at the time, but it was thought she would be able to reach home.

BIG STEEL PLATE EXPORT.

Carnegie Company Has Shipped Nearly Two Thousand Tons to Japan Since October 1.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The Carnegie Steel Company has shipped nearly 2,000 tons of steel plates to Japan since October 1. Other shipments are to be made as rapidly as the company can fill the rush orders for plates for battleships made by Japan some time ago.

The increased demand for steel plates from foreign consumers due to the needs of Japan and Russia will show in this quarter's report trade, which is expected to include not less than 10,000 tons of steel plates sent abroad.

ELKINS SAYS STATE IS SAFE

Senator Predicts Victory for the Republicans in West Virginia.

LEADERS CONFER

Campaign in the Mountain State Is Expensive and More Money Is Needed.

HARD FIGHT WILL BE MADE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.

After a conference of the Republican leaders of West Virginia, which lasted almost the entire day, every one of those who participated in it announced his firm conviction that the Republicans would carry that state. Not only do they insist that Roosevelt will get the electoral vote of West Virginia, but they are also convinced the state ticket will be elected and the legislature controlled by the Republicans.

The conference here today was attended by Senators Scott and Elkins, W. M. O. Dawson, candidate for governor; C. W. Swisher, candidate for secretary of state, and Elliott Northcott, state chairman. The situation was thoroughly canvassed and it is only fair to announce that the Republicans realize they have a real fight on their hands down in that state. Ways and means were considered, in fact, they formed the principal topic for discussion.

It is no secret that the West Virginia campaign is an expensive one. "Uncle Gassaway" is reported to have unbelted for a very snug sum, and the national committee is said to be pouring funds into the state.

Must Have More Money.

Not only must the Republicans conduct a very expensive organization at headquarters, which alone is estimated to cost about $30,000, but it is necessary to employ men to canvass and re-canvass every election district of the state, pay the expenses of speakers and conduct an expensive literary bureau for the dissemination of Republican doctrine throughout the state. All these and a hundred other things go to make a total of legitimate campaign expense sufficient to make the managers hustle to provide the sinews of war.

In short, it is estimated that it will cost close to $150,000 to conduct the Republican campaign in West Virginia this fall. The national committee, it is said, has already contributed $30,000 with the promise of adding $10,000 more and $20,000 if necessary. Contributions from other sources have been liberal, but even so it is said that the leaders will be required to raise nearly $50,000 to meet the estimated expenses of the fight.

These matters were thoroughly canvassed by the leaders who met here today and at the close of the meeting no statement of the details could be obtained. Senator Elkins, who participated in the meeting, is evidently in earnest in his desire to have the Republican ticket win in his state, although it would mean the death knell to the political aspirations of his distinguished father-in-law, Senator Davis. When seen after the conference, Senator Elkins said:

Elkins Predicts Victory.

"I came over here chiefly to attend a meeting of the Great Falls & Old Dominion railroad, but I have had an opportunity to talk with the other West Virginians who are here. There is no doubt in my mind but Roosevelt will carry the state and that the state ticket will also be elected.

"I am deeply grieved to learn of the death of Postmaster General Payne. He and I worked together in many campaigns. But few of the older ones are left. McKinley, Hanna, Osborne, Gibbs and others have gone in the last few years."

State Chairman Northcott said that the situation in West Virginia is very promising from a Republican standpoint. "We notice now among the voters," said he, "a great deal more interest than was apparent at first. Everything is running smoothly and we have every reason to expect a Republican victory."

W. M. O. Dawson, the candidate for governor, is also confident. Said he: "I believe that Roosevelt will carry the state by about 25,000. The state ticket may run somewhat behind those figures, but it will be elected. I have no doubt whatever but that I will be elected governor. The people are coming to understand the new tax law and they are pleased with it. Congressman Gaines will be re-elected, I think, despite the fact that there are three candidates for his place. Our meeting here today was to discuss ways and means and to consider the situation in our state. It was a very satisfactory meeting and we all feel sanguine of a Republican victory in November."

MRS. PHIPPS DENIES RUMOR OF MARRIAGE

No Foundation for the Report That She Is to Wed A. Hart McKee.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Genevieve C. Phipps, through her counsel, James M. Beck, tonight issued the following statement concerning the rumors connecting her name with that of A. Hart McKee:

"The statement recently made that I am about to marry A. Hart McKee is absolutely without foundation. The many exaggerated statements which have appeared in the press during the last few months have caused me great sorrow, and now that my marital differences with my husband have been adjusted to his and my satisfaction, I sincerely hope that we may be spared further publicity."

DEATH CLOSES AN HONORED CAREER

THE LATE HENRY C. PAYNE,
Postmaster General of the United States.

AMERICAN PLAN FAILS IN BRITAIN

Representatives of Engineering and Shipbuilding Trades Condemn the Bonus System.

CAUSES MANY DISCHARGES

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The introduction of American methods and especially of the American bonus system is causing general dissatisfaction among English workingmen, especially in the engineering and shipbuilding trades, so serious had the struggle become that some time ago a conference was called composed of representatives of 24 different unions which formed the engineering and shipbuilding trades federation.

This conference has now finished its work and issued its official report in which it absolutely condemns the system and declares that it is "uneven in operation and harsh and unjust in its application, creating jealousy and ill-feeling in the workshops."

For this reason and because these methods have caused more discharges than any strike in the history of the trades, the committee strongly recommends that it be abolished and declares that although the method may work excellently in America, it cannot do so in England.

CHILD KILLS ONE SISTER AND WOUNDS ANOTHER

Accidentally Shot Them While All Were Alone in House. Mother in Pittsburgh Hospital.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, Oct. 4.—This morning Elizabeth, the 9-year-old daughter of John Gatton of Mt. Pleasant, shot and instantly killed her sister Mary, aged 12, and probably fatally injured another sister, Emma, aged 6. The tragedy occurred at the Gatton home. The children were left alone in the house. The father is a brakeman on the Mt. Pleasant branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The mother is a patient in the Mercy hospital at Pittsburgh.

Not knowing the gun was loaded Elizabeth pointed it at her sisters and pulled the trigger. The shot of one barrel took effect in the head and neck of the oldest sister, causing instant death.

The shot of the other shell struck Emma in the left arm, tearing away the elbow. She was taken to the Mt. Pleasant Memorial hospital.

ATTEMPT MADE TO WRECK A PENNSYLVANIA TRAIN

Log Chain Found Fastened to Track. Flyer Flagged by Employe—Object Evidently Robbery.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ALTOONA, PA., Oct. 4.—Officials of the Pennsylvania railroad have made known an attempt to wreck the third section of the fast New York special near Portage, on the Pittsburgh division, on Sunday morning about 12:15.

An employe of the company discovered a heavy log chain securely fastened to one of the tracks and flagged the train. In the express car are usually carried large deposits of money and jewelry consigned to New York, so that the motive of the would-be wreckers was undoubtedly robbery. The Philadelphia express had passed the place but a short time and the perpetrators could not have been far away when the obstruction was discovered.

Thirty-Two Couples Wed.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Thirty-two couples were licensed and married here today, 19 of them being from Pittsburgh and one from Allegheny.

GOT DIAMONDS; ARRESTED NEPHEW

Society Sensation Created at Huntington by Recovery of Stolen Goods.

OWNER BOUGHT BACK JEWELS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 4.—After working secretly for six months Chief of Police Davis of this city unearthed tonight diamonds valued at $6,500 stolen from Mrs. Theodore A. Platt at New Orleans during Mardi Gras week last March. The diamonds were taken from the Platt home while the family were attending the festivities. Simultaneously Walter Platt, a nephew of the owner of the diamonds, disappeared. Early in April the young man was heard of in St. Louis, then Cincinnati, later in Huntington. Word was sent Chief Davis to begin work on the case. A member of the family came to the city and gave a detailed account of the robbery. A reward of $500 was offered.

Chief Davis, since April, has been close on to the track, and tonight secured four diamond rings, the last of the stolen jewels, while Walter Platt is locked up waiting for the arrival of his aunt from New Orleans.

Young Platt, it is said, represented himself as a son of a wealtiy diamond broker in South Africa, that he brought a number of stones over to this country and he had them mounted and was willing to dispose of them at a bargain, as he was somewhat financially embarrassed.

Several society leaders, whose names the police withheld, purchased the stones, thinking they had a bargain. All of the diamonds sold by young Platt were bought back with money furnished by Mrs. Platt. The arrest of young Platt has caused a sensation in society circles here, where the young man spent money lavishly during his stay.

JUDGE IS THREATENED IN THE IROQUOIS CASE

Promised Visit by the Vigilance Committee Did Not Affect Ruling.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—In granting the petition for a change of venue in the case of James Cummings and T. J. Noonan, on trial with Will J. Davis, for responsibility for the Iroquois fire, this morning Judge Kersten startled the court by declaring he had received a letter threatening him with a visit from a vigilance committee if he did not see the defendants were brought to trial in Cook county.

"The letter was signed," said Judge Kernsten at the adjournment of court, "and I have men now trying to find the author. I hardly believe the name signed was the true name. The letter did not threaten me with rope or bullet, but it said if I did not deny the motion for a change of venue a vigilance committee would wait upon me and wreak vengeance upon me for permitting the men who had caused the death of 600 innocent people, to escape trial at the hands of a Cook county jury."

FRAUD ORDER AGAINST EDISON, JR., COMPANY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—A fraud order was issued today against the Thomas A. Edison, Jr., Chemical Company of New York by Acting Postmaster General R. J. Wynne. The company has been exploiting a "magno-electric vitalizer" and in the fraud order it is charged "with obtaining money through the mails by false and fraudulent pretenses." The issuance of the fraud order was at the instance of Thomas S. Edison, Sr.

GIVE ORPHANS INTO POVERTY

Infuriated American Citizens Nearly Lynch a Priest and Agent.

PROTECT CHILDREN

Take Helpless Little Ones from Degraded Mexicans Who Received Them.

WAIFS CAME FROM NEW YORK

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MORENCI, ARIZ., Oct. 4.—A drama full of startling scenes and thrilling climaxes is being enacted in this camp, with 40 orphans as the central figures; a priest, an asylum agent, three Sisters of Charity and three nurses, on the one side, while on the other is a crowd of disappointed, angry Mexicans and a body of indignant American citizens. The trouble started over the distribution of the children to a lot of irresponsible Mexicans by a young French priest, who has resided in America only 10 months, and who is filling the place of Father Timmerman, now abroad.

The children left New York 26, sent by the New York Foundling asylum for distribution in Arizona and New Mexico and were brought to Morenci.

The children were sent west on the request of the young French priest, who stipulated they must be blondes, as the Mexicans were partial to fair-skinned Americans. They arrived in Clifton in charge of G. Whitney Swayne, agent of the foundling asylum and Sisters of Charity Anna, Corsini and Legonui, who were assisted in caring for them by three trained nurses, Miss Reynolds, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Dixon. The children ranged in age from 2 to 4 years.

American Women Indignant.

In Clifton the priest met the party and disposed of 18 of the children to Mexicans of the lowest type. The remainder, 22 in number, were brought to Morenci.

The arrival of so many children aroused the curiosity of the American population. Many of the American women went to the priest's house and found affairs not working to their satisfaction. They became insistent and the priest, becoming irritated, had the children removed to another house, where more secrecy might be had in their distribution.

It having become known the little ones were of American descent, the full enormity of the crime being perpetrated dawned upon the white people. It was found many of the orphans had been turned over to persons without character. Swayne was called on by a committee of the most prominent men of Morenci. He stated he believed the children would be cared for all right, and that they would be left with the Mexicans to whom they had been given.

Waited on by Committee.

Indignation grew apace. Clifton was telegraphed and legal advice was sought. Deputy Sheriff Dunagan came with a warrant for the arrest of the priest and Swayne. A crowd of 200 Americans congregated. The deputy informed the citizens he could not take the prisoners until they had produced the children.

A committee of 15 was immediately appointed. It called out Swayne and the priest and gave them just one hour in which to produce the children. This they did. The Mexicans, fearing violence at the hands of the whites, became excited and carried the children to the hotel through a drenching rainstorm.

While the children were being brought Swayne and the priest were seized by the mob, which threatened to lynch them. They were rescued by the sheriff's posse and conveyed to the hotel, where a number of deputies were detailed to guard them. Sunday night Deputy Dunagan begged the angry citizens that he be allowed to take his prisoners to jail at Clifton. This request was granted, and the sheriff led Swayne and the priest to the stage through lines of hooting, menacing Americans. Many American cowboys followed the stage.

Tar and Feathers Ready.

At Clifton the stage was met by another angry mob which had tar and feathers in waiting for the priest and Swayne. Deputy Dunagan talked to the mob and succeeded in pacifying it.

Monday night a mass meeting was held. Probate Judge Little addressed the crowd, urging moderation. He stated the children could be legally adopted only with the consent of the foundling asylum. This was refused by the sisters and Swayne. The citizens decided to hold the children at all hazards. Swayne and the priest were told to take the sisters and leave on the morning stage. They arrived here at 2 o'clock this morning. Twenty-four of the children and the sisters and nurses are now at the Morenci hotel, where they are kept prisoners.

Swayne stated before leaving today that the aid of the federal court would be invoked to secure the release of the children.

FRANCHISE TO WESTINGHOUSE

Lockport Council Grants Use of Streets to Supply Electric Power, Heat and Light.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—After deliberating all night the common council this morning voted a franchise to the Niagara, Lockport and Ontario Power Company to use the streets to supply electric power, heat and light. The application was made by Robert E. Drake, representing the Westinghouse Company, which is backing the power canal company.

Gov. Odell vetoed the bill of the power company last May, but the company is building a power canal from the Niagara river under an old state franchise signed by Gov. Flower. The company agrees to build the power canal within 10 years and spend $50,000 in the project within a year.

PAYNE'S LIFE WORK IS DONE

Postmaster General Died Yesterday Evening in a Washington Hotel.

ATTAINED HIS IDEAL

When Boy in Village Postoffice He Wanted to Be Chief of the Service.

HIS END CAME PEACEFULLY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.

Death entered the cabinet of President Roosevelt this evening, when at 6:10 it claimed Postmaster General Henry C. Payne. For more than 24 hours the physicians at his bedside had been without hope and they marveled at his vitality which had enabled him repeatedly to rally from sinking attacks. The postmaster general died at his apartments at the Arlington hotel, where he had made his residence since he became a member of the cabinet. He had not been in robust health for at least two years and since the disclosures in connection with the frauds in the postal service, which weighed heavily upon his mind, he has been almost constantly under the care of a physician, and for weeks at a time unable to perform his duties at the postoffice department. He had been urged to relinquish his official position because of his health and warned by physicians that his life depended upon this step, and it was his intention to resign immediately after the coming election. He believed the exigencies of politics required that he remain in the president's official council until that time.

Felt He Would Not Recover.

About a week ago the postmaster general became much worse and since last Friday his friends have felt that he would not recover. On Sunday he became unconscious but rallied, and this occurred again at least twice today. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the physicians informed Mrs. Payne that her husband was dying and the members of his family gathered at his bedside.

After the demise a bulletin, signed by Drs. Rixey, Magruder and Grayson, was issued announcing death was due to a disease of the mitral valve of the heart.

The last official caller to inquire as to Mr. Payne's condition was President Roosevelt, and he had been gone only about 10 minutes when the stricken member of his cabinet expired. Secretary Hay called at the Payne apartments a few minutes before the president made his visit. Neither entered the sick room. As Mr. Roosevelt was leaving, about 4 o'clock, he spoke feelingly of Mr. Payne to the newspaper men gathered in front of the hotel as "the sweetest, most lovable and most trustful man I ever knew." Mrs. Roosevelt accompanied by her brother, Capt. Cowles, also was a caller at the family apartments of the Paynes during the late afternoon.

Those at the Deathbed.

Around Mr. Payne's bedside at the time of his death was his devoted wife, the Rev. Dr. Dunlap, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church; Maj. and Mrs. W. S. Cameron of Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Cameron of Milwaukee, Charles L. Jones and Miss Louise Jones, relatives; Private Secretary Whitney, Miss Marie Barbiere, an old companion of Mrs. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mason of Washington, old-time friends of Mr. and Mrs. Payne, and the faithful colored messenger at the department of the postmaster general.

When Mrs. Payne saw the end was near she summoned the Rev. Dr. Dunlap and at her request he read at the bedside of the dying man Psalm CL., "Out of the depths," and then repeated the prayers the Episcopal church provides shall be read at the bed of those about to pass away.

Funeral services will be held at St. John's Episcopal church, in this city, next Friday morning and at 3:15 that afternoon the body will be taken to the Pennsylvania railroad station and placed aboard the private car of President A. J. Earling of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad and started for Milwaukee.

The remains should arrive at Milwaukee Saturday evening and service will be held next Sunday at the All Saints' Episcopal church there. A message has been sent to the Rt. Rev. Isaac L. Nicholson, the bishop of Milwaukee, who is now at a convention in Boston, asking if he can officiate.

Boyhood Ideal Attained.

The late postmaster general was one of the best known Republicans in the country. From humble beginnings he had achieved success both in business and politics, and was one of the few men who attained the summit of his boyhood ambition. While working as a boy in a small Massachusetts postoffice he set his aim at the postmaster generalship, and attained it.

Mr. Payne was born in 1843 in Ashfield, Franklin county, Mass., of a good old Puritan family. His boyhood was spent at Shelburne Falls, Mass., where he received his common school and academic education. It was at this place he secured his first employment as errand boy in the village postoffice. Later he secured a position in the drygoods store of John Sherwin, and when, in 1863, Mr. Sherwin moved to Milwaukee, young Payne went with him, and it was in the Wisconsin city that Mr. Payne's great success came to him. In 1865 he became a partner in the concern, which ultimately failed.

Having lost all he had, Payne started to make a fresh start in life. He had been married just before the failure, and his position was somewhat trying. His wife became afflicted with a rheumatic disease and became an invalid, and this added to his trials. With the grit for which he was noted he started in an entirely new line and with the late Benjamin Well became associated in the insurance business.

His Use in Politics.

It was not a business in which he became wealthy, but he lived and got along. At the same time he became identified with Republican politics, and in 1872 he first came to the front in Milwaukee. It was during the Grant-Greely campaign. Many of the old-time party men were for Greely, the younger element was for Grant. Payne was a young man and set out to organize the Republican voters into the Young Men's Republican league. It was in this work that Payne first attracted attention as a successful campaign manager.

From that time he rose rapidly in politics. His executive ability as a handler of men and as an organizer was recognized by the older heads of the party, and he became one of the local leaders. In 1876 President Grant, recognizing the work he had done for him, appointed him postmaster of Milwaukee. Presidents Hayes and Arthur reappointed him. As postmaster, Payne had plenty of time to devote to politics, state and local, and he made good use of it. He became a member of the state central committee and later its secretary and then its chairman. His rise was rapid and the success he had achieved as a local leader sent him a notch higher, and as state chairman he was regarded the head of the party.

Was a Friend of Armour.

While postmaster he had become interested in the Wisconsin Telephone Company in a nominal way. Soon after he left public office Alexander Mitchell, the sturdy and practical Scotch financier and millionaire, became impressed with his ability. Mr. Mitchell was one of the heaviest stockholders of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. There was much legislation pending at Madison affecting the interests of the road and Payne was sent there to look after it.

Friends of the postmaster general deny he lobbied, but Payne cut a great figure for several sessions and frequently appeared before committees until he became looked upon as the most influential man at Madison. As leader of the party, there were few requests he made that were not granted.

P. D. Armour next took up the young and rising politician and sent him to Washington to defeat the oleomargarine bill. Thus Payne became interested in various large corporate interests. He had become a heavy stockholder of the Wisconsin Telephone Company and became its president. He branched out, and while still interested in the telephone company went into the street railway line. Early in the 90s he conceived the idea of consolidating the local street car lines. There were four of them, all operated by horse and mule power, and giving inferior service. With the aid of Mitchell he succeeded in interesting eastern capital, and the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company was organized and got control of the four car lines and the two lighting plants.

The car lines were changed to electric systems and he became vice president of the company and resident director. The service became first class, but the price paid for the lines had been too great and the line went into the hands of a receiver, to which position Payne was appointed. Much of the credit for reorganization belongs to Mr. Payne.

In 1893, when the Northern Pacific went into the hands of a receiver Payne was appointed one of the receivers by the court. There was a great deal of litigation over his management of the road, sensational charges of mismanagement were filed and Payne resigned. But it was a fight of factions, and little was thought of the charges.

In 1893 he was elected president of the American Street Railway association.

Since 1880 Mr. Payne was a member of the Republican national committee and has been a delegate to all the Republican national conventions since 1888. His genius for organization was recognized by his selection as vice chairman of the Republican national committee when he was recognized as one of Senator Hanna's ablest and most efficient lieutenants.

Mr. Payne had participated in six presidential campaigns, and during the last four of them was a member of the executive committee of the national committee. He was the acting chairman of the national committee during the interim between the death of Senator Hanna and the election of Secretary Cortelyou as chairman. His appointment as postmaster general, the goal of his ambition, came when Postmaster General Smith retired.

DEATH OF PAYNE BRINGS ANOTHER CABINET CHANGE

Chairman Cortelyou to Succeed to the Postmaster-Generalship, After the Election.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The death of Postmaster General Payne will add another to the large number of changes in the cabinet during the administration of Mr. Roosevelt. Should Attorney General Moody retire from the cabinet to become senator from Massachusetts, as the successor of the late Senator Hoar, as now seems probable, it will happen that when congress meets in December President Roosevelt must send to the senate the nominations of at least four of the nine members of his cabinet, all of whom will have entered that body by recess appointments. Mr. Payne was the first member of the cabinet to be appointed by Mr. Roosevelt. He was selected for the postmaster generalship upon the resignation of Charles Emory Smith of Pennsylvania, who retired from the postoffice department a few months after Mr. Roosevelt became president.

It has been generally understood that when Mr. Payne resigned after the election he would be succeeded by George B. Cortelyou, who in July retired from the position of secretary of the department of commerce and labor to take charge of President Roosevelt's campaign as chairman of the Republican national committee. As only a few weeks will intervene before the election, it is thought likely that President Roosevelt will designate either Robert J. Wynne, first assistant postmaster general, as acting postmaster general until the election releases Mr. Cortelyou from his present labors.

HAY ADDS HIS TRIBUTE.

Talks of the Upright Character of the Late Postmaster General Payne.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Secretary Hay, in talking of the late Postmaster General Payne tonight, said that he had never met a man of more genuine honesty and integrity, a man absolutely truthful and fearless in his expressions of what he believed to be true, than Postmaster General Payne.

"He was," said the secretary, "a man of such remarkable uprightness and purity of character that, judging other people by himself, he was slow to believe evil of anyone. But the moment he was convinced that his confidence had been betrayed, he was most energetic and untiring in his investigation of wrongdoing and in his desire to punish it."

KIND WORDS OF PAYNE.

Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock Pay Tribute to the Late Postmaster General's Worth.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—In speaking of the late Postmaster General Payne, Secretary Wilson tonight said: "Mr. Payne was one of the most lovable men I ever knew. He was a man of the highest integrity in all his relations in life and gave to the discharge of his public duties more strength than he could well spare. The work in the postoffice department is very comprehensive and exacting. He brought a mind trained in extensive business affairs to the consideration of its development and it had striking growth under his management."

Secretary Hitchcock said: "The government has lost a faithful servant; Republican principles a loyal and earnest supporter, and his associates a genial and steadfast friend, while those who knew him intimately realize what an irreparable loss his family have sustained."

CHINESE FIGHT UNDER JAPANESE

Russian Scouts Encounter Strong Body of Bandits in a Pass.

OFFICERED BY MIKADO'S MEN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 8.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Gen. Sakharoff, dated October 3:

"At dawn of October 1, a squadron of Japanese cavalry twice attempted to break through the line of advance posts of Cossacks of the guard in the district between Khuan-Khuan-Dia and Teng-Tia-Pu. Both attempts were unsuccessful. Two sotnias of our cavalry reinforced the advance posts, and the Japanese dispersed.

"Towards noon the same day, one battalion of the Japanese advance guards, with two or three squadrons of cavalry renewed the offensive movement against a regiment of Cossacks. The firing lasted until nightfall. Gen. Mistchenko sent reinforcements to the aid of the Cossacks, and toward evening the enemy was repulsed at all points, pursued by our cavalry.

"Capt. Tolstoukins, commander of a sotnia, ambushed one of the enemy's patrols at Konschutzy. One Japanese officer was killed. We had two officers and two Cossacks wounded.

"The same day a Japanese force of one battalion and a half and a squadron of cavalry attacked in three divisions our outpost between the Hun river and the railway. Towards evening this movement was checked with the help of another company, which reinforced the outpost. One Cossack was killed and one wounded.

Chinese With Japanese Commanders.

"One Russian patrol dispersed two Japanese patrols in the vicinity of Tchjantan, on the right bank of the Hun river, taking three Japanese prisoners. Another Russian patrol, sent in an easterly direction, discovered Tawanghan pass occupied by 200 Chinese bandits, commanded by Japanese officers. During the reconnaissance one Cossack was killed."

A special messenger has brought to the emperor Gen. Kuropatkin's full report of the battle of Liao-Yang. The messenger declares the Russian main army is concentrated at Tie pass, and that it is not likely Gen. Kuropatkin will make a determined stand at Mukden.

It is understood the Third division of the guards, stationed at Warsaw, is under orders to go to the front. This, with the second division of the guards, and the rifle brigade of the guards stationed in and around St. Petersburg, will make altogether about 40,000 guards who have been ordered to the far east.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—According to the Morning Post's correspondent at Mukden Chinese bandits, organized into regular troops, are fighting daily side by side with the Japanese on their west flank, south of Sin-Min-Tin.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—Col. Gaedke, the Tageblatt's correspondent in the far east, telegraphs from Mukden that the Japanese apparently are no longer advancing, but are preparing for defensive operations.

SEVEN ARE MISSING IN OKLAHOMA FLOOD

Belonged to Party of Eight That Was Trying to Keep a Bridge Intact.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., Oct. 4.—Seven men are missing of a party of eight who went down with the wagon bridge between Lexington and Purcell, after battling with the swift rush of waters for many hours in a vain attempt to prevent the bridge from going out. The bridge was the only connection between the two towns.

The names of five known to have been on the bridge when it went down are:

——— WOLIVER, manager of the oil mill at Purcell.

——— WILLIAMS, Purcell.

——— CARNELL, near Lexington.

WILL TAYLOE, a boy, Lexington.

The names of the other two missing are not known. Judge Hocker was the man saved.

All telegraph and telephone wires in the south and southwest portions of Oklahoma and the southeastern part of the Indian territory in the flooded districts are down.

TWENTY HAVE PERISHED IN NEW MEXICO FLOODS

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 4.—Reports received from different points in the territory show that at least 20 persons perished in the floods that have occurred in the past week. Ten Santa Fe passenger trains are tied up at Santa Fe tonight.

FORMED A SOCIAL CLUB.

Allegheny High School Alumnae Form Organization for Social Enjoyment.

A number of the members of the Allegheny High School alumnae met at the home of William Waldeschmide, 1200 Federal street, last week and formed a social club. The following officers were elected: President, Charles Bernhard; vice president, William White; secretary, Edward Ball; treasurer, Clyde Campbell.

The organization will be christened at a meeting to be held Friday evening at the home of Miss Mary A. Patterson, 918 Beech street, when a prize will be awarded the member proposing the most suitable name. The organization is purely social and is composed of 15 couples. A number of social affairs will be held during the winter months at Cyclorama hall, and the season will end with a banquet at the Monongahela house.

PRESIDENT AND WIFE CALL ON THOSE WHO MOURN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt called during the evening at the apartments of the late Postmaster General Payne. They remained more than half an hour with the relatives of the family who are in Washington.

Sorrow in Milwaukee.

WILWAUKEE, Oct. 4.—News of the death of Postmaster General Henry C. Payne, while not unexpected, came as a shock to his thousands of friends and acquaintances in Milwaukee, which has been his home city for the past 40 years. United States Senator Quarles said Mr. Payne had bent every energy to purify his department and might have prolonged his life had he remained in private life. Senator Spooner gave the late postmaster general high praise.

SPEAKER MARSHALL'S NOTABLE PURCHASE

Secures an A. B. Chase Piano for His Home—A Highly Prized Instrument.

Hon. W. T. Marshall, speaker of the lower house at Harrisburg, this week purchased a very beautiful A. B. Chase piano for his home.

Mr. Marshall is in excellent company, as the Hon. Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, recently purchased an A. B. Chase, as did Gov. Herrick of Ohio. Senator Flinn of this city has had an A. B. Chase piano for some time. The late President McKinley and Senator Mark Hanna were owners of A. B. Chase pianos, which were used in their own homes.

Many local musicians have also recently selected A. B. Chase pianos at Hamilton Hall, this city. Sousa, the great bandmaster, used an A. B. Chase during his recent engagement at the exposition.

Interest in this beautiful instrument is growing at a tremendous rate among those who appreciate the fact that the best is the cheapest in the long run.

BRENT BLAMES FOES AT HOME

Episcopal Bishop Declares American Theorists Make Filipinos Discontented.

OUR RULE PROVES BLESSING

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Right Rev. H. C. Brent, bishop of the Philippines, who has just arrived here on his way to the Episcopal convention, made the following statement regarding the situation in the islands:

"Today the one force that makes for and unity in the Philippines, is the American hand. In the days of Aguinaldo the Philippines were on the edge of an oriental despotism—a peril from which the march of events rescued them. If the natives appear restless and discontented under the existing regime, it is largely due to the fact that a handful of intriguers and demagogues in the archipelago, and kindly, though I venture to think mistaken, theorists in America, have disturbed the equanimity of an excitable race, the majority of whom would have accepted American leadership not only with contentment but with gladness, after the natural suspicion that our conduct of affairs would be a repetition of Spanish latter-day tyranny and misrule, had once been allayed.

"We have launched on a bold and perplexing course in our tuition of this oriental race in the principles of Democracy. They are spoiled forever for a despotic form of government. Spanish oppression first, and afterward the constructive statesmanship of American rule is responsible for this happy achievement. But having put our hand to the plough, we must not, we cannot turn back because of difficulties and mistakes.

"It is hardly worth while to discuss the question of possible independence, partly because it has been pretty well threshed out, partly because its advocates present no constructive and definite program meeting seriatim the obstacles to such a course, partly because, with very few exceptions (the most eminent being a man whose kaleidoscopic conclusions from unchanged premises shake confidence in his power of judgment), the leading opponents of the present policy have never set foot in the islands and are incompetent to deal with the facts in the case."

APPOINTED SUB-COMMITTEES.

General Committee on Foreign Missions Semi-Centennial at Work.

The general committee having in charge the arrangements for the local celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the United Presbyterian Foreign Missions in Egypt and India, met last evening in the United Presbyterian church, Highland avenue, East End, and appointed subcommittees as follows:

On place of meeting—S. W. McKelvey, David Blair, the Rev. Dr. J. K. McClurkin, J. I. Donaldson.

On entertainment—John E. Shaw, Mrs. H. C. Campbell, E. S. McClellan, Thomas J. Gillespie.

On advertising—The Rev. W. I. Wishart, the Rev. W. R. Wilson, the Rev. D. W. McMillin and J. J. Porter.

On exhibits—The Rev. John W. McNaugher, Mrs. J. J. Porter, Mrs. E. M. Hill and D. T. Reed.

It has not yet been determined whether the visitors will be entertained at the church or otherwise in the matter of meals. Members of the church will take care of those remaining in the city several days, and it is probable that two meals a day will be furnished visitors at the church. The program of the celebration is in the hands of the general organization in Philadelphia and is not yet completed.

MURDERER CALAHAM HUNG.

Wept When Informed That Baptists Refused to Allow Funeral in Their Church.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—James Calaham, a negro, was hung here this morning in the county jail. Accompanied by Sheriff Carothers and a friend, William Frazier, he marched to the scaffold unflinchingly. About 200 people witnessed the hanging.

Calaham spent a restless night and went when informed this morning that the members of the Nazareth Baptist church had refused to allow his funeral to be held in the church. Calahan was 24 years old and had been convicted of killing Moss Bay, another negro, in West Washington last February. Calaham thinking that Bay and Mrs. Calaham were too friendly.

Calaham's body will be buried Thursday morning, having been taken by his wife immediately after the execution.

ITALIANS LOSE SMALL FORTUNE

Trunk Is Opened and $3,010 in Savings Have Mysteriously Disappeared.

THE DETECTIVES ARE PUZZLED

The disappearance of $3,010 from the house of Antonio Batalia, 1634 Forbes street, yesterday afternoon, is a mystery the detectives are trying to solve. Batalia claims thieves entered his place and took the money, but the detectives are of the opinion there were no burglers in the house. Batalia's actual loss is said to be $1,830. Felici Spinola and Antonio Ferrice, employed by Batalia, lost $670 and $510 respectively.

Batalia keeps a fruit store. During the day he and his assistants are away on vegetable wagons. Guisepella Batalia the wife of the store keeper, looks after the place in their absence. A week ago Batalia and his wife induced Spinola and Ferrice to put their savings with Batalia's in a gingham bag which was placed in a trunk of Mrs. Batalia's in the front room. Spinola and Ferrice intended returning to Italy at the end of the month and wanted to have the money handy.

About 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. Batalia went upstairs to change some bills. On entering the room, she says, she found the trunk open and the gingham money bag on the floor, empty. The other contents of the trunk, including Mrs. Batalia's hat, had been carefully laid on the bed. There was no disorder about the place. The robbers, whoever they were, had been most careful in handling Mrs. Batalia's hat and the other articles.

The woman screamed when she found the condition of the room, and her cries were heard by Mrs. Mary McCormick, who lives in the rear. The latter said shortly before she heard Mrs. Batalia's cries she saw three boys run out of the back yard. Mrs. Ellen Wise, who lives in the house adjoining the store, told the detectives she saw a number of boys in Batalia's back yard. When Batalia, Spinola and Ferrice returned and heard of the robbery they gave way to grief.

Word was sent to the Central station and Detectives Kelly, Riley, Angelo and Aymer were detailed to make an investigation. Aymer and Angelo, both Italian officers, say they do not believe any thieves were in the house.

Mrs. Batalia told the officers she thought the thieves entered by the rear cellar door. Detective Kelly said there was no way for a thief to enter the house except through the cellar, and there was nothing that would indicate any one had passed through that entrance in months, as the placed was locked and the lock covered with dust.

The money was in the following denominations: Eight $100 bills, five $50 bills, three $20 gold pieces, one $10 gold piece and the balance was in $5, $10 and $20 bills.

Thieves entered the saloon of Patrick J. Boylan, 1848 Fifth avenue, early yesterday morning and, breaking open the cash register, took $18. They effected their entrance over the transom, and escaped by the back yard. The police are inclined to think it was some of Boylan's former servants that committed the robbery.

CONGRATULATED BY ROOSEVELT

Winner of President's Match at Sea Girt Gets Complimentary Letter.

INTEREST IN MARKSMANSHIP

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.

The interest President Roosevelt takes in military rifle practice is shown by a letter he has written to Private Howard Gensch of the First regiment of infantry, New Jersey National Guard, at Madison, N. J., who recently won the President's match at Sea Girt, N. J., at the annual meeting of the National Rifle association. The letter, made public today, is as follows:

White House, Washington, Sept. 24, 1904.

My Dear Sir—I have just been informed that you have won the President's match for the military championship of the United States. I wish to congratulate you in person, and through you, not only the First regiment of the national guard of New Jersey, but the entire national guard of New Jersey. As a nation we must depend upon our volunteer soldiers in time of trial, and therefore the members of the national guard fill a high function of usefulness. Of course, a soldier who cannot shoot is a soldier who counts for very little in battle and all credit is due to those who keep up the standard of marksmanship. I congratulate you both on your skill and upon your possession of the qualities of perseverance and determination in long practice, by which alone this skill could have been brought to its high point of development.

With all good wishes, believe me, sincerely yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

This letter was forwarded to Mr. Gensch through Gen. Bird W. Spencer, president of the National Rifle association. The President's match is shot for at 200, 300, 500, 600, 800 and 1,000 yards and carries with it the military championship of America, a medal and a number of prizes. Private Gensch won the match with a score of 192 out of a possible 210 points.

George V. Lawrence was buried in the Monongahela cemetery at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. W. O. Campbell, of Sewickley, a former pastor, assisted by the Rev. Leroy Wells Warren, conducted the final services in the First Presbyterian church.

The pallbearers were Judge J. A. McIlvain of Washington; Congressman Ernest F. Acheson of Washington; County Register W. C. Robison of Washington; John F. Cooper, president of the Monongahela City Trust Company; Joseph A. Herron, President of Alexander & Co.'s Bank, Monongahela, and Attorney C. G. McIlvain of Monongahela.

MINERS SHOT FROM AMBUSH.

Another Mysterious Affair in Connection With the Strike Near Myersdale. Reward Is Offered.

MEYERSDALE, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—This morning, about 6 o'clock, while William Kemmp and William Sutton were on their way to work at the Summit mine of the Somerset Coal Company, they were fired upon from ambush and both were seriously wounded, several charges of buckshot taking effect in their legs. The burning of barns and coal companies' dwellings and dynamiting of tipples, and now the shooting from ambush, have created consternation, since the miners' strike began, December 15.

Upon learning of the shooting General Manager J. C. Brydon of the Somerset Coal Company hurried here from Somerset and authorized the posting of a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty persons. He also ordered a pair of bloodhounds, which will be kept at the Elk Lick colliery.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's

"I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. MASKED BANDITS AGAIN APPEAR

This Time They Hold Up Flagman on Pittsburgh & Erie Tracks.

OVERLOOKED A LONE NICKEL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Oct. 4.—Masked robbers who have been creating terror on the Pittsburgh & Lake railroad have again appeared. A Pittsburgh & Lake Erie flagman was walking the tracks at the mouth of Brady Bend tonight when he was suddenly confronted by two men, both of whom wore black handkerchiefs pulled down over their faces. One of them shoved a revolver in the flagman's face, and said:

"Hold up your hands."

The flagman complied and the other robber went through his pockets. A handkerchief, penknife and a bunch of keys were all they found. The only coin in the flagman's possession was a nickel, and this the robbers overlooked. When they had searched him they disappeared into the woods by the side of the track.

The flagman ran back to New Brighton and informed the police and railroad officials. Several Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad detectives went out after the burglars and have been searching for them for hours. It is thought the robbers are the same men who held up James Smith and his wife while the latter were stealing a ride Sunday night.

A freight train was also held up after leaving Coraopolis Sunday night, and the robbers, two in number, and masked with handkerchiefs, walked from car to car holding up the crew. Two men suspected of being the robbers were seen at the Ellwood junction station Sunday.

Several other crimes along the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad are charged to the men who perpetrated the robbery tonight.

WILLIAM L. M'CRACKEN DISAPPEARS SUDDENLY

Has Not Been Heard from Since Friday, When He Started for New Castle.

William L. McCracken, manager of the local office of the Johnson Harvesting Company, Liberty avenue and Fifth street, has been missing since last Friday morning, when he left home to go to New Castle on business. Mr. McCracken lives at 1225 Greenfield avenue. His wife and family are greatly worried by his continued absence and have requested the police to locate him.

When Mr. McCracken left home early Friday morning he took a small grip and said he would get his breakfast in the city, as he wished to catch an early train over the Pennsylvania railroad. Since then nothing has been heard of him, although his family and neighbors have made a searching inquiry here and in New Castle.

Mr. McCracken has been with the Johnston Company for about 10 years, the last year having been spent in Pittsburgh as manager of the local office. He came here with his family from Greenville, Pa., where he resided for eight years. Previous to coming to this city he traveled for his firm and he is very well known in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia.

Mr. McCracken is 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighs about 235 pounds and is middle aged. On leaving home he wore a dark gray worsted business suit and dark gray fall overcoat. As he has been of very steady habits and never remained away for any length of time without notifying his family of his whereabouts, they are at a loss to know what is detaining him. The company's agent at New Castle telegraphed the family that Mr. McCracken has not been to the company's office there.

HOAR'S BODY AT REST.

Remains of the Late Senator Are Buried In Sleepy Hollow Cemetery in Concord.

CONCORD, MASS., Oct. 4.—The last services over the body of United States Senator George Frisbie Hoar were held today in this town, the place of his birth, and several hundred of the senator's former townsmen followed the body to the place of its burial in Sleep Hollow cemetery.

In the Forest parish church a service was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Loren B. MacDonald. He spoke no words of eulogy, reading instead James Russell Lowell's poem on Channing. Two of Senator Hoar's favorite hymns—"Lead, Kindly Light," and "Abide With Me"—were sung by a quartet.

Moody to Succeed Hoar.

WORCESTER, MASS., Oct. 4.—The Telegram tomorrow morning will say: "Gov. John L. Bates will, in all probability, at the next meeting of the governor's council, announce the appointment of Attorney General William H. Moody of Haverhill to succeed United States Senator George F. Hoar."

Police Inspectors Transferred.

Milton E. Bailey, inspector of police in the East End district, has been assigned to Oakland and Inspector William J. Boyle will be sent back to the East End. The order making the transfer was issued yesterday. Inspector Bernard McStay of the South Side will leave on vacation today and Capt. J. A. McEvoy will act in his place. Policeman John Callan will act as downtown captain in the meantime.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Allegheny Preparatory school reopens September 21, 1904. The Headmaster will be at the school office after September 8, between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m., to meet and classify pupils, to talk with intending patrons and to show those who may wish to see them the building and equipment. The school provides instruction for boys and girls from the first year of school life till they are ready for any American college or university. The work is done by 15 expert teachers.

A well equipped gymnasium and a large playground, under the exclusive control of the school, offer ample opportunity for sports and games. These are individual "corrective work," under trained directors, give the physical development of both boys and girls its due emphasis. Oral expression, singing, reading aloud, public speaking and debates have their proper place in the curriculum.

Owing to its non-commercial character, the entire income of the school can be applied in making the school better. The building has just been redecorated throughout.

For our new circular and any further information, address the Headmaster, Wilmot R. Jones, 500 Lincoln Avenue, Allegheny, Pa.

WEDDING STIRS SALVATIONISTS

Quaint Ceremony While Guests Sang to Tune of "Down Where Wurzburger Flows."

PROCESSIONAL ON BASS DRUM

The hilarious air, "Down Where the Wurzburger Flows," framed about words that recalled the solemn pomp of an anthem, last night at the Salvation Army barracks in Diamond square, ushered in all the unique ceremony of a "hallelujah" wedding. After the bachannalian song with its sacred text, the Twenty-third Psalm was read and then Capt. Robert Lane and Lieut. Ella Reese, two devoted workers in the local corps of Salvationists, solemnly pledged their life-long fealty and love. The bridegroom kissed the bride with a smack that resounded through the big assembly room, tambourines rattled, bass drums boomed and roared, and 200 people cheered and clapped their hands, while from every throat came an earnest "amen."

Only the simple sincerity of the congregation saved the scene from the appearance of a most grotesque farce. But the thrill that followed the singing and the supplicating tone in the voices of those who prayed, somehow told that the union of hearts had been made in heaven, that the glory of something immortal had entered into the spirit of that seemingly boisterous gathering, and that their "amens," which sounded so much like rude plaudits, had an answering echo somewhere far beyond the vison of mortal man. It would have been an inspiration to poor old Ingersoll himself.

There were no fragrant orange blossoms, no flowing bridal veil, no thunderous wedding march, no pages, no muttonchopped father to give the fair bride away, no picture hats, no glittering jewels, no gossip behind bespangled fans and the bridegroom at the altar did not tremble. It was as much unlike the average fashionable church wedding as a pontifical mass differs from a Salvationists' prayer service in Diamond alley.

It was while the congregation was singing hymn words to the tune of "My Blue Bell" that the door in the rear of the room opened and the bridegroom, attired in the uniform of a Salvation Army officer, walked down the aisle, arm-in-arm, with Lieut. Reese. She, too, wore the garb of her rank, but over her steel blue jacket was a white sash of satin ribbon and she had a big bouquet of white roses. Then came Ensign Hinkle, the best man, and Lieut. Eva Wedge, the bridesmaid, likewise attired in the religious warriors' uniform. In this unique procession were little Clara Bartlett and Baby Hazel Ulion, the two flower girls. While "hallelujahs" rang through the hall, punctuating the singing, the bride-elect hurried with drooping lashes to the platform.

There was more singing and some praying. Mrs. Adjt. Hartmann spoke for the married women, and tendered her best wishes for the comrades who were about to be joined in wedlock. Adjt. Fred Barrlett spoke for the married men with the same fervent prayer. Then Ensign Hinkle told of the sophistries of the Salvation Army bachelor and Miss Adjt. Parker told how the unmarried women felt.

Maj. Edward White, divisional officer of the Pittsburgh and West Virgina district, read the marriage service. This required 15 minutes, and it is more elaborate than that of the high church Episcopalians. When Maj. White concluded, the bridegroom placed the ring on his new wife's finger and kissed her devotedly. This was a signal for a great demonstration, which lasted 10 minutes. Some prayed, some sang, some cheered, some wept, some embraced the happy pair, while the bass drum and the tambourine made merry music. Then the bridegroom stepped forward and made a speech.

An admission fee of 15 cents was charged. The song sheets, which were distributed, cost 1 cent each, and everybody was asked to buy a copy of the War Cry at 5 cents. Then a collection was taken. Finally ice cream was served at 10 cents a plate. All the money went into the corps' funds and the bridal pair got none of it. There was no mention of presents.

STATE BANK COAL LAND ALONG WABASH IS SOLD

Receiver John F. Steel Sells 16,000 Acres to Dr. S. L. McCullough for $135,000.

After many months of negotiation the coal land belonging to the defunct State Bank of Pittsburgh, and lying along the Wabash railroad, in Washington county, was finally sold yesterday. The sale was an open one, conducted at the court house by John F. Steel, receiver of the bank.

The purchaser of the property was Dr. S. L. McCullough of Carnegie. The price paid for the 16,000 acres was $135,000, which is $5,000 above the mortgage upon the land. The plans of Dr. McCullough regarding the development of the property have not yet been announced.

The price obtained at the sale by the receiver, about $84 50 an acre, is not considered as good as would have been possible if the plan of forming a company among the depositors to take over the land and hold it for the return of a more active demand for coal lands had been carried out.

DID NOT MEET AT REUNION.

Capt. Patrick Graham's Soldier Son Found His Commander and Father Dead at Johnstown.

Robert Smiley Graham, a well-known resident of Braddock, who served in the Civil war in Company E, Fifty-fourth Pennsylvania volunteers, of which his father, Patrick Graham, was captain, went to Johnstown yesterday to attend the annual reunion of the famous regiment. When Mr. Graham reached Johnstown he learned that his father had died Monday morning.

Capt. Patrick Graham was born near Butler in 1817. His son, Robert Smiley Graham, was the youngest member of his company. Capt. Graham lost his left eye at the battle of New Market, Va. He was taken from the field by the Confederates and sent from Libby to Andersonville, and thence to other Confederate prisons, remaining in prison until the close of the war.

Capt. Graham was twice married, his first wife dying in 1858, having been the mother of eight children. The children are: Mrs. Stephen B. Gregory of Westmont, Pa.; Mrs. Robert Bennett of Braddock, Mrs. John Hutzen, until recently of North Braddock; Robert Smiley and Holmes S. Graham, both officials at the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock, and Thomas H. Graham of Lorain. His second wife was Ethelinda Benshoff of Johnstown, who survives Capt. Graham. Capt. Graham was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"The Errand Boy."

Billy B. Van and his famous character of Patsy Bolivar will be seen at the Duquesne theater next week in a new musical comedy spectacle called "The Errand Boy." The company is one of the largest that has been organized this season to present a musical farce, and numbers 80 people. The lyrics have been supplied by George Totten Smith, and a score of popular song writers have contributed to make "The Errand Boy."

Adopted a Compromise Grade.

The Allegheny sub-committee on surveys, called to consider the matter of the sidewalk grade on McClure avenue, decided last night to recommend the "compromise grade" on that street, which will place the sidewalks 22 inches above the street level at the point beneath the Ft. Wayne railroad crossing. The committee also considered the widening of Western avenue from the Ft. Wayne crossing to Irwin avenue, and will report in favor of a 70-foot street.

OLD CITY SCHOOL TO BE ABANDONED

First Ward Building and Its Site Has Been Sold for $100,000.

FUTURE PLANS OF DIRECTORS

The old First ward school house has been sold to F. W. Mueller, president of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, for $100,000. Three options have been given on the property within the last two months, and the last one was accepted by Mr. Mueller Monday. The deal is practically closed, with the exception of delivering the deeds, but the school authorities do not give possession until next July, when the present school year will have been finished.

No real estate deal made for years for downtown property has had more interest attached to it. The building was erected in 1846, the year after the big fire. For years it housed one of the largest schools in the city, and dozens of Pittsburgh's most prominent business and professional men received their early training there. Over 700 pupils were formerly enrolled. The property, which has a frontage of 100 feet in Short street and 99.6 feet in First and Second avenues, was once the center of a large and populous residence district. Gradually railroads and manufactories crept into the section and the houses were pushed out.

The last big exodus of children from the First ward was caused by the purchases of the Pensylvania Railroad Company at the Point, which resulted in the razing of dozens of houses near the school building.

Since the Point exodus the school directors have seen that the attendance could not be maintained much longer, even at its present low point. To tide the school over this year the principal, M. J. McMahon, finally arranged that the pupils of the Roman Catholic parochial school in Penn avenue should be sent to the First ward building. The parochial school, which once enrolled 400 pupils, was closed after the Point families moved out. This brought the attendance of the First ward school up to about 190 puplis. Although this is a big decrease from the figure of 20 years ago, when the parochial school, too, was full, it compares very favorably with the attendance during Mr. McMahon's principalship, which extends over 13 years, in which the highest enrollment was only 256 pupils.

The building contains 10 rooms. Only four of these are used for school purposes, the remainder being for janitor use and offices. Five teachers are employed. The present deal will put the directors in a position to buy a lot and build a small school house adapted to its needs, or to rent a building and remodel it for school purposes.

Either course would leave the school district in possession of sufficient funds put out at interest to support the school easily, so that no more school tax need be levied. The present school tax in the First ward is only three-eights of a mill, being the lowest of any ward in the city. At present the directors have two or three sites in view, but have made no selection. They are seriously considering the plan of renting the parochial school building in Penn avenue and moving the school there next year. Another plan which has been suggested is to unite the First and Fourth ward schools, and let the pupils of the former ward attend the Fourth ward school in Duquesne way.

What Mr. Mueller's object is in buying the property is not known. Many believe that the purchase was made in the interest of either the Pennsylvania Railroad Company or the Wabash. The former railroad has a switch running to the plant of the Union Storage Company and nearly touching the school property. Its other big holdings in this part of the city make the purchase of this lot very desirable, as it is the key to a considerable amount of property which could be used to good advantage. The Union Storage Company plant is directly in the rear of the school yard, and it is not unlikely that this company is interested in the deal. The Wabash holdings are not 500 feet away, so that the property would be a desirable acquisition, in view of the plans for extensions which have been reported.

Stewart Succeeds T. S. Bigelow.

William Stewart, president of the Allegheny National bank, was elected a member of the Compromise Railroad Sinking Fund commission yesterday to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thomas S. Bigelow.

Notice---Substantial Reduction in Price of Block Lights.

The Block Light Co., for which we are sole agents in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia, have just notified us of an important reduction in the price of the lights.

Block Light Burners that were 90c, now 75c.
Block Light Outfits, complete, that sold for $1.50, are now $1.25.
Block Light Chimneys that sold for 20c, are now 15c; the 25c ones are now 20c; the 50c ones are 25c.

These reductions were brought about by the enormous output, and the cost of production lessened, the latter, however, not interfering in any way with the fine quality of the Block Light. Thus the price of this light is brought down to the price of the many inferior lights now on the market, while the quality is of the same goodness that has made the Block Light so famous. All the utilities of the Block Light system are on sale in the Housefurnishing Department, West Basement.

Of Special Import to Women.

Fashion has decreed that for the gown for dressy occasions sheer material is the only correct fabric. Consequently the manufacturers have exerted themselves to turn out a variety of sheer weaves to accord with this decree. Some of these are all wool, and again others are silk and wool combined. So there is plenty of choice.

As illustrative of how low we can make prices on high-class goods we quote four numbers today in these fashionable sheer goods. Each of them is shown in all the season's leading colors, including cream and black, and each of them is below par at the $1.00 price.

42-inch pure silk and wool Eollenne Crepe
42-inch fine, crisp imported Voile
42-inch silk and wool Chiffon Eollenne
42-inch silk and wool Crystal Crepe
$1.00 a Yard.

Imported Cashmeres, 50c Yd.—a 75c Value—

Another very special value for today in the imported dress goods section will be that of fine all-wool imported Cashmere, 44 inches wide, for the unusual price of 50c a yard—full 75c value. The color range is most complete—golden brown, garnet, French blue, tan, navy, prune, tobacco brown, cardinal, mode and black. This material has a wide range of usefulness, as it makes a very effective street gown, pretty house dresses for women, or dainty frocks for children.

Silks in Endless Variety.

Never were there so many novelties in silks as this season has brought out. There are plaid silks, checked silks, striped silks, plain weaves and patterns which cannot be described other than by the word fancy.

We have an extensive line of silks which we call Wedding Silks, weaves and quality and colors making them admirable for bridal gowns or bridesmaids' dresses. For instance, Crepe Aeolian, Crepe de Angelus, Crepe Roman, Crepe Brilliant, Crepe Marquisette and Crepe Lucicle, all of which are shown in pure white, ivory and evening tints.

Rob Roy Checks, twelve styles, plain and broche, 75c, 85c, $1.00 a yard.

Baronette, a new silk—very bright, with invisible cord and messaline finish. All new colorings, $1.35 a yard.

Chameleon Quadrille Faconne, a fancy silk which comes in messaline finish and in many different color effects, $1.50 a yard.

Today as something very special we throw out 3,000 yards of Crepe de Chine, a 75c quality which will be sold at 60c a yard. Shown in about every new coloring, including light and dark shades.

Black Silks—

Black Crepe de Chine, 44-inch, $2.50 quality, $2.00 a yard.
36-inch black Peau de Sole, $1.75 quality, $1.45 a yard.
36-inch black Peau de Sole, $1.50 quality, $1.15 a yard.

Velvets and Velvet Effects.

The woman who admires velvet as a dress material can indulge her fancy without limit during the Autumn and coming Winter. She may wear a velvet coat suit, a velvet evening dress, or a wrap of velvet and be strictly within the precincts of fashion.

Velour Chiffon, in a wide color range, $1.75, $2.00, $2.50, $6.50, $8.00 a yard.

Chiffon Paon Velvet—all the leading color tints, $2.00 a yard.

Velveteen in metallic effects—grounds of navy, brown, blue and green, 58c a yard—value 75c.

Of Course She Needed Glasses.

The Lady—I know I need glasses.
The Optician—How do you know?
The Lady—Because last night I was reading and I couldn't tell whether a certain word was "building" or "blinding."
The Optician—Which did it turn out to be?
The Lady—It turned out to be "bulldog."

Whenever you see a man or woman over the forty-five line, by a year or two, holding a paper away off from their eyes and squinting—say glasses.

We make a specialty of fitting eyes with proper glasses. If you distrust our ability, have an oculist examine your eyes and bring us his prescription and see how well and accurately we'll fill it. All sorts of good glasses in our Optical Department, rear main aisle, West. Here are some specials—

$4.00 Eye Glasses, $2.00. Gold filled, 12 years.
$5.00 Spectacles, $3.00. Gold filled, 12 years.
25c Hooks, 10c. Gold filled, 12 years.

Imported Perfumes, Powders, Soaps.

We import all our perfumes, powders, soaps and other toilet requisites direct. We carry an ususually extensive range, so that the most fastidious woman can be suited at our toilet counter. We go to France for the majority of them, as France seems to excel in the production of such aids to the toilet. You will find our prices as low as they can be made for the imported articles.

Legrand's—the great Paris maker of perfumes—

Parfum Violettes du Righi, a delightful combination of violets and roses, $1.50 a bottle.

L'Idole—a bouquet of great richness and power. Perfume, $4.50 a bottle; Powder, $1.50 a box; Soap, $1.00 a cake.

Inspiration—a rich, clinging odor, peculiarly refreshing. Perfume, $8.00 a bottle; Powder, $4.50 a box; Soap, $2.00 a cake.

Violette, the celebrated Paris perfumer, makes

Comme il faut, America's favorite perfume—Perfume, $6.00 a bottle; Powder, $4.00 a box; Soap, $2.00 a cake.

Japanese—

Funkia du Japon, the everlasting perfume of the Orient—Perfume, $1.25 a bottle; Powder, $1.00 a box; Soap, 50c a cake.

Faure, also well known in Paris—

Faure's Noblial is a high grade perfume used extensively by people of culture, $3.00 a bottle.

Fancy Pin Cusions, 50c Each.

Pin Cushions have a way of getting shabby, thence disappearing from the dresser, which they no longer ornament. Those we offer at the above price are dainty affairs, 4x8, trimmed with lace and ribbon of different colors. See them in the Art Needlework Department.

Ruffled Dresser Sets, of organdy or swiss, floral designs, with fancy colored linings—pink, blue, yellow, nile green; regular price 65c and 75c, special at 50c the set.

Another Handkerchief Offer for Women.

Another old style revived—and beautified. This time it is a handkerchief with broad border formed of dimity cords, six in number. The cloth is an extra fine quality of linen called "thistle," quarter-inch hem, regular size. Pure white, and as dainty as a 'kerchief can be.

Judged by the standpoints of merit and newness, worth all of 50c and an unusually good value at our price, 25c.

Women's $1.00 and $1.25 Kid Gloves, 75c Pr.

This is the big feature today. They are imported Glace Gloves.

These gloves being brush-dyed instead of dipped, the color only shows on the outside—something seldom seen but in the very expensive glove.

The finish is Paris point embroidery, and one large clear pearl button. All sizes, from 5½ to 7 inclusive. Tan, mode, beaver, tobacco and golden brown, gray, white and black.

Judge Bell of Blair has reminded the constables of that county that it is their duty to make returns of roads in their respective bailiwicks that are impassable, or in bad condition. Judge Bell is not the first to call attention of constables to this matter this fall, and he should not be the last. Apparently many of the constables in the state are not aware that it is a part of their duty to see that the public roads are given proper attention and they should be informed. Rural highways are bad enough at best; they are worse when neglected by supervisors. It will be a good thing for the public if constables get their eyes open and do their full duty in respect to the roads. Timely repairs are more valuable than the general road making picnics, which prevail in many rural districts.

Although the "bloody Monday" contests between Harvard students has been abolished, the "townies" decided that they ought not to be deprived of the pleasure of the annual scrap, so they caused a fair-sized riot and attacked the Cambridge police Monday night. There could not be any doubt, however, about the duty of the police to interfere in this case, which did not involve the distinctions of "town and gown," so the disturbers were unceremoniously suppressed. Now Cambridge people will wonder why the guardians of the law could not deal with student offenders against the pubic peace in a similar manner. When student rowdies are treated like any other culprits it will do much toward the abolition of hazing, which has too long been considered the privilege of the college undergraduate.

One feature of the frequent railroad accidents in the United States is likely to receive the attention of the next congress, which will be asked to take measures for the greater protection of postal clerks and the mail they handle on trains. The postal cars are lighter than the passenger coaches and are generally the first to be demolished in a serious accident. Hence, the life of a clerk is hazardous and the mail is likely to be destroyed by the fire from overturning stoves. The employes in these cars have taken action on the subject, for the chances for their injury are almost as great as those that threaten the engineer and fireman of a train. Postal cars with longitudinal steel beams in the floor could not be so easily crushed and the additional weight would not be so appreciable as on a passenger car which is longer and carries a load of human freight. The government has already lessened the liability of brakemen to be maimed by requiring automatic couplings and it is argued that it could reasonably require that roads bidding for mail contracts should agree to provide more substantial cars.

Frederick A. Bartholdi, the sculptor, who has just died in France, enjoyed an international reputation and some of his best work was done on statues exchanged by this country with France to represent the cordial relations of the two governments which have existed since the days of Gen. Lafayette. His figure of Liberty Enlightening the World, which was a gift from the people of France to the United States, will be associated with his name and perpetuate his memory so long as it stands in New York harbor. New York city also has his statue of Lafayette, while his figures of Washington and Lafayette, which he designed about 10 years ago, were set up in Paris, amid ceremonies in which the United States was officially represented. Perhaps his best work, although it was not so well known, was the lion carved in a cliff in Belfort, to commemorate the defense of that town in the Franco-Prussian war. The Liberty statue can no longer be said to look down on the borders of Manhattan, for the skyscraper buildings tower above it, and the blaze of the light of commerce has made Liberty's torch seem dim indeed.

Senator Rayner of Maryland, who has a reputation for glittering oratory, made his opening speech of the campaign at Baltimore last night. Beneath the festoons of phrases which conceal his true meaning the real issue of the campaign in Maryland is easily decried, namely the suppression of the negro vote. President Roosevelt is described as a trouble-hunter, Judge Parker as a Constitution worshiper, who "considers that we have sufficient domain of our own to govern." Senator Rayner puts the case for Judge Parker too modestly. He considers that we have too much domain of our own to govern and proposes to abandon an extensive area of national territory known as the Philippines, upon the plea of conferring political independence upon the Filipinos. While this is urged as the right of the brown-colored man, the avowed purpose of the Democratic campaigner in Maryland is to take away the political rights of the black-colored man. As to this Senator Rayner covers the real purpose by euphemisms as to avoiding any denial of any rights guaranteed by the Constitution, but none the less the race question is raised and white supremacy is declared to be the dominant issue, with the ultimate purpose of excluding the colored man from political power. There appears to be a tremendous difference between brown and black in the opinion of the Maryland Democracy.

The Late Postmaster General.

The late Postmaster General Payne had many estimable qualities of character and his experience in the conduct of the Milwaukee posioffice for 10 years, combined with his familiarity with political matters, made him particularly available for selection as a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet. He was well acquainted with the administrative details essential to the conduct of the department, but unfortunately physicial weakness intervened at a critical period. When suspicious circumstances suggested a thorough investigation of the postoffice department a burden of labor and a strain of anxiety were imposed upon him which he was unable to bear except at the expense of his death. But for the gravity of the situation which was disclosed he would have resigned, and in consideration of his health should have done so anyhow, but he determined to see the investigation through at any cost.

There is no doubt that the extraordinary responsibilities which he had to sustain aggravated his malady. Even the congenial task of political activity became wearing under the circumstances. By the death of Senator Hanna he became the acting chairman of the Republican national committee at a time when the importance of the post powerfully appealed to his sense of duty as a friend of the president. Public evidence of his failing health was made forcibly apparent by a break-down in the sessions of the committee preliminary to the meeting of the convention, but he stuck to his post until he completed his duties by calling the convention to order and presiding over the temporary organization. He was a successful business man before entering upon the stage of national affairs, and it was his intention to withdraw entirely from active pursuits on the close of the present campaign. It has been known for some time that Mr. Payne's successor would be Mr. Cortelyou, who seems to be particularly fitted for the office, both by his ability as a manager of details and a prompt executive. For the remainder of the campaign, however, Mr. Wynne, the first assistant postmaster general, who has actively co-operated with his chief in the task of purifying the department, will be acting postmaster general. But Mr. Payne will be missed in the cabinet, where he was an influential personality and in the party organization, which he long helped to guide.

Cut Rates on Exports.

The strong point of Congressman Williams' speech at the opening of the Democratic campaign in Greater New York was his charge that the tariff enabled the manufacturers to exact higher prices in the home market than they charge to foreign consumers. He alleged that steel rails had been sold to the Canadian Pacific and Mexican National railroad companies at from $20 to $21 a ton, while the price to railroad companies in our own country is from $28 to $29 a ton. He also quoted from a letter written by Mr. Schwab to the effect that rails can be manufactured in this country at prices which leave "a nice margin for foreign business."

That prices are sometimes cut to secure foreign orders is well known and the particular cases which Mr. Williams cited have been frequently discussed. Such matters come within the official survey of the department of commerce and labor and our consuls were instructed to investigate trade practice abroad in this respect. From their reports it appears that reduction of price upon foreign business is a regular practice in Great Britain and Germany. Our consul at Edinburgh reports that "practically every manufacturer in this county sells his goods abroad at the best price they will bring, when his stock is too heavy to be unloaded at home in a reasonable time without breaking the market." As regards the extent of the practice it is stated that "in such trades as hardware, brass goods, cutlery, structural iron and steel, paper, engines, boilers, hand tools, chemicals, rubber goods, tubes, silver and plated ware, wire goods, sanitary appliances, stoves and ranges, and most lines of machinery, prices in foreign countries are governed almost wholly by conditions at home at the time and by other circumstances quite apart from quotations in the domestic market. In most trades the one fixed purpose is not to reduce prices to British consumers until forced to do so." A leading British manufacturer gave this statement of the principle: "This is the very root of success in all commercial business—to hold what you have and to gain what you can."

Such is the practice in free trade England. In Germany cutting rates to secure foreign business has been commended in the reichstag as evidence of the patriotic enterprise of German manufacturers in expanding German commerce and in getting work for German artisans. Not only are prices reduced on foreign business to meet competition but also to get possession of markets and forestall the possible growth of competition. Thus one British manufacturer of machinery informed our consul that he sold in Belgium at 15 per cent less than in Egland, although he has no competition in his line in that market, but he pursues that policy to obviate the danger of competition. Our consul says, "I have seen invoices of a British firm of steel wire manufacturers to German buyers, in which the prices were fully 20½ per cent lower than the prices quoted to home consumers." At this very moment certain lines of British chemicals, particularly bicarbonate of soda, are sold in the United States and Canada cheaper than in England where they are made.

The fact is notorious that under the protective policy which has developed the steel railway industry in this country prices are much lower than they were before. Even before the steel rail industry was established as a result of the movement in that direction, the price was greatly reduced. Reduced rates on foreign business is part of a general policy which is to the advantage of the home market in insuring stability of moderate rates with steady production. The economic principle involved is tersely stated in Mr. Schwab's letter, from which Mr. Williams quoted. After describing the general policy of entering the foreign field, even at a reduced price for products, Mr. Schwab remarked: "The result of all this is that we will be able to sell our surplus abroad, run our works full all the time and get the best practice and costs in this way."

This point of view might not strike Mr. Williams when getting together campaign material in his study on his Mississippi cotton plantation. Any difference between the home market price and the price charged upon export orders may appear to him as just so much to the disadvantage of American consumers, but it will be difficult to persuade the American workingman that he suffers by a policy which keeps the mills running and at the regular wage rate. That is what the tariff does for him, whereas abroad decrease of profit is at the expense of the wage scale reductions being at times demanded upon the express ground that the work is for export sale. As for the railroad companies, they are as a rule rather powerful and influential concerns well able to take care of their own interests. When American mills do the business the railroads haul the freight, and conditions are such that they will be apt to regard with cordial approval the efforts which American manufacturers may make to hold business which now supplies our railroads with a large volume of traffic. We have done a large trade in Canada in steel rails and that market is a growing one. There will be material in connection with the building of the new trans-continental road which the Dominion parliament is promoting by government aid. Canada is anxious to establish her own steel rail industry and a steel rail mill has been established at the Soo. The Canadian government has clapped a duty of $7 a ton on steel rails in aid of the enterprise and the Canadian railway has recently placed a trial order with the Soo company for 40,000 tons of steel rails. Now, if the American mills should cut the price on American rails in the Canadian market to meet that competition and to hold the Canadian market, that, according to Mr. Williams' logic, will furnish him with a fresh proof why our tariff should be thrown down. To stop what is an universal trade practice he would make our own country the battleground of world-competition, with no protection for the American wage rate nor for American ideas of living conditions, from which multitudinous industries, agricultural and manufacturing, now derive their support. Such is the prospect which he offers as an inducement to vote for Parker and an administration constituted upon the principle that protectionism is robbery.

Controller Larkin's Appeal.

In taking an appeal to the supreme court in the filtration bureau case, City Controller John B. Larkin shows a laudable desire to have the new charter construed authoritatively. Mr. Larkin's appeal is stripped of all side issues and rests solely upon the mandate of the charter that no funds shall be expended without specific appropriation for that purpose. He contends that an ordinance creating a bureau and making general provision that its bills shall be paid, is not a compliance with the charter requirement. He is within his rights in asking the supreme court to decide precisely what the language of the charter act means. Meanwhile the filtration bureau payroll will not be held up, the case already presented being sufficient to develop the issue.

It had become the custom, under the charter of 1887, to accept a general ordinance as sufficient authority for the payment of bills. That custom has extended under the new charter. Mr. Larkin believes the charter act was intended to prohibit the practice and that it is his duty to refuse to countersign warrants when no specific appropriation has been made for their payment. The administration officials construe the law differently and councils have appeared to accept the administration view. The courts only can decide. The county court has upheld the administration. The supreme court is now appealed to for the word of final authority and its decision will be awaited with interest.

That Norristown judge who holds that sleepiness is no excuse for neglecting duty has probably taken the shortest road to stop the bad practice of overworking men in responsible positions on railroads.

There are no free-trade parties in Canada. There are other issues in politics there without muddling business questions.

Premier Balfour has backed down on the protection issue, but it is only a question of time until it carries Great Britain.

Controller Larkin takes a broad, fair view in deciding to pay the filtration salaries while he appeals the case.

Eclipses Parker's Letter.

Very few of our native born public men have Carl Schurz's mastery and felicity in the use of the English language. This letter makes Judge Parker's letter, by comparison, a very tame, timid and vapid piece of composition. But the ex-senator is too prejudiced, too heated, too violent. He overdoes it—an old habit of his. We doubt whether his letter will affect the November result in the 45 states to the exient of 45 votes.—Hartford Courant.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Except for a feeble, quavering "no" the citizens of Mineola, Hempstead, Hicksville and other of Long Island's incorporate gems, ratified by an unanimous vote this afternoon the action of the Nassau board of supervisors in granting permission for the William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., automobile cup race next Saturday. Although several of New York's most prominent citizens were present in behalf of the race promoters, none of them took the floor at the public hearings, which was held in the court house at Mineola.

Except for the hot-shot that rattled within the new court house, there was nothing but the best of good feeling between the millionaire automobilists, who attended the meeting in behalf of the race promoters, and the tillers of the soil, who said they were afraid of life and limb if the "devil wagons" were allowed to scurry over Long Island. The only somber feature of the meeting was the intelligence that Harold Rigby, a machinist, who was returning on a high-power car after a trial spin over the course, had died today of injuries received near Hicksville as the automobile was turning to go clear of a farmer's wagon which blocked the road.

This Woman a Thief Taker.

Mrs. Teresa Gallagher, whose brother-in-law is Police Captain Lantry, showed herself to be something of a policeman today. At 8 o'clock this morning she was walking down Madison avenue, between Ninety-fourth and Ninety-fifth streets, when a man ran up behind her, seized her pocketbook and made off at a run. Mrs. Galagher ran after him, and, having caught him, held him firmly until the arrival of a policeman.

When arraigned in the Harlem court, Mrs. Calagher's prisoner presented a most dilapidated appearance. His clothing was torn and one eye blackened and his face much bruised. He gave the name of Morris Ross. No one volunteered any information as to Ross' injuries. He was indignant when it was suggested that they had been inflicted by his captor, but Mrs. Gallagher's complacent look told another story.

New Carnegie Libraries.

Plans have been filed with the building superintendent for two additional free libraries of the Carnegie endowment to be built by the New York Public Library foundation at 209 and 211 West Twenty-third street and Le Roy street at St. John's park. The Twenty-third street branch will adjoin the new Young Men's Christian Association building on the east, and is to be a three-story edifice of limestone with a frontage of 38.7 feet and a depth of 88.2 feet, and will cost $60,000. The St. John's Park branch will be two stories, 45 feet front and 95 feet deep, with facades of brick trimmed with limestone, and is to cost $65,000.

Policemen Patch Up Their Dog.

"Nigger," the barge office policemen's pet dog and mascot, was run over this morning by a truck and his two front paws were badly crushed. He crawled into the barge office and, lying down at the feet of Patrolman Joseph Mury, his especial guardian, held up the paws for his friend to see what a plight he was in. Patrolmen Mury, Myer and Thompson improvised an operating table out of a packing case and after securing antiseptics and dressing materials from the Marine hospital, next door, they bathed, dressed and bound up the dog's wounds and then put him to bed.

The sight of the policemen at their surgical work attracted great interest from the large number of people who were going over to Ellis island on the 9 o'clock boat, and all were impressed by the intelligence shown by the dog, who was as still as though under the influence of ether while the work was going on.

Millions for City Playrogunds.

An elaborate statement and report has been presented to the board of estimate and apportionment by Nelson P. Lewis, chief engineer of the board, showing the various projects for park improvements in this city. According to Mr. Lewis, $12,000,000 is needed to complete the proposed pleasure-ground projects for Greater New York, so as to give its inhabitants those free breathing spaces in densely or sparsely occupied districts, as the location of the park might be. It is by far the most comprehensive scheme tabulated since consolidation, and vitally concerns the future topography of Greater New York.

Nordica to Sing Kundry.

Mme. Lillian Nordica will sing Kundry in "Parsifal" on November 24 in the Metropolitan opera house. This will be the prima donna's first appearance in the role created in America by Mme. Milka Ternina. Nordica visited Bayreuth this summer and studied carefully the role of the mystic Kundry. Vocally Kundry suits Mme. Nordica admirably, and her interpretation will be one of the most interesting features of the season. Mme. Fremstad will sing Kundry on the following Thursday. The remainder of the "Parsifal" cast is practically unchanged.

Success of Arbitration.

Employers and employes are learning the meaning of arbitration. They are learning that it does not necessarily mean either justice or right, but that it means concessions, give and take, and the cultivaton perforce of the spirit of willingness to compromise, to adjust differences, out of which invariably comes pretty general fair play. Both of the parties to the differences in the anthracite region have learned to accept and abide by adverse decisions, the first essential of successful arbitration. They are both learning that concessions are better than either idleness or strife. The success of the arbitration plan in the Pennsylvania mining region marks a long step toward general industrial peace.—Washington Post.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Oh, were you ne'er a schoolboy,
And did you never train,
And feel that swelling of the heart
You ne'er can feel again?
—Second Reader.

No sir, you can never feel it again. But if you ever trained and engaged in mimic war with sullen mullein stalks and sturdy ganders as foes, you may be able to feel a robust swelling of the heart when the kettle, for a kettledrum, bids the playful boys march away.

Nor can you feel the thrill that only fife and drum excite unless you were in the ranks and marched away to engage in real war.

No doubt the squeak of the fife and the rat-tat-tat of the tenor drum causes the average man and boy to step out more lightly, but it causes the old soldier to come to "attention" and step more boldly, and with that feeling in his heart which none but soldiers have ever felt, or ever can feel.

Have you ever noticed how the old boys perk up when the fifer strikes up "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and the drummer begins to shake out the trills and thrills that this old tune contains? They seem to brace up and, for the time being, lay aside two-score years with all their cares, their accumulated pains and aches, and drop into that easy swing that carried them on many a long march and into many a hard battle.

* * * * *

The boys still have the swing, as you will readily perceive if you watch them as they keep step to a lively war-time tune.

That swing is something that cannot be acquired without a knapsack, box and gun. It came of balancing a load on the back and cannot be achieved by any other means.

It is true that a swing may be acquired through careful training and practice, but not the swing of the old soldier. Even he does not indulge in it at all times, but always when the band strikes up a war tune. He just can't help it.

And haven't you noticed that when he is stepping to the tap of the drum he shoulders his cane, walks erect and steps out lively? But when the march is over and the music has ceased he leans on his cane, steps short and slow, and walks without the old-time swing. But the swing is in him, all right, and needs only a marshal strain to bring it out.

Some say the marching days of the veterans are over forever. For some they are, yet there are a whole lot of 'em left who can march a good clip, and keep it up for quite a spell, and don't forget it.

Because a man was in the war doesn't signify that he is necessarily played out physically, morally or otherwise. Not by a long shot.

* * * * *

The old soldier is not the only one who gets pleasure out of these reunions, as you will see by noting the expression and conduct of the younger set that is looking on.

And as you may know from experience the feeling, the thrill, the step is catching, and for the time you are a soldier in feeling more or less. And it is a good sort of feeling, too, and one that is worth cultivating, since it makes for patriotism, loyalty and courage, without which a man can hardly be accounted a good citizen.

Next to being a veteran soldier is to admire, to honor and to venerate those who cheerfully and gallantly fought the battles of their country.

It ought to be regarded a high privilege to attend these old-soldier gatherings, and parents should not neglect to take their children along, for there is something catching in the air, something that will unconsciously enter into the life of the child which years shall not eradicate.

The education of the youth of this country in patriotism and loyalty is too much neglected, as we may learn to our sorrow some day, not by the refusal of young men to respond to a call to arms, but by their indifference in matters pertaining to affairs of state and of society.

You may be patriotic and loyal without being a soldier. You may even be a hero without going to war.

* * * * *

While Johnstown has felt many a thrill, some of which were awful, terrible, it never felt any more profound and pleasant than those it is experiencing at present, nor can it be denied that the good people of this busy, bustling city appreciate and enjoy it to the fullest extent.

You may have noticed that when the old soldiers come to town the folks just seem to cut loose and let 'er go for all there is in it. They appear to feel like throwing open all the doors and telling the boys to help themselves, and if there is anything they want and don't see it, just ask for it.

This is not altogether a new feeling, for that is the way they felt when the boys were marching to the front or rallying to resist invasion. The feeling may have been stronger and more general then, but surely not more heartsome and sincere than now.

Floating clouds of bunting everywhere and the waving welcomes by Old Glory from housetop and flagstaff, give evidence of a generous feeling of patriotism, but it is the grasp of the hand and the hearty greeting that most clearly evince the spirit of loyalty that prevails throughout the city and the country round about.

These days will long be remembered, remembered and spoken of three-score years hence and more, for the romping boys and girls are taking it all in, and lisping infants are wondering what it is all about. These will become so impressed by the sights of today that they will be able to recall the marching lines of blue as long as memory lasts.

* * * * *

Regimental reunions have broadened out into soldiers' reunions, for the very good reason that there are hardly enough left of any single regiment to make anything of a considerable show.

The fighting Fifty-fourth and the fighting One Hundred and Thirty-third combined to form a nucleus for this gathering, and they are always a good bunch to rally around. Just how many representatives of other regiments are present, or will come marching in today, is not known at this writing, but they will probably be as many as of the regiments that are giving the blow-out.

But what's the difference where a fellow soldiered, so he soldiered, for it is not likely that we will be called by regimental numbers when we assemble for grand review on fame's eternal camping grounds.

While it is true that some particular regiments achieved more fame than some others, it was not altogether on account of superior fighting qualities, but mainly because of their opportunities for making records that command special attention. And so it was with the individual, for we know many men who came home without shoulder straps who were as good, and even better soldiers than others who came home wearing eagles and stars.

But in the final adjustment every fellow will get what is coming to him, sure.

The Coming Vehicle.

Undoubtedly the American people must have the best, and will have it, and a point is made by the mechanical expert in the statement that streets were made for vehicles and not for street car tracks. In his opinion the coming method of transportation will be through the autobus, moving on smooth, asphalt-surfaced, trackless streets, with broad rubber tires, ample in passenger accommodations, running to the curb line to take on passengers or to discharge them and having storage batteries of sufficient force to run it an entire day.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Why Kansas Is Safe.

When Chairman Stubbs of the Kansas Republican committee informed the national managers of the party that Kansas needed no outside help this year he did not mean that an unusually large campaign fund had been raised within the state. He meant that the Kansas voters are so strongly inclined toward Republicanism that money is not required to carry the election. This indicates that the Sunflower State is classed with the rock-ribbed commonwealths which are safely Republican in any and every contingency.—Kansas City Journal.

Political Drift

Indianapolis will be a center of political activity this week, as the national convention of the National League of Republican clubs will be on Wednesday and Thursday, and it is expected that fully a thousand delegates from other states will be here, while a large crowd will turn out from this state. The day sessions will be held at the German house and the night meetings in Tomlinson hall. The list of speakers includes Senator Beveridge, Secretary of War Taft and George A. Knight of California.

The correspondent of the Washington Star says that the result of the election in Indiana depends on the vote of the silver men is conceded by party leaders on both sides. The state committees of the two leading political parties are exerting themselves to the utmost in perfecting their organizations, yet each is thinking and working with the same object in view: To line up the silver men. The district and county chairmen come and tell the state chairmen about the attitude of the silver Democrats. The Republicans are telling their state chairman of the large numbers of silver Democrats that they say will not vote for Parker. The Democrats are telling their state chairman of dissatisfied silver Democrats, are asking for advice on how to proceed to get them in line, and are asking that Bryan or Gen. J. B. Weaver or B. F. Shively or some other former advocate of free silver be sent to their county to make a speech.

William Randolph Hearst, defeated by Alton B. Parker for the Democratic presidential nomination at St. Louis, has issued a burning appeal of about 2,000 words to the National Association of Democratic clubs. Parker and Davis are not once mentioned in the appeal. Mr. Hearst's editorial staff is reported to be almost solidly for Thomas E. Watson, the People's party candidate for president. As Mr. Hearst has been nominated for congress it is asumed that he is going to vote the Democratic ticket straight.

\+ \+ \+ \+

In the Eleventh Kentucky district the fight between Dr. Godfrey Hunter and D. C. Edwards for the Republican nomination has been settled in favor of Edwards by the unanimous decision of the district committee. The Democrats pinning their faith to George Stone, a very popular man throughout the district, declare that they will cut down the usual Republican majority considerably. Before the settlement of the fight they even claimed that they had a good chance of carrying the district, but it is hard to see how they could have hoped for this as the Eleventh, the only real Republican district in the state, is so overwhelmingly anti-Democratic that it would be almost an impossibility for a Democrat to slip in.

A review of the political situation in Maryland for the past eight years shows that beginning in 1896 the state, for the first time since the war period, broke away from the Democratic column at a presidential election and gave Mr. McKinley the enormous plurality of 32,224, which was larger than had ever been given a Democratic presidential candidate by this state.

In 1898 there occurred one of those inexplicable events in politics. Although President McKinley's administration had carried the country through a most successful war and the country was enjoying prosperity, with no labor disturbances of any moment, with the city and state administrations in the hands of the Republican party, including all the patronage of these administrations, the election resulted in the loss of two representatives and the curtailment of the 32,224 plurality in 1896 to 6,503, a loss of 25,721. In 1900 both parties renominated the same candidates who were in the field for election to the presidency in 1896. The Democrats had, however, found a new issue, which they made their paramount issue. They called it imperialism, but it was really the race issue. The Republican plurality of over 32,000 in 1896 was as a result reduced to 13,951. Twice during these eight years Democrats have been elected to the gubernatorial chair by over 12,000 majority, and twice also had Democratic legislatures been elected.

Women suffrage in Utah will probably be a factor in favor of the Roosevelt ticket. In Idaho it is claimed that the reverse is true. Women of the two states will doubtless poll a larger vote, proportionately, this year than ever before.

\+ \+ \+ \+

Says the New York Herald: Mr. Cortelyou is not saying a word, and Judge Parker is not saying a word, and Chairman Taggart is not saying a word—now—and nobody seems to have a voice. No such campaign was ever known in the state. The Republicans are seeking to shove Mr. Higgins, the candidate for governor, on the stump against his wishes. They are also looking anxiously for Mr. Root. In the meantime the click of typewriters is the only noise heard at headquarters. The only activity is that displayed by various mysterious individuals who pass to and fro on their work of 'polling" the voters. But the voice of the spellbinder is not heard in the land.

\+ \+ \+ \+

On the day of Senator Hoar's funeral in Worcester, Mass., his son, Gen. Rockwood Hoar, was nominated for congress. Out of respect to the senator's memory there were no nominating speeches made and before the close of the convention the delegates stood a moment with bowed heads to express their respect for the dead statesman. The Republican candidates have been defeated in this district by Congressman Thayer in the last three elections, although it is considered Republican by 10,000 piurality. It will be interesting to see whether Gen. Hoar will be able to heal the wounds that have resulted from factional fights. He has shown his strength in the election in which he was chosen district attorney and the sentiment attending his father's name may be some value to him.

\+ \+ \+ \+

J. W. Temple of Chicago, who has attended every Republican state convention in Illinois for 30 years, thinks The Gazette did Charles S. Deneen an injustice Sunday when it said it was reported that the candidate for governor secured the nomination by the promise to help his rival secure a seat in the senate. He continues: "I desire to correct the false impression your article conveys, both as to the Republican party and the broad-minded, capable man they have nominated for their standard bearer. After 11 days' balloting Mr. Deneen was nominated on the seventy-ninth ballot. Seven candidates were before the convention. Mr. Deneen has been state's attorney for Cook county for four years and ran 10,000 ahead of McKinley in Cook county, and the state will go 100,000 for him as governor and Roosevelt as president. Illinois is as sure a Republican state as Pennsylvania."

The Next Hague Conference.

Andrew D. White, who was president of the American delegation to The Hague peace conference, is naturally favorable to a reconvening of that body; in fact, he says it was understood that new sessions of the original body would be held. He believes that no nation can take the initiative with greater propriety than the United States, but he thinks a new conference cannot be called while the present war is in progress. It hardly seems to us, however, that there are insuperable objections to such a step.—Boston Transcript.

IT IS TO SMILE.

THEY LOVE THE DEAR OLD PARTY

Citizens Are Now Showing a Passionate Affection for Everything Republican.

FULTON'S HARTRED OF FUSION

The grand old party has weathered the storms of a half century, but never in its history, locally, has there been such passionate affection lavished upon it as is now bestowed by those who have hitherto called themselves Citizens. It is a love born of a desire to keep one's name written on a public pay-roll.

Back of this new-born love is a little history which can be briefly told: There was a Citizens party that promised much in the way of reform. The people took it seriously and the party got into power. Hoisted to places of prominence and lucrative compensation were numerous men whom the Republican party had long ago forced to the rear. They have feasted too liberally at the public crib and the name Citizen has become a poor one to trade on. In the hope of a continuance of lavish living, they now desire to have the past blotted out and the cloak of Republicanism cast about them.

This being a presidential year, a good opportunity to renew the love for the party they have endeavored to wreck is afforded. With tears in their eyes they are telling of their love for the G. O. P. It is pathetic to listen to the story of affection told by "Andy" Fulton.

Fulton's Great Love.

The collector of delinquent taxes is visiting in the city. He has not been in Atlantic City or Cambridge Springs for a week past, and each day he is wandering up and down the town preaching Republicanism. It just bubbles out of him. One would gather that he was in the original group that met in the Michigan forest 50 years ago and raised the party standard and ever since has been worshiping at the same political shrine.

It is of the young man that Mr. Fulton worries. He hopes and prays that the dear old party will make a place for the budding manhood that votes on age and is not hampered with tax receipts. If he can place the youth under the protecting influences of the party and open wide the primary doors to his ballot, Mr. Fulton says that he will be content and ask nothing for himself. He hopes that this will be done and a deathblow dealt to fusion. His hatred for fusion is even more intense than his love for the Republican party, for, in his opinion, fusion only tends to the strengthening of the "common enemy," and no good Republican wants to give comfort or aid to the Democrats. So bitter may he grow as he thinks of the wrongs perpetrated in the name of fusion that he may relinquish the rich plum dumped into his lap by the enemies of his party.

Want the Past Forgotten.

The same love of party is manifested by all the other city officials who are trying to trim their political sails so that the Republican primaries can be entered. They would rather have the past forgotten. It is not their wont just now to talk of the hundreds of Democrats holding positions from which Republicans were driven. Neither do they tell what love they will have for the grand old party next fall if their calculations on the spring primaries go amiss.

In both cities the men in control of the governments are urging the necessity of rolling up a mammoth majority for the grand old party. Marching clubs are being formed and orators who hurled words of contempt at everything connected with the Republican party are now eagerly seeking an opportunity to tell that they have been born again.

It is not surprising that those who have been regular in their affection for the Republican party should find amusement in the frantic efforts to love at so much per love. No stones are being rolled in the pathway of the penitents, even though there may be ground for suspecting their sincerity of purpose. It furnishes at least one opportunity to laugh in a campaign which is inclined to be rather dull and uninteresting.

Ford Continues to Work.

While the sinners are endeavoring to break into the fold, the work of getting out the full party vote is being industriously carried on by Chairman Ford and his assistants. He has secured 150 orators to preach the doctrines of Republicanism, and they will start on their labors next week. So far these meetings have been arranged:

Rohers' hall, Dorseyville, Indiana township, Friday evening, October 14, speakers, H. I. Riley, Capt. John A. Reed and T. Carlisle Moore; Sharon school house, Moon township, Friday evening, October 14, T. L. Gartney, Harry S. Lydick and Harry Diamond; Fulton school house, Reserve township, Thursday evening, October 13, H. I. Riley, A. S. Miller and C. E. Theobald; National Bank hall, Glassport, Capt. John A. Reed, H. H. Negley and H. I. Riley; No. 7 school house, Moon Run, Robinson township, W. T. Tredway, Dr. A. J. Barchfeld and John S. Robb, Jr.

Residents of the Twenty-first ward are taking great interest in the meeting to be held at the Belmar school hall, Homewood, tomorrow evening, at which Charles A. O'Brien, Hon. Josiah Cohen and Charles B. Kline will speak.

Arrangements are being made for all the members of Republican clubs in Allegheny to attend the mass meeting in Carnegie Music hall one week from next Saturday evening, at which Congressman Edward B. Vreeland of the New York delegation, Maj. Alexander McDowell, Hon. W. H. Graham, and others, will speak.

Eleventh Ward Club Turns Out.

The Eleventh Ward Republican Marching club made its initial appearance last night, and attracted a great deal of attention. It was the first torchlight procession of the campaign.

For about 30 years the Eleventh ward has had a crack marching club each presidential campaign. The organization this year is said to be the best in the history of the ward. There are 150 members, and 146 men turned out last night. They have been thoroughly drilled by Capt. J. A. A. Brown, and he was in command last evening. The marchers wore white caps, blue blouses, white trousers and khaki leggins. They carried the old-fashioned torches.

The procession started from the parade grounds in Ledlie street, and the principal thoroughfares of the ward were included in the route. All along the line of march red fire was burned in liberal quantities, and there was great enthusiasm. After the ward had been covered the club marched downtown by way of Fifth avenue.

The procession was led by the Third Regiment Boys' Brigade band. Following the club were about 20 carriages. In the first one were the officers of the club, President Arch Mackrell, Secretary Walter E. Willows and Treasurer John Voskamp. In the next one were ex-Mayor H. P. Ford, Mr. Simpkins and Mr. Blair. In the third were Building Inspector Diest, Select Councilman H. B. Burns and Common Councilmen A. R. Girdwood and Frank G. Myers. The other carriages contained the members of the Republican ward committee and the finance committee of the club. Saturday evening the club will parade in the Thirteenth ward.

REUNION OF SIX SISTERS.

After 25 Years' Separation They Will Meet in Beloit, Kan.

Mrs. Jennie Ekin of Versailles avenue, McKeesport, Mrs. Sarah Keeler of Greenock, Pa., Mrs. Kate Jacobs of Berkley Springs, Va., and Mrs. Ann Kuntz of Turtle Creek, sisters, departed yesterday for Beloit, Kan., where they will hold a reunion with their sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart and Mrs. Mary Rankin of that place, after a separation of 25 years.

The sisters became separated shortly after their marriage, and those in the east have never had an opportunity of seeing the others until now. Mrs. Ekin is the mother of Common Councilman John Ekin and R. W. Ekin, a real estate broker of McKeesport. They will remain in the west for several weeks.

BUSINESS MEN MUCH PLEASED

Merchants' and Manufacturers Association Holds Social Meeting at Union Club.

SHOWS MUCH ACCOMPLISHED

The record of accomplishments as compared with promises marked the second social meeting of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of Pittsburgh last evening at the Union club. The contrast of the gathering with the similar one held last June was brought forward prominently, and all agreed that the work of the intervening time has more than made good the best that was held out by the pioneers in the movement.

Last evening's meeting was a noteworthy one in many ways. There were close upon 200 men present and the big banquet hall of the club was well filled. The meeting was informal throughout and the air of energy and action that has been characteristic of the "M. & M." from its inception pervaded the room.

When an excellent dinner had been disposed of President E. J. Lloyd of the association, in a short speech touching on the value of such gatherings, introduced Judge J. J. Miller of the orphans court as toastmaster. Judge Miller accepted the position with a brief address upon the part the Merchants and Manufacturers' association is playing in the conversion of the meaning of "Pittsburgh" to the wider meaning of the "central west," as London means England and Berlin means Germany.

M. & M. Not Merely "Hot Air."

D. L. Gillespie made the first set address of the evening, saying that the spirit of the "M. & M." has been to act rather than talk, and that its activities have served as an eye-opener to many in regard to the business opportunities which had been left dormant or allowed to pass to the rival tradesmen of other cities.

"It has wakened our people to the fact that there is a great commercial harvest at our doors if we will but go out and gather it," he said.

Judge Miller introduced James Francis Burke as "a man whom the newspapers say is running for congress, but his friends say it is a walk."

Mr. Burke spoke well on the thrifty habits that brought about the great wealth of Pittsburgh and the fact that wonderful advances have been made in the last two decades in the beautification of the city.

Secretary James W. Wardrop of the association was then called upon by Judge Miller to speak, and was denominated the active officer whose time and talent, devoted solely to the association, had made possible the work.

Much Has Been Done.

"Less than five months ago we made our bow in this room," Mr. Wardrop said. "Our active membership then was 113. It is now 152, an increase of 39 per cent. In addition we have enrolled 1,827 associate members, residing throughout the country between Wisconsin on the west, New York on the east and Alabama on the south. We have traced over 2,000 railroad shipments and over 200 complaints have been taken up with the railroad officials. In every case there has been prompt attention and an earnest effort made to remedy the troubles of which the association complained.

"We have advertised Pittsburgh throughout the United States and in Japan. The mails are now carrying our special advertising matter to Australia, and it is to be sent through England and continental Europe.

"Our work is but started. The rivals of the city are watching our every move and are eager to reclaim what we have taken. They are alert to every opportunity and we must continue aggressive work to maintain our advantage."

Talk by Director Hamerschlag.

Mr. Wardrop was warmly applauded when he took his seat, and Judge Miller said that the selection of secretary of the association had been characteristic of Pittsburgh in that the very best man to be found had been appointed. As another instance of the best equipped man for the position to which he has been called, he introduced Director Arthur A. Hamerschlag of the Carnegie Technical schools.

Mr. Hamerschlag spoke briefly on the growth of business through the accomplishments of science and the increase of business confidence. He said his hope is that the new schools may give to the business interests of Pittsburgh men trained to accomplish better results than would be possible otherwise and trained also in character to make them more worthy of filling positions of responsibility.

Arrangements are now being rapidly brought to completion for the association's Ohio trade extension tour. Invitations have been received from the Merchants' association of Steubenville and the Columbus board of trade to be their guests during the association's stay in those cities.

INSURANCE RATES MAY BE ADVANCED

Special Commission Visits Pittsburgh and Condemns its Fire-Fighting Facilities.

WANTS HIGHER PRESSURE

"Unless the city of Pittsburgh makes rapid improvement in its facilities for fighting fires the insurance rates will be increased 30 per cent the first of next year and risks will be refused on several downtown buildings."

This statement was made by Sumner Rhoades of New York, who is a member of a commission appointed by the insurance companies to investigate Pittsburgh's facilities for fighting fires. Besides Mr. Rhoades, R. W. Phelps and E. S. Keepers have been in Pittsburgh six weeks inspecting the city water system. The report of the commission, if enforced, will make Pittsburgh's fire-fighting facilities the same as Philadelphia's, where it is possible to throw water to the top of a 20-story building.

The commission will recommend high-pressure water mains to be used exclusively for fighting conflagrations. It will also ask that the city purchase and keep in commission two fire boats, one for the Allegheny and the other for the Monongahela river.

Mr. Rhoades said that the commission will recommend that for all large buildings iron pipes be installed. These pipes must be easily accessible to the fire department, so that should a fire break out the firemen can attach their hose without having to drag it up through the building or pull it up on adjacent buildings, as they have to do at present. These pipes are to be six or eight inches in diameter and have a pressure of from 60 to 75 pounds. One pound of pressure will lift water two feet through a gum hose, but through an iron tube it will lift it 25 per cent more.

Mr. Rhoades said the facilities on the South Side are inadequate. For that side of the river and in the Butler street districts the commission recommends the installation of a 12-inch main with 75 pounds pressure. This will permit the firemen to throw 20 streams of water on any building. At present these districts have only a six-inch main and they are tapped for private uses.

The commission has been appointed to inspect the water supply in all important cities. Its first investigation was Philadelphia, and its recommendations were carried out. This makes the water power of Philadelphia the best in the country. This was proved by several tests recently.

The commission will leave today for New York to make its report. The members expect to return in a few days to continue their investigations. They are working independent of the local underwriters' association.

NO RECEPTION FOR MORLEY.

Building Confusion at Carnegie Institute Cuts Out a Founder's Day Feature.

The Founder's day committee of the Pittsburgh Carnegie Institute met yesterday in the office of W. N. Frew, president of the board, and arrangements for the issuance of tickets were completed.

Owing to the confusion in the rebuilding arrangements at the institute, it was decided that there will be no public reception to John Morley on the afternoon of Founder's day. It is expected that Mr. Morley will be the guest at one or two prominent social functions during his visit to Pittsburgh, including the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce, and this will afford opportunity to those who desire to meet him personally to do so.

DANGERS TO BE AVOIDED IN OCTOBER.

DURING the warm summer months the skin has been freely throwing off the impurities of the body in the form of perspiration.

THE cool days and cooler nights of October, in a measure, stop the action of the skin.

IMPURITIES which heretofore were thrown off by the skin, must find some outlet. They should be excreted by the kidneys.

A GREAT STRAIN is thus thrown upon the kidneys. They are not always prepared for this increased labor. They break down.

THE POISONS passing through the kidneys serve to irritate them, and this condition soon develops into serious ailments, among them Bright's Disease.

THE LIVER, too, acts in sympathy with the kidneys. It becomes deranged, causing sallow skins, depression of spirits and lassitude.

AN ABNORMAL CONDITION of the bowels also presents itself. Constipation and other bowel troubles result.

THE blood becomes poisoned by the retained excretions. Pimples, blotches, muddy complexions are the first result and finally the whole system becomes deranged.

COLDS are very easily caught during this depleted condition of the system.

AT THIS TIME the kidneys, liver and bowels need a little encouragement, a little assistance—that is all.

PE-RU-NA gives just this assistance. It gently stimulates these organs to increased function. Thus Peruna guards against the possibilities of disease.

PEOPLE INCLINED TO WEAKNESS of these organs ought to be especially careful during this month.

AT THE FIRST SIGN of disease, such as puffiness under the eyes, sallow skin, backache, colds, and so forth, Peruna should be taken.

IF YOU NOTICE any of the above symptoms, do not delay—buy a bottle of Peruna today. A bottle of Peruna taken at the first symptom will do more good than a dozen bottles later on when serious ailments have developed.

MISS MARGRET HUESTON.

THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIAL is only a sample of the many testimonials contained in our files:—

MISS MARGRET HUESTON, 1127 Linden street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"Peruna is indeed a household blessing. Last fall I caught a severe cold which developed into a most unpleasant catarrh and for over two weeks I could neither enjoy my food nor secure restful sleep. I became nervous and irritable and nothing looked just right to me.

"A good neighbor advised me to try Peruna and I immediately sent for a bottle. I am very glad indeed that I did. I began to feel relief in a week, and soon felt better than I had in two years. I do not dread a cold any more as I used to, for a small quantity of Peruna cures me."—Margret Hueston.

WE HAVE ON FILE thousands of grateful letters which Dr. Hartman has received from people who have been cured by Peruna.

ART JURY NAMED FOR INSTITUTE

Artists Will Make Awards from Paintings Submitted for Pittsburgh's International Exhibit.

TWO TO COME FROM EUROPE

The jury of awards for the international exhibition to be held this year at the Carnegie Art galleries was announced last night by John W. Beatty, director of fine arts. Those elected from the 300 ballots received from painters in America, England, Scotland, France, Germany, Holland, Italy and Switzerland are: Edmond Aman-Jean, Paris; Alexander Roche, Edinburgh; Frank W. Benson, Boston; Wilton Lockwood, Boston; Ben Foster, New York; Childe Hassam, New York; Henry O. Walker, Lakewood; Kenyon Cox, New York; Edward W. Redfield, Philadelphia; J. J. Enneking, Boston.

The jury will meet in the temporary building recently erected for the art galleries on Thursday, October 13, at 10 a. m. and accept works contributed by artists residing in America, and award medals and honors. The honors to be awarded are: A gold medal, carrying with it an award of $1,500; a silver medal carrying an award of $1,000; a bronze medal, carrying an award of $500, and two chronological medals, carrying awards of $1,000 and $500 respectively.

The exhibition will open on Founder's day, November 3, and continue until January. The paintings are arriving and are being stored in the temporary building. The session of the jury will last about two days.

All the jurors are well-known and their meeting will bring to the city one of the most distinguished group of artists that ever gathered in Pittsburgh. Messrs. Aman-Jean, Benson, Foster and Hassam have served in the same capacity here in former years. Mr. Roche is a native of Scotland and a member of the Royal Scottish academy. He won a medal of the third class at the Carnegie institute in 1898. Mr. Cox is a native of Warren, O., and has painted conspicuous decorations in the Congressional library at Washington. Mr. Enneking was a pupil of Bonnat and D'Aubigny and is famous for his landscapes. Mr. Lockwood received honorable mention at the Carnegie institute in 1897. Mr. Walker is best known through his fine mural paintings.

Grand Jury Making Investigation.

AKRON, O., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The affairs of the defunct Akron Savings Bank Company, of which Senator Dick is a director, is being investigated by the grand jury.

THE DEATH ROLL

Benjamin Franklin Reese.

Benjamin Franklin Reese of the Isaac Reese & Sons Silica Brick Company, now incorporated with the Harbison-Walker Refractories, is dead at the residence of his father, Isaac Reese, Center avenue and Cypress street, Shadyside. Death was due to paralysis, resultant from a sunstroke sustained two years ago. Mr. Reese was 42 years of age and was known as one of the most promising young business men of the day. His indefatigable and personal effort not only built up the Silica brick business in this city to recognized prominence, but throughout Armstrong and Butler counties other interests were no less diligently pushed to success. Mr. Reese was known as the most successful gas operator in Kittanning, where in recent years he has resided. In the location of gas and oil wells he had always been rated as an expert. He was the largest individual stockholder in the Kittanning Plate Glass Company, one of the finest equipped plants in the country, and also a stockholder in the Crystal mirror works of that place. Mr. Reese was born in Pittsburgh and was always associated with the church and social interests of the city. He is survived by his widow, Eleanor Mathias Reese, whom he wedded in Chicago four years ago, by his father, Isaac Reese; his brothers, George Reese of Kittanning and Walter Lawrence Reese of this city, and by two sisters, Mrs. Frances Laird Snowden and Miss Ella Reese. Funeral services will be held at the family residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. B. Gwernydd Newton of the First Congregational church officiating.

David Davis, Jr.

David Davis, Jr., aged 59, for many years a business man of Woods Run, Allegheny, died last evening at his home, 7140 Monticello street, Homewood, of paralysis, after an illness of two and a half years. He was born in Wales, and was brought to this country by his parents when a child. The family settled at Bradys Bend, Pa. Mr. Davis came to Pittsburgh in the '60s and engaged in the drug business on the South Side and later in Woods Run, where he continued in the business for 35 years. About five years ago he engaged in the wholesale liquor business in that district, his place of business being at 827 Preble avenue. He was a member of the Masonic and Pittsburgh lodge No. 11, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks. He was a veteran of the civil war, having served with Company A, One Hundred and Thirty-third regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers. Mr. Davis is survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. George B. Saxton, and a son, Lee Davis, both residents of Avalon. He had been a resident of Homewood for the last three years.

Alexander Neillie.

Alexander Neillie, aged 92 years, died yesterday at the home of his son, 23 Kingston place, Allegheny, after a brief illness. Death was due to ailments incident to extreme age. Deceased was born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1813, and when 19 years of age immigrated to this country, settling in the First ward, Allegheny. For many years he was a boatman on the old Pennsylvania canal, but retired from active life many years prior to his death. He is survived by the following children: Andrew Neillie, Mrs. Margaret Cutty, Mrs. B. F. Brown and Mrs. Annie King.

Mrs. Sarah C. D. Hughey.

Mrs. Sarah C. Drake Hughey, aged 58, died yesterday at her home, 206 McKinley avenue, Avalon. She was born in Cincinnati, O., and had lived in Pittsburgh and vicinity the greater part of her life. She was married twice, her first husband being John Lickinthaler. Her second husband, John J. Hughey, died six months ago. Two sons survive, William Lickinthaler of Pittsburgh, and John J. Hughey of Avalon. She was a member of the Avalon Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Annie E. Hall Grenewald.

Mrs. Annie E. Hall Grenewald, the only woman forecast official employed by the United States government, is dead at her home near Hanover, Pa., aged 57. For 17 years Mrs. Grenewald had kept on her husband's farm a complete station record of weather conditions, and was regarded by the farmers of York county as an authority. Mrs. Grenewald was president of the National Science club of Washington and editor of Earth and Air, a scientific journal.

John Wilson Orr.

John Wilson Orr, aged 75, died last evening at his home in Darrah street, Crafton, of the infirmities of age. Mr. Orr was formerly a fireman on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. He is survived by his widow and two children, Miss Mary Orr, and a daughter who lives in Colorado. Mr. Orr was an active member of the Hawthorne Avenue Presbyterian church, Crafton, and of the Odd Fellows and Masons.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Andrew Bloos died at New Castle Monday night, following an operation. She was 38 years old. She was a member of the German Lutheran church and leaves a husband and one son.

Mrs. Rachel Parkhill, wife of the late Joseph Parkhill, of Pittsburgh, died at the home of her mother at Greensburg, yesterday morning. She was 38 years old, and was a daughter of Mrs. Susan Kline.

Word has been received here of the recent death of Mrs. Keers, widow of Joseph Keers, Churchbrook, County Antrim, Ireland. The Keers family is well-known in Pittsburgh and vicinity. Mrs. Keers was the mother of some of the most prominent men in County Antrim, two sons being Presbyterian ministers and two others justices of the peace. The late pastor of Mrs. Keer's church was the Rev. Andrew Todd, who was ordained in 1842, and his predecessor the Rev. James Elder was ordained in 1780, so that at the death of the Rev. Andrew Todd, the Flurry Presbyterian church had but two pastors in 112 years.

CRIPPLED GIRL WAS BEHEADED

Child Could Not Move Fast Enough on Crutches to Escape the Car.

BOY KILLED BY FAST TRAIN

While crossing the street on crutches Rose Reuben, aged 8, of 211 Colwell street had her head cut off by Hamilton avenue street car No. 3185 at Fifth avenue and Van Braam street shortly after 8 o'clock last night. The child was unable to avoid the car on account of her crippled condition.

Rose had watched an eastbound car pass and started over the tracks behind it. As she was in the center of the westbound track she saw the long street car coming. The girl made a desperate effort on her crutches to get out of the way, but was unable to do so. The car knocked her under the wheels, which passed over her neck, severing the head from the body, but she was not disfigured.

The body was taken into No. 4 engine house and later removed to the morgue. The girl was crippled when quite young by falling downstairs. She was the daughter of Teman and Zelda Reuben.

Earl Cole, 16-year-old son of William Cole of Glendale, near Carnegie, was killed last night at 6 o'clock on the Washington branch of the Panhandle railroad at Carnegie by a fast passenger train. The boy was knocked 50 feet. He was put on the train and taken to Carnegie, but died before reaching there. His father is a well-known railroad man, being foreman of the Panhandle railroad roundhouse.

George Kucera, a Hungarian miner of Imperial, was held by the coroner's jury yesterday to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of killing George Struzak last Sunday. The wife of the dead man testified the men were examining a shotgun, which was accidentally discharged, killing her husband. There was no evidence that would indicate any differences between the men.

The inquest in the death of Emma Fryer, who was found drowned under the Union bridge early Sunday morning, was held yesterday and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide. Rose Warner, an inmate of No. 10 Morgan street, Allegheny, where the Fryer woman lived, testified the latter had threatened to take her life.

J. L. Lyons, aged 59, a travelling salesman of New London, Conn., died yesterday morning at the Allegheny General hospital of a complication of diseases. He was taken to the hospital from Vandergrift a week ago.

Freer Predicts 25,000 Majority.

WARREN, PA., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The Hon. Romeo Freer, ex-congressman and present attorney general of West Virginia, is visiting his old home. He says his state is safely Republican by 25,000.

Two Horses Had to Be Killed.

An eastbound car of the United Traction Company struck a team of horses at West Run, near East Pittsburgh, last evening, and the two uprights supporting the cab were demolished. The horses had to be killed and traffic on the line was delayed for nearly an hour.

Schwab's Workmen Strike.

ALTOONA, Oct. 4.—Fifty workmen employed by the Williamsburg Paper Company, of which Charles M. Schwab is a large stockholder, struck for higher wages this afternoon.

PERSONALS

"We will gain a congressman, making eight, and probably send nine to congress, and will carry the state for Roosevelt by the largest majority ever polled at a presidential election," said Gov. Franklin Murphy of Newark, N. J., when seen at the Union station last night. He was on his way to St. Louis, accompanied by his staff officers and state officials. The party occupied two special cars. They were on their way to take part in New Jersey day at the world's fair. In further discussing the present outlook for the fall election Gov. Murphy said: "There is some anxiety over the state ticket in New York, which I hope and expect to be removed before election day. However, the state will carry the national ticket for the present administration. I predict Senator Fairbanks will succeed in carrying his state to Republican victory. Regarding West Virginia, my personal observations are that the voters admire Mr. Davis for his personal qualifications, but they will not let that interfere with their convictions regarding political affairs. It is safe to say that state will be found on the Republican side when the votes are counted. I have been interested in several presidential campaigns, but never in my experience has it been possible to judge the result of the election so early in a campaign as this one." New Jersey day at the fair will be celebrated tomorrow, when the governor will deliver an address.

Griffith P. Griffiths, vice president of the Citizens National bank of Cincinnati, passed through the city last night over the Pennsylvania railroad for Atlantic City.

The Rev. Dr. Alfred W. Arundel, rector of Trinity church, has gone to Boston as a delegate of the Pittsburgh diocese of the triennial Episcopal convention. The other delegates are the Rev. A. R. Taylor of Warren, the Rev. Dr. J. H. McIlvaine, Calvary church, and the Rev. Dr. R. W. Grange, Church of the Ascension. The lay delegates are James W. Brown, J. W. Reynolds, George C. Burgwin and Herbert DuPuy.

Isaac E. Hirsch, managing editor of the Volksblatt and Freheits-Fruend, left for St. Louis last evening, accompanied by his wife, to attend the celebration of German day at the world's fair. Mr. Hirsch is a member of the national executive committee for the German day festivities, which take place tomorrow, and at which Carl Schurz, Congressman Richard Bartholdt, Baron Speck von Sternberg, the German ambassador, and others will make addresses. The celebration will close with a "kommers" tomorrow evening, in which about 1,000 guests, ladies and gentlemen, will participate.

Charles F. Engel, president of the McKees Rocks volunteer fire department, went to Erie yesterday to attend the state convention of volunteer firemen. He is also president of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's association and a vice president of the national association.

Ex-Lieut. Gov. Walter Lyon left last night on an eastern business trip.

PRISON GUARDS DISCOVER PLOT

Daring Scheme for Escape of Desperate Criminals Prevented in Nick of Time.

JONES TOLD OF CONSPIRACY

Charles Jones, the colored prisoner at the Western penitentiary, who is in a supposed dying condition from wounds inflicted Saturday night by George Christian, is a victim of revenge. If Jones had not betrayed the secrets of a conspiracy to which he was at first a party, the murderous assault would not have been made on him, and with others he might have escaped from the institution.

Investigation of the affair has developed the fact that one of the most daring schemes ever hatched by desperate prisoners was on foot prior to last Thursday, when William Freeman was discovered on the roof of range A doing the preliminary work. For more than two hours during the afternoon of Thursday a roll of bed clothes on his cot was mistaken for the man by the keepers.

Meanwhile Freeman was 50 feet above the keepers and just 11 feet from the trap-door opening upon the prison roof. When detected he was patiently endeavoring to throw a rope noose over the massive brass lock that was the only barrier between him and freedom. His purpose after throwing the lasso over the padlock was to draw himself up, securely fasten the rope to the steel-riveted staple in the trap-door and then saw through the hinge of the lock with a steel saw.

During the greater part of the afternoon Freeman was engaged in this, but he was baffled by the material with which he had to work. His lasso was made of strips of cocoa fiber that had been stolen in small quantities from the mat factory. These had been plaited and spliced until Freeman had a rope 20 feet long. The stiffness of the stuff, however, made it poor material for such a job. This fact alone, perhaps, defeated a plan that would have released several of the most noted criminals in the institution.

In the same range with Freeman are Newton Hill, a life man; Walter Dorman, doing a life-sentence for complicity in the crimes of the Biddle brothers; Alexander Berkman, who in 1892 shot Henry C. Frick; besides George Christian and "Buck" Sanders, life prisoners. It is not known who were in the plot, as Warden Johnston denies the existence of any such thing. He admits that Freeman tried to escape, but declares that none of the other prisoners were connected with the endeavor.

It was learned yesterday, however, that for months a number of the inmates had secretly planned to effect their escape. Each was surreptitiously stealing from the work shops. In the cells of the men in the same range with Christian were found files, bits, saws and enough rope to enable any one to reach the ground from the roof of the penitentiary.

To gain the roof was the first object. The fact that three different keepers checked on their count the presence of Freeman in his cell, when in reality the man was on the roof, demonstrates that the men were encouraged by a realization of what would seem to be a certain degree of negligence among the prison employes. Between the hours of 5 and 9 p. m. there are but two keepers in the south wing. They are on the first floor, and at that distance from the roof would have no chance to hear the sawing or filing of the big lock. Had Freeman had the aid of two of his fellows, it is more than likely the scheme would have succeeded and a most sensational jail delivery recorded.

It was on Thursday, after Freeman was caught, that Christian, the negro murderer, first declared in the hearing of several persons in the range that he would kill Jones. The prison authorities confess that Christian's desire for vengeance was inspired by the belief that Jones had reported him for something. What this something is, none of those in authority at the big prison will say. The knife with which Christian slashed Jones was probably part of the equipment that had been gathered together preparatory to the attempt to escape.

Warden Johnston has all the tools that were found hidden in the beds of the prisoners, but will not admit the possession of anything of that character except the long rope found in Freeman's cell. This was seen by a reporter for The Gazette last night in the warden's private office.

The prison board is to meet with Warden Johnston Friday afternoon. He will communicate to the board the details of this latest-discovered plot. The warden will probably be asked some embarrassing questions concerning the finding of the tools and ropes, and the visual powers of several of the keepers who mistook some bedclothes for a man.

In the lipless speech of the convicts the entire story has been circulated throughout the prison and has caused intense excitement. There is a spirit of uneasiness among the 900 or more inmates and an unusually strict watch is being kept so that any sudden, violent disorder may be quelled quickly. Christian and Freeman are in the "basket cells." These are isolated from all others and the steel doors are heavily screened. It is said that several others implicated in the plot are doing penance in the same way, but on this point Warden Johnston is silent.

CONTRACT TO BE RE-AWARDED

Welsbach Company Will Light the Streets of Swissvale.

Swissvale council last night decided that the Welsbach Street Lighting Company's contract to light the streets of the borough by gas be re-awarded. Today the arc light system contract with the Allegheny County Light Company expires, last night's meeting having been held just in time to save the town from darkness tomorrow night.

On application of F. A. Howard an injunction was granted last week delaying the Welsbach contract work after 113 out of 200 lamp posts had been erected, on the grounds that the burgess had signed the ordinance one day too soon. The lights are to cost $25.50 each per annum.

An anonymous note addressed to President Stroud was thrown into the chamber. It said: "H. E. Stroud. Better turn down the Welsbach light.—A Friend."

PASTOR AT HAZELWOOD GOING TO WAYNESBURG

The Rev. E. W. Thorton Resigns to Accept Another Charge. Successful in This City.

The Rev. E. W. Thornton, for the last two years pastor of the Christian church in Hazelwood avenue, Hazelwood, has resigned his charge to become pastor of the Christian church in Waynesburg, Pa. During his pastorate in Hazelwood Mr.

The Rev. E. W. Thornton.

Thornton has added over 100 new members to the congregation and built up the church in every way.

While in this city Mr. Thornton took an active interest in matters connected with his denomination. He served as president of the local Ministerial association of the Christian church for one year, having recently been succeeded in the office by Dr. Wallace Tharp. He also served for a year as president of the Allegheny County Christian Endeavor society of his church.

Mr. Thornton was popular in his congregation and the members greatly regret he has decided to give up his charge here.

BIBLE SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Many Speakers at Annual Meeting of Allegheny County Association.

The annual convention of the Twenty-third district of the Allegheny County Bible School association was held yesterday in Bellevue, the morning and afternoon sessions being conducted in the Baptist church, and the evening session in the Fourth United Presbyterian church.

Addresses were made by the Rev. W. E. McCullough, the Rev. Dr. George Shaffer, the Rev. Charles A. McCrea, the Rev. C. H. Dunlap, the Rev. D. F. McGill, the Rev. Thomas Park and the Rev. W. H. W. Rees. A round table was conducted by C. E. Smith of Allegheny, and at supper speeches were made by W. J. Longman, W. E. Shaffnit, W. F. Church, G. B. Lewis, A. E. Bennett, W. G. Gibson and G. E. Campbell.

The Sabbth school convention of district No. 32, including the churches of Moon and Robinson townships, and Neville Island, was held yesterday in the Forest Grove Presbyterian church, near Groveton. Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. B. F. Beazell and J. W. Fulmer.

WANTED TO HANG HIMSELF.

Prisoner at Oakland Police Station Discovered in the Act.

Charles Rodgers, a negro coachman living at 124 Oakland avenue, tried to commit suicide in his cell at the Oakland police station last evening. He was discovered in time and the handkerchief he was using taken from him.

Rodgers had been arrested on complaint of his wife. He brought her from Washington, D. C., two weeks ago. Immediately upon her arrival here he became intensely jealous of her. Yesterday he secured a heavy strap and beat her until her body was a mass of bruises. She called the police and he was arrested. At first he did not seem to mind confinement, but an hour or two after he was locked up Bicycle Policeman James G. Noon passed his cell and found him hanging. The sergeant was called, and together they cut Rodgers down and a watch was placed on his cell.

Ittel Still the Champion.

L. P. Ittel has once more shown his superiority over local rifle shooters of this vicinity by winning the championship match in the tourney now in progress at the Iroquois Rifle club. Mr. Ittel's total was 1227 and his nearest rival, H. H. Frank had 1216. During the balance of the week the all-comers' match will be shot.

A Long Deadlock Is Broken.

After a deadlock lasting since June 1 the board of the Homewood school sub-district has elected the Homewood Peoples bank its treasurer. While there had been several competitors for the position, the bank was not one of them.

CARNEGIE WILL GUIDE TOURISTS

Members of British Iron and Steel Institute to Visit America.

WILL HOLD MEETING HERE

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Under the guidance of Andrew Carnegie and a committee composed of personal friends of the ironmaster, more than 350 members of the Iron and Steel Institute of Great Britain, including many of the most celebrated experts and manufacturers in the united kingdom, will visit this country October 21 for an extended inspection of the allied industries, as the guests of the American members of that association.

While the ostensible purpose of the members of the institute in making this trip across the ocean is to hold their third quarterly meeting with their fellow manufacturers in the United States, it is believed their association with the most prominent American concerns may lead to a further consolidation of British and American interests, or at least promote good feeling among the kindred enterprises on both sides of the Atlantic.

The first formal session of the institute will be held at the Hotel Astor October 24, when Sir James Kitson, Bart, M. P., past president of the institute, will present to Mr. Carnegie the Bessemer gold medal in recognition of his great service to the iron and steel trade throughout the world.

THE TRUE ETIQUETTE OF CALLING CARDS

Tiny Bits of Pasteboard Play a Tremendous Role in the Social Warfare.

To the uninitiated the ceremony of paying visits and leaving cards may seem trivial, meaningless and stupid. But in the hands of the social adept the seemingly insignificant calling card becomes both the most useful of all implements for the cultivation of desirable acquaintances, and an unfailing weapon of defense against the intrusion of persons one does not care to know.

Without these little pieces of engraved pasteboard the social body would disintegrate, and its members soon be reduced to aboriginal methods of intercourse.

Although there are certain variations in the etiquette of cards in different countries and even in different social centers in America, yet the broad underlying principles are the same everywhere, and knowledge of these, together with some tact, will enable one always to be in good form.

A perfect knowledge of calling card etiquette will go a long way toward insuring smooth sailing socially. And this knowledge may be obtained by reading the article, "Good Form in Calling Cards," which will appear next Sunday in the Home Journal section of The Sunday Gazette.

Double Dose of Trouble.

William Roney was sentenced to serve 90 days in the workhouse yesterday by Justice F. W. Schrandt of Sharpsburg on the charge of being a suspicious person. A charge of surety of the peace, preferred by a Mrs. Roney, is pending. The man was recently released from the workhouse, and it is alleged that he tried to break the furniture in his Sharpsburg home.

COUNTRY GROWTH NOT AN ACCIDENT

Fairbanks Says Uncle Sam Is Great Because Principles Are Correct.

TALKS TO UNIVERSITY MEN

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
PALO ALTO, CAL., Oct. 4.—The first meeting addressed by Senator Fairbanks today was held at this point. Notwithstanding the early hour, there were many people waiting when the train pulled into the station, and as the meeting progressed many others arrived on foot, in carriages and on bicycles. In his speech Senator Fairbanks took cognizance of the location of the Stanford university here, and addressed himself largely to the students, enlarging upon the opportunities afforded the youth of the present age.

"It is not true," he said, "that the tendency of the Republican party is to deprive youth and young manhood of its opportunities. On the contrary it adds to them, and under its administration the people enjoy better chances for advancement than ever before. Now the child may be wiser than the sage of ancient times."

He also referred to the growth of the country during the past seven years, saying that the flag of the United States is now the greatest emblem of power on the earth.

"This," he said, "is not due to accident but to the fact that our government is conducted on correct principles and in accordance with rules of righteousness and justice."

He contended also that the Republican party is better calculated than any other party to uphold and advance these principles. Hence he invited close investigation into the claims of that party with the full assurance, he said, that much investigation would insure support.

After the political meeting Senator Fairbanks was given a reception by the Phi Gamma Delta college society, of which he is a member. Afterward he and his party were driven over the university grounds.

FIRST PICKED TROOPS LEAVE FOR THE FRONT

Czar Sends Kuropatkin Four Infantry Regiments Withdrawn from the German Frontier.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 4.—Four Russian regiments of infantry, formerly stationed along the German frontier, left today for Harbin, where they will join Gen. Kuropatkin's army. These are the first picked troops which have been sent to the theater of war.

Not a single western regiment has been sent to the front as a whole, up to this time, but new regiments have been formed from companies taken from different regiments. This measure has proved so disastrous to discipline that Gen. Kuropatkin, in one of his last messages to the czar, insisted on having intact regiments sent to reinforce him, and, though the czar from the very beginning has disliked to draw his best troops away from the western frontier of the empire, he has now given in to the wishes of Kuropatkin.

SUFFERED AT HANDS OF JAPANESE JAILERS

Their Conduct Changed When They Learned Prisoner Was Member of Hungarian Diet.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]
PRAGUE, Oct. 4.—M. Klofac, the member of the Hungarian parliament who at the beginning of the Russo-Japanese war went to the far east as war correspondent for a number of prominent European papers, and who was thought to have been killed, has unexpectedly returned to this city. According to his statement he has passed many months in a Japanese prison, and the treatment given to him there by no means agrees with the reputation which the Japanese are trying to establish for themselves in treating their prisoners.

M. Klofac says he suffered greatly at the hands of his jailors, who seemed to take a pleasure in torturing him, and who absolutely refused to believe in his words. When it was finally found out that he was really a member of the Hungarian diet they became as anxious to please him as they had tried to make life unpleasant.

M. Klofac also spent considerable time with the Russian army in Manchuria. He has nothing but good to say of the Russians. He will immediately begin writing a book, in which he will describe his adventures in the far east.

VACANCY IS FILLED ON WESTINGHOUSE BOARD

The board of directors of the Westinghouse Airbrake Company held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon at Wilmerding and elected H. G. Trout to fill the vacancy on the board caused by the death of Henry W. Oliver. George Westinghouse was re-elected president of the board and the following directors were re-elected: Robert Pitcairn, H. H. Westinghouse, John Caldwell, E. M. Herr, George P. Smith. The financial statement, published in The Gazette two weeks ago, was read by Robert Pitcairn.

BOLD BURGLAR SNEEZED, BUT HE MADE HIS ESCAPE

A burglar sneezed while in the act of robbing the home of George Yest, Fifth avenue, Homestead, shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning, and awakened the family. Mr. Yest hurried downstairs just in time to see the fellow leaving the premises with two hand satchels. An investigation showed the house had been ransacked and a considerable amount of valuables, including a gold watch and chain and a new silk dress, had been taken.

Will Be a Notable Engagement.

The coming engagement at the Nixon of E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe promises to be one of the most notable events of the season. They are to be supported by a company of unusual excellence. "Romeo and Juliet" will be the inaugural offering, and will be given the first three evenings. "Much Ado About Nothing" will follow Thursday evening only. "Hamlet" will be reserved for the last three performances. Mr. Sothern should make an attractive and inspiring Romeo; Miss Marlowe as Juliet has already received volumes of praise for her performances in the past. Seats go on sale tomorrow.

Robbed in a Church.

Herbert Reader was robbed of a gold watch and chain and a number of small articles in the Christian church building in Ninth avenue, Homestead, yesterday. Reader was assisting in making repairs in the building and had placed his coat and vest in a pew. During his absence the pockets were rifled of their contents. The thief overlooked $50 in the vest.

Lecturer in Oriental Costumes.

Miss Alice Azheem of Beirut, Syria, will speak in oriental costume before the Second Presbyterian church congregation in the German Evangelical church, Smithfield street and Sixth avenue, at 7:30 o'clock this evening, on "Echoes From the East." Pastor S. Edward Young will follow her address with his regular Bible study.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S STRENGTH GROWS

Conservative New York Republicans Say He Will Carry the State by 75,000.

OUTLOOK PLEASES FORAKER

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.

Congressman James S. Sherman of Utica says when he made a tour of the upper part of New York state just after President Roosevelt's nomination conservative Republicans told him he might carry the state. About a month later he heard from the same sources that Roosevelt would not only be elected, but would surely carry the state. A little later the same people were saying Roosevelt would carry New York by from 35,000 to 40,000. Mr. Sherman says he has just been through the same localities and the political wiseacres are now saying Roosevelt will carry the state by 75,000.

"If the sweep of Roosevelt sentiment continues," said Mr. Sherman, "I am thinking it will look to my enthusiastic Republican friends like a unanimous victory in the state for the president."

Senator Joseph Foraker of Ohio came to New York today, after an extended speaking tour in the west. He is at the Waldorf-Astoria and will go to Washington tomorrow afternoon. He spoke in Michigan, Iowa, Illinois and Ohio and made 14 speeches in all. He is entirely satisfied with the situation and regards the prospect as favoring the election of President Roosevelt.

John I. Platt, editor of the Poughkeepsie Eagle, predicts President Roosevelt's majority in New York state will be at least 75,000, and probably 100,000. He has heard of no Republicans who will refuse to support the ticket, and he says the loss caused by the return of the gold Democrats to their former party allegiance will be fairly offset by the Bryan Democrats, many of whom will vote for President Roosevelt. He regards the situation up the state as not unlike that of four years ago, when McKinley's majority was 143,000. The president's personality appeals strongly to all classes of voters, and particularly to the younger element. They commended him for his strong adherence to the principles of peace.

The list of speakers for the great Republican mass meeting that will be held under the auspices of the Republican club at Madison Square Garden on the night of October 10 includes Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, Secretary Leslie M. Shaw and Charles A. Knight of California.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN PIG IRON CONSUMPTION

Excessive Demands for September, With Orders for Future Delivery on Increasing Scale.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Pig iron consumption in September was the best of any month since April. Demands for foundry and forge pig iron were in excess of the orders filled in July or August and the orders for future delivery were on an increasing scale.

Several of the large merchant interests are out of the market, having sold to the capacity of their furnaces for the entire fourth quarter.

The United States Steel Corporation, although not in the pig iron market, has aided in promoting stability here, as elsewhere, by its refusal to book contracts at present prices beyond the first quarter of 1905.

PUBLIC DRINKING TROUGHS FOR THE CATS AND DOGS

New York Society Has Placed Water Basins in Various Parts of the City.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—One hundred drinking basins for cats and dogs were padlocked to lamp posts in various parts of the city today. The nucleus for the fund with which they were purchased was donated by Mrs. Fiske.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals wished to have the basins provided during the hot weather, but were delayed by the necessity for getting permits. The basins are of iron, painted and bronzed, and are plainly marked with the society's name. Arrangements have been made with Dr. Woodbury for the men of the street cleaning department to keep the basins cleaned and filled with fresh water.

"There are 300 drinking fountains for man and beast in the city," said President Haines of the society today, "but they are not nearly adequate. Animals suffer greatly sometimes for lack of water, and as soon as we have additional funds for this purpose at our disposal we shall put more of these basins where they are most needed."

POISONED BY TOADSTOOLS.

Two Children and Their Parents Seriously Affected by Fungi.

Isaac Hoffman, assistant superintendent of the Edgar Thomson furnaces at Braddock, his wife and two children, aged 8 and 12, respectively, are in a serious condition at their home in Bessemer avenue, East Pittsburgh, the result of eating toadstools, mistaken for mushrooms.

The children gathered the toadstools near their home on Monday night, and they were prepared and served for breakfast yesterday morning. No ill effects were noticed until nearly 10 o'clock, when Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman were taken seriously ill. Soon after the two children returned home from school, having been taken ill. After Dr. James A. Miller worked with the victims for three hours he pronounced Mrs. Hoffman and one of the children out of danger, but Mr. Hoffman and the other child are yet critically ill and may die.

BATTLESHIP OHIO IS PLACED IN COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The battleship Ohio was placed in commission at San Francisco today, with Capt. L. C. Logan in command. The Ohio will make a short cruise along the Pacific coast to shake down her machinery and ultimately will be attached to the Asiatic fleet. The late President McKinley was present at the launching of the Ohio at the Union Iron works three and a half years ago.

HILL SPEAKS ON PANAMA ISSUE

Declares That President Roosevelt Violated Plain Treaty Obligations and Constitution.

MIGHT HAVE USED MONEY

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Former United States Senator David B. Hill made his first speech in the Democratic campaign here tonight before the Albany Constitution club. The Young Men's Democratic club marched to the hall in a body, and there was a large attendance of Albany Democrats.

Mr. Hill said the subject he particularly proposed to discuss was "The Lawlessness of President Roosevelt Displayed in the Panama Affair." The Democratic platform, he said, intended to assert that President Roosevelt did, in the Panama affair, violate plain treaty obligations, plain international usages and the Constitution of the United States.

"The president," continued Mr. Hill, "told congress that, as proof that he held the 'mandate of civilization' to recognize Panama, as he did, was to be found in the promptness with which 20 governments had followed his lead. He made no account of the fact that he had, by the exercise of force, created and upheld the independence of Panama, and that those foreign governments were none of them, like the United States, under a treaty pledge to maintain the sovereignty of Colombia.

"Why need President Roosevelt have wielded the 'big stick' in behalf of the French company, then chaffering, lobbying and huckstering at Bogota, as it had been for a quarter of a century? What influence, bad for the United States, would have been exerted by paying a few millions more or less, in comparison with international law violated by the president of the United States; a public obligation, like that in the treaty of 1846, repudiated by him; a plain statute disobeyed by him and executive precedents begun by him, most inconvenient and damaging in our future diplomacy.

REFUSES NOMINATION, DECLARING DEFEAT CERTAIN

ALTOONA, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The leaders of the fusion Democratic political movement in this county were embarrased today by receiving notice from Isaiah Scheeline of this city, nominated for district attorney, that he declines to allow his name on the ticket. Scheeline declared the ticket was certain to be defeated.

STATE DEPARTMENT FLOODED WITH NOMINATION PAPERS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The state department was flooded today with the nomination papers of candidates of the Prohibition and Socialist parties in the various congressional, senatorial and legislative districts of the state. This was the last day for filing papers of candidates to be voted for in November.

RAISED RACE ISSUE AND ADMIRAL SCHLEY

Senator Culberson and Senator-Elect Rayner Address Democrats of Baltimore.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
BALTIMORE, Oct. 4.—The Democrats of Baltimore had their first formal campaign rally tonight. Addresses were made by United States Senator C. A. Culberson of Texas, Senator-elect Isador Rayner of Maryland and candidates for congress from the Baltimore districts. Gov. Edwin Warfield presided. Senator Culberson arraigned the administration for alleged errors of omission and commission made during the past few years, touched upon the race question and referred to Admiral Schley, "who had been ignored by the Republican leaders."

Mr. Rayner also touched on the race question, saying among other things:

"The time will never come when you can combine and amalgamate the races; and the attempt of the president in this direction is the dream of a fanatic and a visionary one, which will never be realized."

Mr. Rayner took up the Schley controversy.

"The president," he said, "promised to give Admiral Schley a fair hearing. He broke his promise, and was guilty of duplicity."

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child.

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package, costing but 50 cents at any drug store, made a complete cure, and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yemmeisler, La Crosse, Wis.: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried, and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends, who have also had the same benefits."

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: "I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for 6 years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets."

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: "I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend, who also suffered from indigestion, and she had the same good results."

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Cadillac, Mich.: "I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of Indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for STOMACH TROUBLES ONLY, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

MURDERED WIFE; KILLED HIMSELF

Allegheny Man Ended Years of Quarreling by a Double Tragedy.

WANTED TO GET HER MONEY

Because his wife refused to withdraw money she had deposited in a building and loan association George Staudemyr, aged 52, of 1408 Hutson street, Allegheny, shot the woman dead and killed himself with the same revolver. The shooting occurred at their home at 10:45 yesterday morning and was witnessed by no one. The woman, who was 40 years old, was shot through the head and in the neck, and died while being taken to the Allegheny General hospital. Staudemyr put a bullet into his right temple and was dead when found.

According to the neighbors, the couple had not been living happily for several years. Quarrels are said to have been frequent, but it is not known the husband ever attempted violence before. He was employed as a foreman at the American Locomotive works in Preble street and was an expert mechanic. There is evidence the deed was premeditated, as Staudemyr did not go to work yesterday morning. His son William, who is employed at the locomotive works, tried to persuade his father to go to work, but failed.

Husband and wife were quarreling when William and Charles, a younger son, went to work at 7 o'clock. Oscar and Albert, aged 13 and 7, respectively, were sent to school. The only daughter, Mary, aged 12, also went out. The controversy became more bitter. At 10:45 o'clock neighbors heard two revolver shots and then a third.

Policeman John Heil arrived in time to give support to Mrs. Staudemyr, who had run into the street with blood gushing from her wounds. A call was sent to a patrol station and the woman was hurried to the hospital. She died en route. Staudemyr was found dead in the dining room, where he had committed the tragedy.

Word was sent to the Sixth ward school, where the two little lads were in class. Their grief was pitiable when they reached their home, so quickly saddened for them. Amos Staudemyr, a maried son who lives in McKees Rocks, took charge of the bodies.

TALKED NIGHT SCHOOLS AND ELECTED TEACHERS

Allegheny Board of School Controllers Put in an Evening on Routine Work.

The Allegheny board of school controllers discussed the night school question, listened to a speech by Dr. V. Losa of Pittsburgh, thanking the members for interest shown in the immigrants, and elected a number of teachers for the several schools last night.

The night schools discussion was occasioned by a motion by A. C. Latimer that night school be held but four nights a week and the course be extended one month to make up for the lost night. Mr. Latimer argued that the majority of the night school attendants were men, and that they needed an extra night of rest. He also said many of the night school scholars were foreigners who would be better for the rest. Opponents of the motion argued that the sooner the foreigner could acquire a knowledge of the language the better. Dr. Losa assured the members that the education of the immigrant was rapidly assisting in the assimilation of the great numbers who are constantly coming to this country. He declared that education would make the foreigner an ideal citizen.

The work of the meeting was routine, President D. B. Oliver being absent, his place was filled by William D. McGill. The following teachers, recommended by the several boards of the various wards, were elected:

Second ward, Miss Della Wagner; Third ward, Miss Della McCullough; Fifth ward, Elizabeth Smith; Sixth ward, Clara Miller; Seventh ward, Miss Edna Shannon; Tenth ward, Mary DeWolf; Eleventh ward, Mary Sanders.

Recommendations by the industrial school committee for a teacher in cooking for the Eleventh ward school and an assistant teacher in sewing to be used jointly by the Fifth and Sixth wards, were approved.

The High school committee reported the formation of a class in French.

Supt. John Morrow reported the attendance better than last September by 487. He attributed the decrease last fall to the smallpox scare.

"THE RESURRECTION" HOLDS LARGE AUDIENCE IN SPELL

Banda Rossa's Rendition of Perosi's Masterpiece of Religious Music a Great Success.

The Banda Rossa at the exposition last night, with its rendition of the great oratorio by Perosi, "The Resurrection of Christ," held spellbound a vast audience, while Sorrentino led his men through the religious themes of this master work of devotional music. So perfect were the shading and expression that people leaned forward in their seats, not to miss a note of the delicate ecclesiastical strains in the introduction, the sweet celestial melody in the duet of the angels, the exalted theme of "Christ in the Garden," and the eternal devotion in the "Song of Magdalen." The grand finale blare and burst of melody and volume, "Hallelujah," brought many of the audience to their feet. The band seemed lost in a maelstrom of holy melody, pierced through and through by the deep intonations of a church bell.

The applause at the conclusion of this master effort was deafening. Nothing could restrain the delight of the great audience nor limit their appreciation. So great was the manifestation of pleasure from the people that Mr. Sorrentino has decided to put this production on again tonight for a second reading. It will be the third number in the second concert and will go on about 9:45.

Especially noteworthy, also, was the rendition of Schumann's "The Voice of Love." This dainty composition was played with masterly delicacy.

The United Boys' brigade of Allegheny visited the exposition last night, headed by a band and filled both halls with groups of bright boys in natty uniforms. The programs this afternoon are as follows:

2 P. M.

March—"The Charlatan".....Sousa
Overture—"If I Were King".....Adam
"Sonata Pathetique".....Beethoven
Grand selection from "La Traviata," act 4th.....Verdi

Prayer from "Forza del Destino".....Verdi
Incidental trumpet solo, Sig. Bottega.
Waltz—"Toujours ou Jamais".....Waldteufel
Grand Fantasie from "L'Oro del Reno".....Wagner
March—"Southern Smiles".....Kelly

ATTEMPTED TO ESCAPE ON WAY TO WORKHOUSE

Harry Diehn, the professional thief, who was sent to the workhouse yesterday by Magistrate Stewart for three months, attempted to make his escape while being taken to Claremont. Officer Robert Holmes, who had him in charge, noticed Diehn working his free right hand with the handcuff on the other hand. He caught Diehn's right hand and forced it open, showing inside a key that had been filed down to fit the lock. The prisoner was unable to use it successfully because of the awkward position he was sitting in. He was safely landed in prison.

Populists File Petition.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The petition in behalf of the state and electoral tickets nominated by the Populist party was filed today with the secretary of state. Every county in the state is represented. Alfred J. Boulton of Kings county was named for governor.

The Allegheny Teachers' Institute will be held Saturday, October 8, in the hall of the High school annex. The session will begin at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Lucy A. Yendes, editor of the New Education, Ideal and Practical, will address the meeting.

CANNOT FILL DEMAND FOR HIGH-GRADE BONDS

Banks and Trust Companies Will Take Them on a 4½ Per Cent Basis.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Bond houses generally report they cannot fill the demand for really high grade bonds except by bidding a price which they regard as unjustified. One or two of the houses which specialize in underlying bonds not often quoted are picking these up wherever they can get them, and find banks and trust companies will take them on a 4¼ per cent to 4½ per cent basis very gladly. This is mostly over-the-counter business and requires some special knowledge, but is at present the most profitable part of the bond business.

There is a distinctly improving demand from London and the continent for the underlying bonds of industrial companies of fairly assured earning capacity. The tone generally is good and cheerful, and probably the only congestion in the bond market is in a number of traction issues for which no real market has ever been made.

Even in this respect the outlook shows signs of improvement.

COMBINE DID NOT BOOST NORTHERN PACIFIC STOCK

So Declares Employe of J. P. Morgan in Suit Brought by One Who Was "Squeezed."

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Charles Steele, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., appeared as a witness today in the suit of J. J. O'Leary, of Chicago, against a local broker to recover $55,000 for loss on Northern Pacific stock in May, 1901.

Mr. Steel said that on or about May 9, Morgan & Co. held about $20,000,000 of stocks of the Northern Pacific. He declared this had been purchased because the concern wanted it. At no time, he said, was there any agreement between Morgan & Co. and J. J. Hill concerning the control of the road.

Mr. Steel declared there had been no conferences between J. P. Morgan & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Company with respect to fixing the price of Northern Pacific stock. The witness said Morgan & Co. had fixed $150 a share as the price at which "shorts" could settle, because it was thought to be a fair valuation of the stock.

ATTRIBUTES RESTORED HEALTH TO PRAYER

Woman Who Had Been an Invalid Four Years Experiences Remarkable Cure.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

TERRE HAUTE, IND., Oct. 4.—Sister Clementine, who was Miss Nellie Lukin, of Richmond, Ind., has been at St. Marys of the Woods for four years an invalid. She has just been restored to health and attributes the change to prayer.

"On the anniversary of the birth of the Blessed Mother," she said, "I went to the chapel with the assistance of my crutches and prayed that on the anniversary of His mother's birth He listen to the prayer of a poor, suffering creature, and in honor of His mother to restore me to health and strength. I prayed as I never prayed before. Leaving the chapel I felt a strange feeling come over me. I left the chapel without my crutches.

Bishop Chatard and several physicians have visited St. Marys and say that the cure is most remarkable.

BOND ISSUE NO GOOD.

Braddock Discovers That Its Special Election Was Illegal—Worthless Securities Sold in New York.

The election in Braddock, August 2, for a bond issue of $113,326.57, was yesterday declared illegal, and the bonds will not be sold. The $70,000 worth of school bonds also goes to the financial waste basket.

Braddock is in the same boat as six other municipalities in Allegheny county. The number of towns in the state which will hold funerals has not been determined, but it will run into new figures. It is the result of a law passed by the legislature last year, changing the form on bond ballots. Instead of depositing slips stating "Debts May be Increased," or "No Increase of Debt," ballots must have "Yes" or "No," with a blank in which to mark an X. It will not be possible to hold the bond election in Braddock before the next spring election.

The Braddock school board last evening discussed the bond situation. A meeting will be held this evening, to decide what shall be done and when to do it. The school board's bonds were sold last week to a New York firm.

KILLED BY TRAINS.

Unknown Austrian Struck Near Beaver Falls—Two Section Hands Run Down at Massillon, O.

BEAVER FALLS, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—An unknown Austrian, aged 40, was struck by the Louprex Limited on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad near here today and instantly killed.

JOHNSTOWN, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Charles Williams, a track walker, was almost instantly killed near mine No. 33 at Windber today, by a train. He was just married Sunday.

MASSILLON, O., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Arthur Schwertzler and Thomas Nolan, aged 19, section hands, were killed by a Pennsylvania train this afternoon.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Salvatore Argentina, a Sicilian laborer on the Wabash railroad, was killed this evening at Stringers, near Rush run by being run over.

CAPTAIN J. S. NESBIT DEAD.

His Body Found in Iowa—Twice Candidate for Congress in Twenty-seventh Pennsylvania District.

INDIANA, PA., Oct. 4.—Word has been received here of the death of Capt. James S. Nesbit, formerly of Indiana, but for several years a resident of Avon, Idaho. He was 70 years of age, and is survived by his wife and nine children. On September 10 he wandered from his home and his body was found September 16.

At one time he was prominent in politics in Indiana county, being the nominee for congress in the Twenty-seventh district in 1891 and 1893. In the civil war he was the captain of Company F, Fifty-fifth regiment. After the war he was the head of the drug firm of Nesbit & Lewis.

Window Glass Factory Burned.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Fire destroyed the window glass factory of the W. R. Jones Company, together with a small stock of window glass, tonight. Five box cars of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad also burned. The loss to the W. R. Jones Company is estimated at $65,000, with $34,000 insurance. The cause of the fire is not known.

Structural Iron Workers Strike.

SHARON, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The union structural iron workers employed in the erection of the Driggs-Seabury Ordnance Corporation's plant struck today. It is alleged that William Mulaney, sub-contractor, refused to recognize the union or pay union wages and imported men from Butler and Pittsburgh, but only seven have remained at work.

Pittsburgh District Conference.

IRWIN, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The fall conference of the Primitive Methodist church of the Pittsburgh district opened this morning for a two days' session, with the Rev. George Lees of Sutersville presiding. Reports showed that churches in the district were in excellent condition, with the exception of the church at Shawnee, O. It was decided to give the church the aid necessary.

Dalzell Speaks at Dennison, O.

URICHSVILLE, O., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Congressman Dalzell of Pennsylvania and Judge Smyser of Wooster, Republican candidate for congress in the Seventeenth district addressed one of the largest political gatherings in Tuscarawas county at the opera house in Dennison tonight. A street parade before the speaking was the biggest demonstration in the history of the county.

BARTHOLDI DIES OF TUBERCULOSIS

Sculptor Who Carved the Statue of Liberty Passes Away in Paris.

POINTS OF HIS CAREER

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

PARIS, Oct. 4.—Frederick Auguste Bartholdi, the sculptor, died this morning of tuberculosis. His wife and some of her relatives were at the bedside.

During the last days he was able to work he realized the end could not be far off, so he designed his own tombstone. This will show an allegorical figure holding out a laurel wreath. It was completed the day before Bartholdi took to his bed.

He leaves an uncompleted, important group intended to be erected in Paris in honor of the Aeronauts who distinguished themselves at the siege of Paris.

For days past former students, models and sculptors had been calling at Bartholdi's residence making anxious inquiries.

Frederick Auguste Bartholdi was born at Colmar in 1833. He began his artistic career as a painter. He was yet a young man, however, when he experienced an overpowering attraction for sculpture, for which his success in the production of a bas-relief of Francesca Di Rimini was perhaps chiefly responsible. He executed this at the age of 19.

In the Franco-German war Bartholdi fought as a volunteer, but the war over he returned at once to sculpture and executed "Lion De Belfort," a daring and colossal monument in solid rock to the heroism of a beleaguered garrison. This won for him the cross of the Legion of Honor, and later he was made an officer of the legion. The Statue of Liberty, which he carved and which was presented by the people of France to the people of the United States, is a lasting monument to his skill. The unveiling and dedication of the Statue of Liberty in 1886 was an event that called notables from everywhere and was a notable affair. Probably he is to be seen at his best in his Lafayette and Washington, which was presented to the city of Paris, and which is to be seen in the Place De Etat-Unis, in that city. A replica, the gift of Charles Broadway Rouss, is in Morningside park, New York.

The Statue of Lafayette, in Union square, New York, is also his work. At the Centennial exposition of 1876 Barrholdi first became intimately known to Americans through his "Genius in the Grasp of Misery," "Peace and "The Young Vine Grower," all in bronze, for which he received the gold medal for sculpture.

WOULD HAVE HEALTH OFFICER IN CABINET

World's Tuberculosis Congress Suggests This as Method of Suppressing the White Plague.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—At the International Tuberculosis congress today resolutions were adopted in part as follows:

That it is the imperative duty of all civilied governments to take immediate action for the arrest of the spread of tuberculosis; that every government should appoint a commissioner of the public health with a seat in the cabinet, empowered with adequate authority and means to suppress the scourge; and that it is the duty of government authorities to promote the establishment and maintenance of municipal sanitariums in which tubercular patients may be isolated.

Dr. J. Jacobson of Havana, Cuba, suggested that a prize should be offered to the physician who reported the largest number of cases of tuberculosis in a community.

FOSTER UNDER TRIAL.

Chief of Carnegie Borough Fire Department Is Suspended While Charges Are Being Probed.

The Carnegie borough council held a special meeting last night to investigate the charges made by Edward Flood, captain of No. 1 Volunteer hose company, against Fire Chief George Foster, but will not make public the decision until this morning. Capt. Flood and his witnesses testified that Foster used ungentlemanly language at a fire. Foster is suspended pending the investigation.

The Ben Avon borough council decided last night to widen Brighton road from 40 feet to 50 feet. The street will also be paved. The garbage contract was let to C. A. Darling at 10 cents a can.

The street committee of Avalon council last night recommended that the approach to the bridge between Bellevue and Avalon be not built until the ground becomes municipal property.

Postmaster J. C. Grier of Allegheny sent a communication to Bellevue councils meeting last night, saying Bellevue is in danger of having her mail service discontinued in certain parts of the borough if the streets are not repaired.

Millvale council last night decided to purchase a lot in Sedgwick street, near Lincoln avenue, for the purpose of erecting a municipal building. C. T. Lippert sold it at cost, about $3,500. Council instructed the street commissioner to notify property holders that sidewalks must be in good repair within 10 days. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company informed council that the nuisance of freight trains blocking the Bridge street crossing would be abated immediately. A petition from business men of Millvale asking the borough to install an incandescent light plant was referred to the water and light committee.

"BANZAI," CRY REFUGEES.

Party of 700 Japanese, Arriving in Berlin from Russia, Greet Their Countrymen.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—Seven hundred Japanese refugees from Russia arrived in Berlin today. They did not leave the two trains which brought them. The Japanese minister and other members of the legation, the consul of Japan, a committee of the Red Cross society and missionaries with the New Testament in the Japanese language gathered to greet the refugees, but were not allowed to approach the train, the railroad authorities affirming that it would be contrary to the regulations to permit non-employes to cross the tracks. The travelers greeted their fellow countrymen with prolonged cries of "Banzai," and the Japanese minister waved his hat. The refugees sail from Bremen for home October 20.

HONORED MEMORY OF "GOLDEN RULE" JONES

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—The American League of Municipalities today held a memorial session in honor of the memory of the late Mayor Samuel M. Jones of Toledo, O. A resolution was adopted that the secretary shall receive an annual salary of $2,400. He shall issue a monthly bulletin which shall be distributed to the mayors and aldermen of each city represented in the league. The delegates represent 120 leading cities of the country.

DANGER LURKS IN EVEN AN EMPTY WHISKY BARREL

Jacob Brunot, an aged resident of Greenock, a settlement on the Youghiogheny river, above McKeesport, had an experience yesterday that he will not soon forget. He was boring a hole in an empty whisky barrel with a hot poker. Sparks from the wood fell inside and a stunning explosion followed. Pieces of the barrel struck Brunot, mangling one of his hands, lacerating his mouth and knocking several teeth out.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SCORES A VICTORY

Supreme Court of New Hampshire Declares the Treatment Is Legal.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CONCORD, Oct. 4.—The legality of the practice of Christian Science in New Hampshire was upheld by the supreme court of the state today, in a decision handed down in the suit of Mrs. Jennie Spead of this city to recover damages for alleged injuries as the result of treatment by Irving W. Tomlinson, a Christian Science practitioner. Mrs. Spead claimed Tomlinson had failed to cure her of the illness for which he treated her, and that her cure was greatly delayed by the time spent in taking his treatment. The case was decided in favor of the defendant in the lower court, but the plaintiff appealed.

The supreme court now affirms the decision and dismisses the bill. In substance the court holds the practice of Christian Science is legal, and that patients who have resorted to such treatment cannot recover any damages in case the practitioner uses the Christian Science method of treatment.

The plaintiff claimed damages on three grounds—negligence, deceit and breach of warrantry.

FIREMEN HEAR REPORTS OF SECRETARY AND TREASURER

Greensburg Delegation Arrives at Erie, 115 Strong, and Accompanied by a Fine Band.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ERIE, Oct. 4.—The silver anniversary of the Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania opened its annual convention in the Park Opera house at 10 o'clock this forenoon, with 1,000 delegates in attendance. The reports of Treasurer A. L. Richenback of Allentown and Secretary W. W. Wonder of Reading were heard.

Among the delegations which arrived this afternoon was that of Greensburg, 115 strong, and having a fine band. There is a hot fight for the presidency between O. J. Henry of Allentown and Dr. G. W. Bernthetzel. In connection with the business transacted today was the adoption of a resolution urging every volunteer company in the state to make application for 2½ per cent of the insurance tax.

When the fire companies parade here on Thursday the position of honor at the head will be given to the Volunteer Firemen's Association of Buffalo and the Exempt Firemen's Association of Philadelphia.

SUTERVILLE BURGESS HAS B. & O. EMPLOYES ARRESTED

Right of Way Claimed by Company Takes in Streets and Sites of Business Buildings.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WEST NEWTON, Oct. 4.—The Baltimore & Ohio railroad employes and the burgess of Suterville clashed this morning. C. S. Hesiep, of the engineering corps of the road, with his assistants, began to locate posts defining the limits of the right of way claimed by the company. This includes the greater part of the public roads on either side of the tracks, the posts, several feet in height, standing in the middle of the highways, the most important in town, and portions of the sites of business buildings.

Engineer Hesiep and his men were ordered under arrest by Burgess Kellner and held under forfeit for a hearing tomorrow. Both sides are acting under legal advice. Burgess Kellner says he will organize a posse armed with guns to resist the encroachments of the railroad, if necessary.

FARM LIFE IN CITY.

Novelty Club Will Give Actual Corn Husking Dance at Lyceum.

The Novelty club will open the winter social season of the Catholic lyceum with a corn husking dance tonight, at the rooms in Washington street. It is currently reported that some intending visitors will go to the dance with red ears of corn concealed about their person, but a strict watch will be kept fur such ringers, fair play being the motto of this entertainment.

The hall will be decorated with ears of corn, pumpkins and other seasonable farm products, so that the dance will be a life-like reproduction of a harvest home social in the country.

William Duffy will be the floor manager. The following are the chairmen of the committees: Raymond Costello, door; Daniel Carr, cloak room; James Garrigan, refreshments; Neil Collins, platform, and H. R. Curren, reception.

TIN PLANT TO RESUME.

Monongahela Works at South Fifteenth Street Will Start Operations on Monday.

The Monongahela works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company at South Fifteenth street, will resume operations next Monday morning. The company has given notice that all hot-mill employes should report to foreman not later than Friday of this week to be assigned to their proper crews.

The resumption of this plant is another evidence of the quickening in the iron and steel industry. The sheet and tin plate end of the steel business has not been depressed, however, at any time as much as were some other lines.

FAVOR THE CREATION OF HIGH SCHOOL INSPECTOR

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—A resolution favoring the creation of an inspector of high schools, with all the powers of a deputy superintendent of public instruction, was adopted by the state college and university council of Pennsylvania, here today. Gov. Pennypacker was re-elected president, and Superintendent of Public Instruction Schaeffer, secretary.

Ex-Confederates Attended Reunion.

JOHNSTOWN, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—At the reunion of the Fifty-fourth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, today, the Hon. W. Horace Rose delivered the principal address. Col. R. T. Barton of Winchester, Va., and Charles C. Greer, city solicitor of Johnstown, spoke. About 30 members of Turner Ashby camp, confederate veterans of Winchester, Va., were present. It was with these confederates that the Fifty-fourth had a hard fight at the battle of New Market. This evening there was a camp fire.

Apologies to British Ambassador.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, has told Secretary Hay that he is satisfied with the apologies offered by the governor of Massachusetts, Magistrate Phelps of Lee, Mass., and a policeman of the latter's court, for the arrest of Hugh Gurney, third secretary of the British embassy, for over-speeding his automobile.

Rails to be Laid in December.

LORAIN, O., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Chief Engineer G. W. Gist of the Lake Erie & Pittsburgh railroad is authority for the statement that rails will be laid in December. The contract has been let to Marsh & Bingham of Chicago and the Lorain steel mills will furnish the rails.

New Railroad Yards Completed.

CONNELLSVILLE, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The new electric interlocking switch and signal system in the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yards was put in operation today, marking the completion of one of the most modern railroad yards in the country and representing an expenditure of almost $1,000,000.

Work for 1,000 Men.

LORAIN, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Supt. F. C. Lamorche, of the local ship yard, stated today that the new steamer to be built for the Smith syndicate of Syracuse will be constructed here. This means the employment of 1,000 men on three boats to be built during the winter.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Chicago at Boston.
St. Louis at New York.

The Pirates got back home yesterday from the most disastrous eastern trip the team has had in years, and celebrated their return by taking a 4-to-3 fall out of their old-time enemy and rival for third place honors, the Cincinnati Reds. By taking yesterday's game the locals made it even up on the season's series with the Reds, each team having won eleven games.

The pitchers yesterday were "Noodles" Hahn for the Reds and Lynch for the Pirates, and while the contest was to some extent a pitchers' battle, yet there was pitting enough to keep the fielders busy and gave the 1,450 spectators a run for their money. This lively thumping of the ball made the players exert themselves and some pretty as well as some very ugly plays were turned in. Seymour of the Reds contributed the prettiest play of the afternoon when he went into deep field and gathered in Phelps' bid for a three-base hit. The poor plays were furnished by "Oom Paul" Kruger, who muffed one fine chance for a double play and booted other balls about the field.

The Pirates had the luck of the game with them and managed to bunch just enough hits off Hahn's delivery to net them the runs necessary to win the game. This happened in the second and sixth innings. Lynch had all speed with him and kept the Reds' hits scattered in all but one inning, the seventh, when three singles and an out at first brought them two of their three runs. The game was a long-drawn-out affair, the players killing time by slowly going to their positions and the pitchers also took lots of time by the wind themselves up before delivering the ball.

There was nothing doing for either side in the opening inning, but in the second McCormick led off with a three-base hit to middle field and scored on Leach's infield single, on which Huggins made a wild throw which allowed Leach to reach second base. Bransfield went out on a fly, but Kruger singled to left, scoring Leach with the second run of the inning. Kruger moved to third on a wild pitch, but could get no further, as the next two batsmen were easy outs.

The other two runs were made in the sixth, which Ritchey opened with a base on balls and McCormick followed with a clever bunt. Steinfeldt secured the ball, but his aim to first was bad, the ball going to right field, allowing Ritchey to score and McCormick to reach third. The play on Ritchey at the plate was very close and the Reds kicked vigorously because he was not called out, but the decision was correct, as Schlei failed to touch him with the ball. McCormick got home on a fine single to middle field by Bransfield.

The Reds' first run was scored by Pitcher Hahn in the fifth inning, which he led off with a single to left, went to second on Seymour's out at first, took third on another out at first and scored when Kruger fumbled Sebring's grounder. It was Hahn who started the trouble in the seventh, which he led off with a single and got around on singles by Seymour and Dolan. Seymour reached third on Dolan's hit and scored on Odwell's long fly out to Beaumont. After that inning the Reds were not dangerous, as they could not gauge the curves served by Lynch. The score:

GIANTS DO ROWDY ACT.

Protested Against Decisions and Umpire Johnstone Forfeited Game.

Umpire Assaulted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Only one game and part of another of what should have been a double-header between the New York and St. Louis teams were played here today. Owing to bad playing the locals lost the first game, 7 to 3.

The second game was forfeited to the visitors in the fourth inning, when the score stood 2 to 1 in favor of St. Louis, on account of continued interruptions by several of the New York players, two of whom, Marshall and Dahlen, were put off the field. Marshall objected because Dunn, who made the circuit of the bases for a home run, was declared out by the umpire for having failed to touch the first bag. Dahlen objected because Shay was allowed a base he had stolen. Gilbert continued the protest, and, owing to the delay caused by this player and others, Umpire Johnstone forfeited the game by a score of 9 to 0 to St. Louis.

When Johnstone was on his way to his dressing room one of the spectators struck him. The man was arrested, but Johnstone refused to make any charge against him and he was released. President Pulliam, who was present, said that the umpire's action was perfectly proper and the game would stand forfeited. Score:

M'MAHON WILL LIKELY PLAY END FOR YALE

Pittsburgh Boy Taken in Hand by Frank Hinkey—Scrubs Played Hob With Princeton and Harvard.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 4.—Frank A. Hinkey took hold of the troublesome end rush on Yale field today and tried to find a brace of heavy but fleet-footed players. McMahon of Pittsburgh, formerly a tackle at Bucknell, who weighs over 180 pounds, and Leavenworth, another big, but fast runner, were given much attention. Neither has heretofore played end. Wyatt and Hare were also tried. The whole football situation is still in confusion at Yale as the coachers are seeking a center, quarterback and fullback. None of the old men in those positions are fully satisfactory. Cartwright, Gilles and Hockenberger were tried in turn against Rorabeck, but he held his own at center. Veeder and Hutchinson alternated for Rockwell who is not in condition this year to stand the pace. Shevlin is green at fullback and his inability to punt is not compensated by his rushing ability. So poor a kicker is he that Coach Mitchell pays no attention to developing him along that line. Yale will play Holy Cross tomorrow here.

PRINCETON, N. J., Octo. 4.—The Tigers showed but little improvement on the field this afternoon over the poor work of yesterday and were whipped by the scrub with almost the same disgraceful ease. To save themselves they several times found it necessary to resort to a kicking game, and as it was the scrub managed two touchdowns, one of which was made after getting the ball from the varsity on a fumble and the other by Hampson at the end of a series of good line plunges. The scrub also several times held the varsity for downs.

Cooney was moved back to his old place at left tackle and Rafferty replaced him at center, while Dutcher, who has played center most of the season was tried at left guard. During the second half, Ritter took Burke's place at quarter and of the two, handled the team with more decision and energy, but it is nevertheless probable that Burke will hold his old place in tomorrow's game with Wesleyan.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 4.—The Harvard eleven suffered the humiliation today of having the second eleven score on it. The second blocked attack and Bell fell on the ball for a touchdown behind the goal posts. The varsity, however, scored twice on the second, both times on good line bucking. The second eleven was organized today with Reggie Brown as coach of that part of the squad. There were more changes in the makeup of the elevens today. Blagden went back to left end on the varsity replacing Lockwood. Means and Pope were moved to end from the back field and both made good impressions for new men. Bob Kernan spent the afternoon coaching Nichols in punting, and the halfback improved considerably.

MRS. NEVIN WON CUP.

Edgeworth Club Woman Plays Fine Golf. A Good Match on for Today.

The women at the Edgeworth club had a 27-hole medal play competition yesterday for a cup subscribed for by the women of the club. It was won by Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr. Nine holes were played in the morning and 18 in the afternoon. There was a picnic at the summer house of Mrs. C. E. McCague near the third green. It was such a jolly affair that another will be held next Tuesday. The scores were:

Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr.	49	49	44	142 — 0 142
Mrs. F. C. Ewart	55	53	54	163 — 16 163
Mrs. E. L. Allen	57	58	60	175 — 21 154
Mrs. Robert Wardrop	61	58	54	173 — 18 155
Mrs. G. E. McCague	66	58	56	180 — 22 158
Miss Edith Taylor	52	57	51	160 — 0 159
Mrs. O. D. Thompson	52	54	54	160 — 0 160
Miss Elizabeth Wardrop	56	58	63	177 — 15 162
Mrs. G. P. Rose	80	65	61	206 — 27 179
Mrs. Wilton Luce	85	82	69	236 — 27 209

Today the big match team match between the Allegheny Country club and the Oakmont Country club will take place on the latter's links, and a large gallery will be brought out. The match is in the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association championship series. If Oakmont wins today the club will have successfully defended the title this year, as the spring match was won by it. If Allegheny wins it will call for another match between these two clubs this fall to decide the championship. Neither team has lost a match. There will be another match today in this series, Edgeworth club and the Pittsburgh Field club clashing on the former's links.

REACHED THE SEMI-FINALS.

College Tennis Cracks Put Up Some Fine Contests.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—The second day's play in the intercollegiate championship lawn tennis tournament on the courts of the Merion Cricket club, Haverford, resulted in bringing the singles to the semi-final round and in the completion of all but two matches in the first round of the doubles. The best match in the singles was between Robert Leroy of Columbia and H. H. Whitman of Harvard. Three sets were necessary for a decision, every game being hotly contested. Leroy won the deciding set. Summaries:

Singles, second round: Dewhurst, Pennsylvania, beat Sunstin, Princeton, 6-2; 11-9. Prentice, Harvard, beat Rendall, Princeton, 6-3; 6-4. Leroy, Columbia, beat Whitman, Harvard, 6-4; 4-6; 6-3. Larned, Harvard, beat Thompson, Princeton, 7-5; 6-2.

Doubles, preliminary round: Rendall and Richardson, Princeton, beat Spaulding and Stinson, Yale, 6-4; 2-6; 6-1. Sullowav and Larned, Harvard, beat Yocum and Miller, Pennsylvania, 6-2; 6-1. Smith and Northrop, Williams, won by default. Behr and Bodman, Yale, won by default. Sunstin and Thompson, Princeton, beat Lee and Fales, Haverford, 6-3; 4-6; 6-4.

First round—Rendall and Richardson, Princeton, beat Leroy and Bulkley, Columbia, 6-0; 4-6; 8-6. Sulloway and Larned, Harvard, beat Smith and Northrup, Williams, 6-1; 3-6; 6-3.

W. U. P. Team Had Fine Practice.

The W. U. P. eleven had a short signal practice after the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game at Exposition park. The practice was the best of the season. There was lots of snap in each play and every man was in the interference. Walter Zug did not practice on account of a sore foot. "Bunny" Elliott was tried at tackle and made a good showing. "Jud" Schmidt was out to practice, but he has not been feeling well since before Saturday's game with Grove City. Ritchie and Bolsen were played at fullback.

"Bucky" Veil in Fine Form.

ALTOONA, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Veil was invincible today and blanked the Johnstown team in a game that bristled with features. With two exceptions the visitors were unable to get a man past first base. Brackenridge pitched magnificent ball, and was matched up when hits meant runs. The two teams stand even in the series for the championship of Blair and Cambria counties. The score

Hard Practice for Lyceum Team.

Last night the Pittsburgh lyceum team went through its hardest practice of the season. Coach Bird paid especial attention to some of the plays that failed to work well Saturday and also to the defense. While the last two games showed the great speed of the lyceum team, the offensive play does not quite satisfy Coach Bird as yet, and he devoted considerable time to formations and also to punting and running back kicks.

Works Won by Base Running.

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Ohio Works was out-hit by Akron today, but managed to win by base-running and steady playing to defeat Akron 4 to 1. Lindsay and Dolan pitched good ball and the local man was especially effective with men on bases. Sheehan's hitting was the feature. The score:

Ohio Works	1 0 1 1 0 0 1 0 *—4	6	2

Will Play the Second Game.

The Glenshaw and Brushton teams will clash tomorrow at the Millvale grounds. This is the second game of a series and much rivalry exists over the last game. Kane and Shettler will form the battery for Glenshaw, Kinsey, Corrigan, Stauffer, Knabe, Hickey, Bertges, Ownes and J. Hahne are requested to be at the grounds at 2:30 p. m.

FUTURITY WON BY GRACE BOND

Broke Two World's Records to Win the Great Event and May Secure Third Mark.

TRACK WAS LIGHTNING FAST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 4.—Grace Bond broke at least two world's records to win the classic Kentucky futurity, worth $14,000, today, and is disputing the title for a third world's record. She gave two of the heats of the race to Alta Axworthy, the prime favorite, but made her own three heats in 2:09¾ or better, thus establishing a world's record for 3-year-old trotters. Two of the heats she raced in 2:09¼, establishing a world's 3-year-old record for two heats. When she made the first heat in 2:09¾, Starter Walker announced that she had broken a world's record. Fantasy at Nashville, in 1893, trotted a mile as a 3-year-old in 2:09¾ in the second heat of a race, but under unusual conditions. In order to allow her to make a record the distance had been waived and a pacemaker picked her up at the half mile, and she went under the wire while the bunch was turning the stretch.

Grace Bond's fractional time in her three fast heats was:

Fifth heat ..... :32½; 1:05¼; 1:37½; 2:09¾.

The race is worth $10,000 to the winner; $2,000 to second, and $1,000 to third, the rest of the money being divided among the nominators of dams. The previous event record was 2:09¾, made by Ferenl in 1900. Grace Bond won the 2-year-old division of the Futurity last year in 2:17¾. She is owned by J. Y. Gatcomb.

The Tennessee stake, 2:08 class, pacing, purse $3,000, was won by John M. in three straight heats over Angus Pointer, the ruling favorite. The record for this event was 2:05, held by Joe Patchen, 2d. John M. established a new record of 2:04¾ for the event. He made the second quarter of the second heat in :30¼.

Cares, driving Wild Wilton, and Geers driving Diadem, collided at the three-eighths pole in the second heat of the 2:14 class trot. Cares was thrown from his seat and slightly bruised. He was placed tenth in the race, which was won by Tom Axworthy, the favorite, in straight heats. The track was lightning fast. Summaries:

SONGS OF PRAISE TO BE REVISED

Two Psalmody Conventions of the United Presbyterians of the Country.

TASK MAY TAKE FOUR YEARS

Psalmody is engaging the attention of the United Presbyterian church, and yesterday a committee appointed by the general assembly last year met to prepare a program for two conventions next year, met. Next week a commission engaged in revising the present metrical versions of the psalms will meet. The movement for another version is entirely separate from the proposed psalmody conventions, the former being a project of the psalm-singing churches, the latter being a project of the general assembly which met at Tarkio, Mo., last year.

The psalmody conventions will not be held till next year, one in Pittsburgh on November 7, 1905, the other in Monmouth, Ill., on November 14. While many volumes have been written on psalmody, there has been no general public discussion of the question in the United Presbyterian church for many years, although psalms only are sung in that church.

The general assembly committee met yesterday morning at the Allegheny Theological seminary and remained in session until after 6 p. m. The members are the Rev. Dr. John McNaugher, the Rev. Dr. David R. Miller, the Rev. Dr. John A. Henderson, all of Pittsburgh and Allegheny; the Rev. Dr. Joseph Kyle, formerly of Pittsburgh, now of Xenia, O.; the Rev. Dr. James A. Reed of New York and the Rev. Dr. J. C. Taggart of East Liverpool, O. Dr. Taggart was the only absentee.

The committee agreed on the dates and place for the two conventions and worked on a program. As the speeches delivered are to be published in book form, the most eminent ministers of the faith will be selected.

The conventions will be alike in object, two being held so that the eastern and western members of the church shall not be obliged to travel too far. The subjects discussed will be the same, but there will be different speakers on psalmody in its doctrinal, practical, literary and historical aspects.

The committee yesterday selected a few of the men who will compose the finance committee to raise funds. J. W. McGinniss of Pittsburgh is the treasurer. For Pittsburgh, Drs. McNaugher, Henderson and Miller were appointed a local committee.

The commission appointed to discuss the revision of the existing metrical versions of the psalms will meet in Pittsburgh on December 28. The movement was begun about eight years ago by the Covenanters, and in the course of time the following churches joined the movement and their general assemblies appointed members to act on the commission, 15 in all: Presbyterian, Associate Reformed, Reformed Presbyterian, Reformed church, Canada Presbyterian and Associate Reformed of the South.

The Rev. Dr. David Reed Miller and the Rev. Dr. D. A. McClenahan are Pittsburgh members of the commission. The commission will prepare a metrical version of the psalms, which will be submitted to the general assemblies of the churches concerned. The assemblies will overture the new version to the presbyteries. The presbyteries may reject or accept the version in whole or in part, and may propose emendations and then return them to the general assemblies. There being much opportunity for delay, the subject may still be under discussion even after 1908.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ROOMS OPENED FOR VIEW

Members Pleased With Their Quarters in The Gazette Building, Where Housewarming Was Held.

The members of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon attended an informal reception and housewarming in their new quarters on the third floor of The Gazette building, at Oliver avenue and Wood street. There were no formalities beyond cigars and sweet music by a string orchestra. The luxury of the surroundings offered sufficient excuse for all the praise which the members gave themselves and their organization.

The rooms were decorated in palms, American beauty roses and radiant autumn leaves, which adorned the chandeliers and the tall columns of the room, the floral embellishments harmonizing in excellent taste with the mahogany and green in the furnishing of the rooms. Behind a painted screen decked with frost-nipped boughs from the woods the orchestra was seated, and its music seemed to flow in exultant measures.

The rooms have been fully described in The Gazette, but the majority of yesterday's visitors had formed little conception of the extent to which the decorator's art had been used. The assembly room provides seats for 200 persons, and, aside from the quarters of the New York chamber of commerce, the rooms are said to be the finest in the country. The first regular monthly meeting in the new rooms will be held tomorrow.

SOCIETY

THREE Pittsburgh girls, Miss Gertrude Childs, Miss Louise Kay and Miss Jean McGinley, are members of a house party now being entertained by Miss Elizabeth Potter of Chestnut hill. Miss Potter's wedding to William Goodman is dated for Monday, October 10. It is to be a large church affair, followed by an equally large and brilliant reception at the home of the bride's father, William Potter. The three Pittsburgh members of the house party will be among the bridesmaids who will attend Miss Potter on her wedding day, each of them having been a Farmington schoolmate of the bride-elect. Miss Potter has visited in Pittsburgh on many occasions, her hostesses being the girls whom she has now chosen as her bridesmaids.

Miss Potter, through her visits in Pittsburgh, has made hosts of friends here, but her fiance is not so well known. Miss Kay, Miss Childs and Miss McGinley will return home shortly after the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. James R. McGinley and the younger members of the family are now in New York, having gone there from their summer place in Manchester-by-the-sea. Miss McGinley, whose engagement to Edward S. Moore of New York was recently announced, will be married in the spring. Mr. and Mrs. James S. Kay arrived in the city yesterday from New York. They had a cottage in Kennebunkport, Me., this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., will not come back to town until shortly before the wedding of Miss Lois Fleming Miller and Cameron Beach Waterman, at which Miss Gertrude Childs and Miss Kay are once more to acts as bridesmaids.

Local People at an Erie Wedding.

A party of Pittsburg and Allegheny people will leave today for Erie, where the wedding of Miss Alice Mizener and J. Boyd McKown of this city is to take place tomorrow. The party will include Mr. and Mrs. William McKown, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vincent Hukill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kellogg Hill and little Miss Margaret Hill, all of whom will leave today, expecting to return on Friday.

The wedding will take place at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Mizener, in Erie. Mrs. Frank M. Lowry, a sister of the bride, will be matron of honor, and Miss Eleanor Mizener, a niece of the bride, and Miss Margaret Hill, a niece of Mr. McKown, will be flower girls. Ralph Vincent Hukill a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, serving as best man. After an extended wedding trip, Mr. McKown and his bride will be at home in the Marlborough apartments in Darragh street, Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Hukill, who were married a few weeks ago, have just returned from their wedding trip and are now at home in Braddock avenue and Bennett street, Homewood. Mrs. Hukill was Miss Margaret J. McKown.

Informal Dinners Last Evening.

Miss Adah Graham Scott, whose wedding to Charles Gibbs will take place today, was hostess at a dinner of 14 covers last evening at her home in Stanton avenue. The dinner proceded the rehearsal for the wedding. Pink roses were used in the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Gleffer, an uncle and aunt of the bride-elect, gave a dinner at the Hotel Schenley last evening in honor of Miss Anna Converse Gleffer and Samuel Keech Kelly, whose wedding will take place today. Covers were laid for 15, the guests including the members of the bridal party with a few of Miss Gleffer's most intimate girl friends.

Capt. and Mrs. Harry Rowand entertained with an informal dinner in the Oakmont Boat club last evening, the guest of honor being Miss Alice Paul and Clarence V. Tiers, who will be married on October 19. Owing to the recent death of Mrs. Rowand's father, the affair was very informal.

Entertaining a Philadelphia Girl.

Mrs. Frederick R. Babcock of South Negley avenue was hostess at a luncheon yesterday in honor of Miss Florence Shapley of Philadelphia, the house guest of Mrs. William M. Furey of Aiken avenue. The luncheon was very small and informal and was followed by a matinee party at the Grand opera house. Mrs. G. A. Samuels of South Negley avenue will give a luncheon today in honor of Miss Shapley and tomorrow Mrs. Furey will entertain with a tea at the country club, followed in the evening by a dinner for the aids and an equal number of men. The assistants will include Mrs. G. W. Rankin, mother of the hostess; Mrs. Frederick R. Babcock, Mrs. Stephen Stone, Mrs. James Francis Burke, Mrs. G. A. Samuels, Mrs. H. D. W. English, Miss Jean Duniavy and Mrs. J. Grant Anderson.

"Mrs. Jarley" in the East End.

The young people of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church will give a performance of Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works on Thursday evening, October 13, in the hall of the East Liberty academy, Linden avenue. Mrs. George A. Gormly, for the sixty-seventh time, will be Mrs. Jarley. Among the young people who will take part in the affair are Miss Elsie McCutcheon, Miss Louise McCutcheon, Miss Jane Lloyd, Miss Mary Lloyd, the Misses Thomas, Miss Jane Peebles, Miss Marie Blackmore, Miss Janet Harmount, Miss Edith Gray, Miss Lucy Connell, Miss Edith Spicer, Miss Agnes Irvine and Mrs. Charles Woolridge.

Lieut. Hobson Will Return.

Capt. Richmond P. Hobson is expected in Pittsburgh again within the next three weeks. He will then be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Willis F. McCook of "Clover Crest," Swissvale. Mr. and Mrs. McCook have just returned from Atlantic City, where they were registered at the Marlborough for over a month. Their two younger sons, Willis J. McCook and John Ahl McCook, are students at the Newman school in Hackensack, N. J., this year. Mr. and Mrs. J. Dawson Callery's sons are also at the Newman school.

Local Women Golfers Go East.

Mrs. Elliott Rodgers, Miss Louise Elkins and Miss Mary Fownes will leave this evening for the east to take part in the women's national golf tournament, which will be conducted October 10-15 on the links of the Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia. They will be the only local women there, Mrs. Bernard S. Horne, who when Miss Bessie Anthony held the championship, and Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin, who was Miss Lucy Herron, a runner-up in the tournaments for the national championship, not attending this year.

Beall-Breading.

A pretty home wedding took place in Sewickley last evening, when Miss Lillie E. Beall, daughter of E. H. Beall, was married to Nathaniel M. Breading of Bellevue. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride by the Rev. John J. Hill, pastor of the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal church. There were no attendants. The wedding march was played by Miss Maud Davis of Fair Oaks. Mr. and Mrs. Breading left for an eastern trip, and after November 15 will be at home in Avalon.

Wedding Near Irwin Tonight.

Caleb Oliver Inskeep of McKeesport and Miss Mary Janet Larimer of near Irwin, Pa., will be married at the home of the bride's parents this evening. The ceremony is to be performed by the Rev. Dr. Oliver of the Long Run Presbyterian church. The Misses Margaret and Caroline Larimer will be bridesmaids. A. L. McFarlands will be best man.

Miss Macfarlane's Wedding.

Judge and Mrs. James R. Macfarlane, who have been in the east since Monday, will be the only Pittsburghers at the wedding of Miss Eugenie Macfarlane and Edwin Swift Balch, which is scheduled to take place today in Tewanda, N. Y. The wedding will be a very quiet home affair. The honeymoon will be spent in Europe and on their return Mr. Balch and his bride will live in Philadelphia. Miss Macfarlane is a sister of Judge Macfarlane and a cousin of Mrs. James I. Buchanan and Mrs. John M. Patterson of this city.

THE MATRON OF HONOR AT BROTHER'S WEDDING

MRS. WILLIAM FLOOD RAFFERTY,
Who will be matron of honor today at the wedding of her brother, Samuel Holland Ridall of Pittsburgh, and Miss Iva C. Gladden, in McDonald, Pa.

For Mr. and Mrs. Coyle.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dauler of Bayard street, Bellefield, entertained with an informal dinner last evening in honor of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Coyle, Jr., who were married a short time ago in Erie. The affair last evening was very informal and was marked by simple decorations. The guests included only a few of the most intimate friends of Mr. Coyle and his bride.

Farquhar-Hornbake.

CALIFORNIA, PA., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Joseph D. Hornbake, for many years justice of the peace and a worker in the Washington county Republican ranks, was married today to Mrs. Bell Farquar, a wealthy California widow, by the Rev. H. N. Cameron, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, at the residence of the bride.

Prominent Young People Married.

NEW CASTLE, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Dr. and Mrs. William C. Mechen of this city arrived today from Toledo, O., and announced their marriage in that county. The bride, who was Miss Ella Patterson, had until last Friday been teaching in the public schools. Both are members of the Mikado club, the leading musical organization of this city.

Gallaher-Eicher.

GREENSBURG, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Miss Winona Gallaher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gallaher, was married to Alexander Eicher, Jr., of Greensburg, at her home in Meisenring today.

Notes of Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Sharpless Valentine of Irwin avenue, Squirrel Hill, are home from their summer vacation. The early part of the season was spent in the Adirondacks and they were in New York for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. W. English are expected home from Philadelphia on Thursday. Mr. English went east to attend the convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Miss Ellen Sellers, Mrs. English's daughter, has resumed her studies at Bryn Mawr.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. McKay of Center avenue left on Sunday evening for New York, whence they will sail today for Europe. They expect to be gone until December.

Mrs. Robert D. Coard has cards out for an at-home on Friday, October 14, from 3 until 5 in her home in Howe street, East End.

Dr. Walter H. Fundenberg has returned to Pittsburgh after spending a couple of months with his family at their summer home near Lake George, N. Y.

A very successful minstrel show was given last evening in Carnegie hall, Allegheny, under the direction of William Woods and C. P. Mustin for the benefit of St. Joseph's orphanage.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Celebrate Silver Jubilee.

The silver jubilee, or the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Pittsburgh synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church yesterday afternoon began a three days' session in the Trinity Lutheran Evangelical church, Stockton avenue and Arch street, Allegheny. Seventy delegates, representing most of the 60 societies of the synod, registered. It is expected that at least 70 more will register today. The first sesion opened with a praise service, conducted by Mrs. J. W. Schwartz of of Worthington, Pa. The lecture room was decorated in lavender and white, in memory of Mrs. Jennie Reamer, the society's historian for years, who died a short time ago.

An address of welcome was given by Mrs. A. J. Turkle, wife of the pastor of the church. Mrs. Louis Kolb of Wilkinsburg responded in behalf of the visiting delegates and the Rev. H. C. Michael of Wilmerding presented the greetings of the Pittsburgh synod. Mrs. Margaret Fisher Culp of Richmond, Va., delivered a touching address in memory of the deceased members of the society, especially of the faithful and earnest work accomplished by Mrs. Reamer.

Mrs. C. F. Stifel of Allegheny read a paper on "Reminiscences of the Society," in which she gave a complete history of its organization and work. She also read a letter from the first president of the society, Mrs. G. W. Liescher of Boalsburg, Pa., who extended greetings to the convention and expressed regret that she could not be present.

Mrs. J. W. Schwartz presided at the evening session, which was largely attended. Mrs. Robert H. Hay, the president, delivered her annual address. She showed that the membership has increased 500 and that 22 new societies have been organized. She also stated that during the year $1,300 was collected for the silver jubilee fund and urged the adoption of the united study course. Miss Laura Wade Rice, editor of the Children's Missionary of Baltimore, talked on women's work in general and said more attention should be paid to work among foreigners.

Mrs. Margaret Baker Culp of Richmond, Va., presented Mrs. Hay with a handsomely carved gavel, the wood from which it was made having been cut from an oak tree which stood in the old graveyard at Jamestown, Va., where the first Lutheran church in America was erected.

The president appointed the following committees: Nomination—Mrs. C. B. King, Mrs. Daniel Sleign, Mrs. Mary Bruton, Mrs. Belle Moore, Mrs. W. E. Townsend. Resolution—Mrs. S. T. Hines, Mrs. Belle Thompson, Mrs. William Husar, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Mrs. C. Byers. Department secretaries—Mrs. Louis Hay, Mrs. Loyal Aggas, Miss Lillie Seel, Mrs. M. D. Cowdrick, Mrs. Louise Sheffer. President's report—Mrs. J. M. Guss, Mrs. C. F. Sanders, Mrs. G. M. Heindel, Mrs. Milton McCollough, Miss Hannah Sutton. Vice president's report—Mrs. Ella Sutton, Mrs. Van Orner, Mrs. W. H. Aggas. Minutes of 1903 convention—Mrs. D. H. Fritz, Mrs. S. N. Carpenter, Mrs. A. J. Stiltz. Corresponding secretary's report—Mrs. M. E. McLinn, Mrs. Mary Gordon, Mrs. L. C. Nolte. Auditing committee—Mrs. E. D. Burgess, Miss Mary Brickman. Credentials—Miss Eva Egester, Miss Ora Zimmerman, Miss Elsie Eckert. Auditing committee's report—Mrs. J. C. Nicholas, Mrs. Blair Clancy, Mrs. Charles Thompson. Literature chairman's report—Mrs. H. E. Burkey, Mrs. H. C. Reller, Mrs. G. F. Bardonner. Text for 1905—Mrs. H. W. Cleland, Miss Alice Rider. Mrs. Dorothy Heckman, Mrs. George. Letters and papers—Mrs. John Weidley, Mrs. H. M. Schmidt, Mrs. A. J. Losier, Mrs. J. P. Steinman.

Babies Have a Home.

The Pittsburgh Home for Babies got the deed for its property, 100x250 feet, at Center avenue and Junilla street, the price being $11,500. Mrs. M. H. Pickering, trustee for the home, took title to the property, which was formerly owned by Goldman C. Collins. The lecture house has been remodeled at considerable expense and now includes a day nursery, dining room, children's dormitories and offices.

Application has been made for a charter for the institution, which was formed last spring. This charter will provide for a charitable institution to care for 15 babies free of charge, but not until 25 babies have been admitted to the home and cared for at the rate of $2 each a week, the entrance fee being $25. There are now eight babies in the home, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 10 months. These are children one or both of whose parents are dead and who could be cared for in the home much better than elsewhere. They are fed on the most sanitary foods and treated to frequent sun and water baths, so that their health is excellent. The home is under the direct supervision of a trained graduate nurse from New York. Three girls are employed to aid her in the work. These girls, who are taken on one month's probation, receive the same pay as nurses under training. Their course of work extends over one year, and the first class will graduate next June. Next week the medical staff will begin a systematic course of lectures and quizzes for the girls.

The officers of the Pittsburgh Home for Babies are: President, Mrs. W. G. Bishop; first vice president, Mrs. A. M. Wilson; second vice president, Mrs. Jonathan A. Terkey; secretary, Mrs. Henry Finkelpearl; treasurer, Mrs. Mary C. Pickering. These officers, with the following ladies, constitute the board of directors: Mrs. A. M. Steggert, Mrs. R. P. McChesney, Mrs. Dallas Albert, Mrs. Jennie E. Wehrli, Mrs. Elijah J. Moore, Mrs. Robert McCoy, Mrs. Frances E. Balph, Mrs. Anna E. Davis, Mrs. W. D. Verder, Mrs. Moses Pickering and Mrs. E. W. Gormley. The visiting physicians are Mrs. Frank T. Lange, B. B. Wechsler, L. Kronenberg and Amelia A. Dranga. The consulting physicians are Drs. Henry Finkelpearl, Ernst Erterich and Laura P. Shrom.

Catholic Women Organize.

The organization of the Women's Catholic Santuary society with the object of furnishing the new cathedral of St. Paul the Apostle, in Fifth avenue and Craig street, Bellefield, and to erect the main altar of the cathedral is interesting Catholic women throughout the Pittsburgh diocese. Fifty thousand dollars will be needed for the purpose and this money will be raised entirely by the women who plan to make the new cathedral one of the richest and most elaborately furnished in the country.

The society will be promoted by over 100 women who pledge themselves to raise $200 each. Bishop Phelan hopes a number of women may be found who will contribute $1,000 each and 100 who will each give $100. The balance of the fund will be in the form of a popular subscription received from women throughout the diocese. In a few days the collectors will begin their work and women who have been selected to take the gifts of money will be furnished with special letters of authorization from Bishop Phelan and Coadjutor Bishop Canevin.

Several have already started the ball rolling by subscriptions of $1,000, $200 and $100. Those who donate $1,000 will have their names placed on a special tablet, while the names of other contributors and members of the society will be inscribed in a book to be called the Book of the Tabernacle, which will be placed in the main altar under the tabernacle, to remain there as long as the altar stands.

Among the women who are active in the organization of the new society are Mrs. John C. Reilly, Mrs. James J. Flannery, Mrs. William Loeffler, Mrs. A. J. Barr, Mrs. Haines Allen Machesney, Mrs. J. D. Callery, Mrs. L. Vilsack, Mrs. Louis M. Plummer, Mrs. M. Dalmyer, Mrs. M. E. Pollard, Mrs. Mary Lauinger, Mrs. Joseph Daschbach and Mrs. James McCloskey.

Reception to New Officers.

The newly-elected officers of the Ladies' Aid society of the South Side hospital were the special guests of honor at the annual reception which was given yesterday afternoon and evening in the hospital building. During the afternoon and evening there was music and in the evening an address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge. The reception hours were from 2 o'clock until 5 in the afternoon and in the evening from 7 until 10. Tea was served afternoon and evening under the direction of a committee consisting of Mrs. Daniel Beech and Mrs. Sophie Miller. The reception committee included Mrs. John Aldred, Mrs. Elizabeth Beech, Mrs. Martin Prenter, Mrs. A. M. Hamnett, Mrs. M. B. Redman, Mrs. Monroe, Mrs. Hare, Mrs. L. B. Redman, treasurer; Miss Emmeline Pitt, recording secretary, and Miss Bessie Hare, corresponding secretary.

President's Day of the Woman's Club.

Interesting reports of the summer playgrounds and vacation schools and sketches of summer travel constituted a large portion of the short informal program presented yesterday afternoon at the first meeting of the Woman's club this season. It was the president's day and the principal feature of the afternoon was the address of the president, Mrs. Robert D. Coard. A report of the delegate, Mrs. J. H. Evans, to the general federation meeting in St. Louis last May was given, supplemented by comments made by other members of the club who were in attendance at that meeting. Mrs. Annie E. Smith, chairman of the committee from the Woman's club in charge of the summer playground and vacation school in the Grant school building during the early summer, gave a detailed report of the work which the women did in that playground. Mrs. G. L. W. Price, chairman of the committee appointed to take charge of the Twelfth ward playground in Allegheny, reporting for the work on the North Side. The Grant school committee included Mrs. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Sarah Archer, Mrs. Abbot S. Cook, Mrs. S. L. Dame, Mrs. M. W. Wray, Mrs. W. G. Bishop, Mrs. Charles Biers, Miss Margaret Hoyer and Miss Eva May Gamble. The committee for the Twelfth ward school, Allegheny, included Mrs. G. L. W. Price, chairman; Mrs. Vittalius Matthews, Mrs. J. D. Hamilton, Mrs. J. H. Evans, Mrs. Andrew Easton, Mrs. Frank Whitesell and Miss Anna Gerwig.

Among the members of the club who contributed stories of their summer sight-seeing were Mrs. William J. Glenn of Carnegie, who went to St. Louis; Mrs. Charles W. Gerwig, who divided the summer between the seashore and the home of the Yankanuck club in the Georgian Bay district, Canada; Miss Nelson, who was in the west; Mrs. Wray and Mrs. Charles L. Wade, who spent the most of the summer on the shores of Lake Chautauqua.

Graduate Nurses' Meetings.

The Nurses' Alumnae association of the Homeopathic hospital will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William M. Lytle, 134 Meadow street, East End. A delegate will be elected to attend the second annual meeting of graduate nurses in Philadelphia the last week in October.

The annual meeting of the Quadru-County association of graduate nurses will be held on Friday afternoon in the Free Dispensary building, Sixth avenue, when the annual election of officers will be conducted. One or more delegates will also be elected to attend the convention of graduate nurses.

Missionary in India Heard From.

Mrs. M. A. Hitchens of McKeesport yesterday received a letter from her daughter, Miss Priscilla Hitchens, who left McKeesport for India several months ago as a Pentecostal missionary. It was written at Buldana, Berar, India, August 10. Miss Hitchens is taking a course in the native language and is making rapid progress. She will remain in India for several years.

Farewell Address of Miss Hawes.

Miss Charlotte E. Hawes will make her last address before sailing for China at the monthly meeting of the young people's branch of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny presbyteries, which will be held this afternoon in the First Presbyterian church, Arch street, Allegheny, at 2:30 o'clock. The executive board will meet at 2 o'clock. Plans of work for the winter will be outlined.

THE ST. LOUIS-CHICAGO LINES ABOLISH DIFFERENTIAL RATES

That the day is not far distant when differential rates will be abolished entirely is apparent. Another evidence that a revision of the rates between two given points is soon to be made is demonstrated in the action of the lines running between St. Louis and Chicago. Some of the lines running between the two cities have announced a seven-hour schedule. This has brought about considerable discussion in passenger traffic circles as to what action may be taken by other lines, as the two lines applying the fast schedule have also announced they will meet any rate made between the two terminal points. The differential system of passenger fares which has been in operation for several years between St. Louis, Chicago and eastern cities have never been satisfactory to all the lines interested. Several new plans for fixing rates have been suggested. One is to charge according to the time schedule. Under this rule the short-haul lines would be averse to shortening the running time, but would prefer a low schedule rather than charge excessive rates.

Novel Plan of Educating Farmers.

A new educational system has been inaugurated by the Missouri Pacific in sending out an industrial exhibit car over the entire system. This is being done with a view of educating the farmers in advanced methods of agriculture and stock raising. The car contains an exhibit of the products of all the states through which the system passes. These have been attractively arranged by an experienced decorator, and present in themselves a miniature portable fair. The plan is to stop one day at each county seat, and, by advertising in advance, to attract as many farmers of each community as possible to see the display and to hear the lectures which will be given twice each day.

Large Shops for L. & N.

The largest shops in the world are to be built at Louisville for the Louisville & Nashville. They will cost $2,500,000, and 13 acres will be under one roof. The machinery will be the best that money can obtain. The company intends to build and repair its own engines. All its freight cars will be built there, including steel cars to be used in the coal regions along its lines.

Additional Track Put Into Service.

The Pennsylvania railroad has completed another section of its four-track series, which has been under way for the past two years. Between Bradenville and Derry the new tracks were put into service yesterday. It is the intention of the company to four-track the entire Pittsburgh division, and work is progressing to that end.

Railroad Notes.

Fred H. Tristram of the Wabash returned yesterday from a business trip to Cleveland.

C. G. Martin, secretary to General Manager Sims of the B. & O., is spending a few days in the city.

L. S. Allen, general passenger agent of the Rock Island, with headquarters in Chicago, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh.

Benjamin C. Knepper, one of the oldest passenger conductors in the service of the Pennsylvania railroad, has been retired on pension.

H. S. Bradley, contracting freight agent of the Wabash, has resumed his duties after being absent several weeks, suffering with typhoid fever.

L. A. Robinson, general passenger agent of the P. & L. E., is in New York attending a meeting of the general passenger agents of the New York Central system.

The Traffic club's winter series of entertainments will open October 27 with a banquet at the Hotel Schenley. Invitations have been sent to leading railroad officials to be present.

RODGERS FAILS TO TAKE AN APPEAL

Decides to File Exceptions in County Court to Opinion in Linear Tax Case.

LARKIN'S SUIT IS TAKEN UP

The linear tax case will not reach the supreme court before the first of next year. Instead of taking an appeal to the supreme court immediately, as he was requested by City Treasurer Frauenheim, Solicitor Rodgers said yesterday he had decided to file exceptions to the opinion of the county court before taking an appeal. He said he has 10 days to do this. Then arguments will be heard and if the court thinks well of the exceptions, it will revise its decision. If the exceptions are not received with favor, the first opinion will be reaffirmed and the only recourse for the city will be to appeal to the supreme court.

This program will make it impossible to reach an appeal, in case the county court reaffirms its decision, at the sitting of the supreme court this month. The case cannot be taken to the higher court then until the following session in January. Yesterday was the last day to file an appeal to be heard at the October session.

Controller Larkin and his attorney, George W. Guthrie, decided yesterday to take an appeal to the supreme court in the decision of the county court in the filtration bureau case, in which the controller was ordered to pay the salaries of the employes of the bureau out of the bond fund. The controller held that there had been no appropriation this year for this purpose and he had refused to pay them. He and his attorney agreed yesterday to obey the mandate, but to carry the case up and have the dispute settled finally.

If the supreme court sustains the position of the controller, the money that is being paid the employes out of the bond fund will have to be returned out of the regular appropriations.

The filtration employes have three months' salaries coming to them. The contest was over the July salaries and the salaries for two other months, August and September, have since accumulated. Director Bigelow had paid the men their salaries out of his own pocket and the warrants for the three months will be turned over to the director to square accounts.

MANY PITTSBURGHERS WILL ATTEND BANKERS' MEETING

State Organization Will Hold Annual Convention This Year in Atlantic City This Week.

"Group 8," the Pittsburgh district division of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association, will be well represented at the annual convention of the association to be held this week. The convention will open tomorrow at Atlantic City and is the first meeting since the organization of the association that has been held outside of the state.

There will be between 40 and 50 delegates from this section in the number attending the convention. In the list are the following:

Pittsburgh, J. R. Paull, J. F. Ayers, James Carothers, W. C. Lowrie, George D. Edwards, William Price, J. W. Fleming, John M. Young, T. C. Griggs, H. M. Landis, C. E. Willock, F. L. Phillips, C. M. Gerwig, A. S. Beymer, J. S. Brooks, H. S. Zimmerman, W. W. Holl, S. R. Shumaker, D. McK. Lloyd, Harvey Schumacker, R. J. Stoney, Jr., and E. E. Duff.

NEW BOOK STORE PLANS.

Proposition to Raise $20,000 by Selling Bonds to Presbyteries and the Public—Rush of Reports.

At the Pittsburgh presbytery meeting in the Mt. Washington Presbyterian church yesterday a plan to reorganize the book store was presented by the board of colportage in response to the overtures of 11 presbyteries. It is proposed to raise $20,000 capital by selling $100 bonds to the presbyteries and the general public, the purchasers agreeing to do without dividends for two years. A committee will report on the matter at the November meeting of the presbytery, which will be held in the Third Presbyterian church on the second Monday of the coming month.

There was a rush of reports to be sent up to the synod of Pennsylvania, which is to meet in Oxford October 20. The Rev. Dr. S. A. Hunter, moderator of the presbytery, read his report on foreign missions, the Rev. Dr. Allan Douglas Carlisle on the American Bible society, the Rev. Dr. James M. McJunkin on synodical sustentation, the Rev. B. R. McHatton on publication, the Rev. J. Shane Nichols on church erection, Dr. William R. Crabbe on ministerial relief, the Rev. Dr. William S. Fulton on freedmen, the Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan on systematic beneficence, the Rev. W. C. Lilley on Presbyterial missions, the Rev. Dr. John F. Hill on temperance, the Rev. Dr. William P. Shrom on young people's societies and the Rev. Ulysses Simpson Greves on education.

The Rev. Dr. Henry T. McClelland made his inaugural address on his work for the freedmen. Prof. W. A. Stanton made an address in the interest of the temperance committee.

The Rev. Victor Bucher of Delaware, the new assistant pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, and Rev. Daniel McKee of Wellsborough were enrolled as members of the presbytery.

MAY GO AFTER OTHERS.

Anti-Saloon League Is Collecting Evidence Against Other Official Bottlers.

If the court decides to revoke the license of Frederick Tschume, the alleged "official bottler" of Allegheny, it is probable the Anti-Saloon league will bring similar actions against several other dealers.

C. E. Page, agent for the league, when asked yesterday what further action he proposed to take, replied that evidence had been gathered against other liquor dealers, but he did not care to say what the society proposed to do. He said they are waiting to learn what disposition would be made of Tschumee's case. The questions now under discussion have never been raised before, and they will await a judicial decision before making any further moves. They have an abundance of evidence against others, however, and he believes that the time will soon come when sales of liquor to illegal establishments will be too risky a business for license holders to indulge in.

BUCHANAN RE-ELECTED.

George Boyd Defeated for the Presidency of Structural Iron Workers.

The delegates to the convention of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers have returned, carrying with them the news that Frank Buchanan was re-elected president. This was somewhat of a surprise, as it was fully expected that George Boyd of this city would land the honor.

James Coakeley, business agent of the Pittsburgh local, was elected on the national executive board. This was all the Pittsburgh delegates captured. The election resulted in Frank Buchanan being elected president; J. T. Butler of Buffalo, vice president; U. A. Clancy of San Francisco, third vice president; J. J. McNamara of Cleveland, secretary-treasurer; T. McGovern of Albany, N. Y.; J. Berry of St. Louis, E. Butler of New York and J. Coakeley of Pittsburgh, executive board.

Minister Will Sleep in Tent.

GREENSBURG, Oct. 4.—The Rev. Stanley L. Krebs has had erected in the parsonage yard of the First Reformed church a canvas tent in which, it is stated, he proposes to sleep during the winter. The tent has a wood floor.

A group of the military leaders in the British expedition to Tibet. The figures in the front row, from left to right, are Maj. Bretherton, who was drowned; Col. Reed, commanding the lines of communication; Gen. McDonald, the military chief of the expedition, and Maj. Benyon, commanding the Goork has.

HUNDRED BISHOPS WILL BE IN LINE

Solemn Procession Will Mark Opening of Episcopal General Convention.

BANQUET TO ENGLISH PRIMATE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—What is considered by the leading bishops and all deputies as the most important conclave of Episcopalians ever held in the country will be formally opened in this city tomorrow when the triennial general convention will be assembled in Emmanuel church. Before the opening session, a service will be held in Trinity church, at which the lord archbishop of Canterbury and prelates from four continents will be present. It is expected that nearly 100 bishops will be in the solemn procession which precedes the services. The preacher will be the Rt. Rev. William Croswell Doane, D. D., L.L. D., bishop of Albany.

About two-thirds of the bishops and deputies had reached the city tonight. The archbishop of Canterbury, the first occupant of the chair of St. Augustine to attend a convention of the Episcopal church in this country, arrived from New York on a special train this afternoon. He was accompanied by J. Pierpont Morgan, who is a deputy from New York.

Amory Lawrence of this city tendered a banquet to the English primate tonight. Bishop Lawrence and other leading churchmen of this diocese were among the guests.

It has not been settled who will be elected chairman of the house of deputies, but the name of the Rev. Charles L. Hutchins, D. D., of Concord, Mass., who was secretary of the house for many years, is prominently mentioned. The Rt. Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, D. D., bishop of Missouri, the presiding bishop of the church, will occupy the chair in the house of deputies.

Several new bishops are to be chosen by the convention.

ALASKAN TELEGRAPH SYSTEM IS COMPLETED

Bering Straits Region Is in Direct Communication With the United States.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Gen. Greeley has received a dispatch from Maj. Edgar Russel of the signal corps, announcing that the Burnside, which has been engaged in laying a cable from Valdez, Alaska, buoyed the eastern cable end at the mouth of Sitka harbor yesterday afternoon. It will require several days to make the shore end connections in the narrow passage of Sitka harbor and throw open the cable to commercial business.

This completes the Alaskan telegraph system, which has been under construction three years, during which time about 4,000 miles of land lines and submarine cables have been constructed and laid, and it brings the Nome and Bering strait regions in direct communication with the United States over an all-American route.

LARKIN'S FIRST VISIT TO MARSHALSEA TODAY

Controller Will Be Special Guest of Director Clark and Councilmen Helmold and Roenigk.

Controller Larkin will today pay his first visit to the city poor farm at Marshalsea. Recently the city officials and councilmen made the annual inspection of Marshalsea and the controller was invited but he did not go along, because he was not on the most friendly terms with Mayor Hays and other members of his cabinet.

The controller, however, has always held the most cordial relations with Director James W. Clark, of the department of charities, and he has taken occasion several times to praise the business-like and efficient manner in which Clark has conducted his department. As a compliment to the controller, and to secure his approval of some plans to improve the institution, Director Clark has arranged to take Mr. Larkin through the institution and entertain him today.

The visit has been arranged by Councilmen C. W. Helmold and A. G. Roenick of the Twentieth ward, who are friends of both the controller and director. Besides Director Clark, Controller Larkin, Councilmen Helmold and Roenigk, there will be in the party George Linderman, former superintendent of Marshalsea, and Evan Jones, the contractor, who was formerly a member of the city poor board.

WHY NOT SEND A TWO CENT STAMP AND SAVE HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS?

Wouldn't it be a pretty good investment? If you will send a two-cent stamp to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio, they will mail you a sample of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, which has been proven by thousands to be the only immediate, specific cure for Hay Fever and all forms of Catarrh and its kindred affliction—deafness. Easily applied—gives instant relief, give it a trial and be convinced.

For sale by druggists. If not, a full-sized jar will be sent prepaid on receipt of 50 cents. But send for the sample first.

That'll prove the claims of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm.

"The use of the sample I got did away with most of the terrible roaring in my ears, and now, since beginning the use of the second jar, of the balm, I can hear a watch tick, after being deaf for thirty years. Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm is the only remedy that ever helped me. May the Good Lord bless the manufacturers of it for their noble work."

WORLD'S PROGRESS IS TOWARD PEACE

Is Reviewed Before International Congress Now Assembled in Boston.

ROOSEVELT IS COMMENDED

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—A general supplication, coupled with a demand, almost, for the institution of peace between the nations of the world, was the keynote today of the first deliberative session of the international peace congress. Delegates from the great countries of the globe, all prominent in their home lands, gave to the occasion the dignity and importance of a momentous international assembly.

A feature of the opening session was the receipt of an elaborate report from the international peace bureau for 1904, in which was reviewed what had been attained in the direction of peace during the year passed, and also which set forth the present war conditions of the world necessitating correctionary measures by those desiring the establishment of universal concord. The suggestion was made that some collective move might be made to induce the Russo-Japanese belligerents to return to peace.

Edwin D. Mead, chairman of the organization committee of the congress, delivered the opening address. Robert Treat Paine of Boston was elected president of the congress and Dr. Benjamin F. Trueblood, also of this city, secretary.

Responses were made by one delegate from each of the countries represented at the congress. Alderman Snape of Liverpool referred particularly to Secretary of State Hay's appearance at yesterday's meeting, as the representative of the United States and took occasion to remark upon what an astounding thing it would be considered in England did the British minister of foreign affairs officially represent Great Britain at a similar meeting.

A general commendation of President Roosevelt's call for another Hague conference marked the other addresses.

Among the letters and cablegrams received by the congress and announced today, were those from Frau Solenka of Munich, Germany; Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Carl Schurz, Frederic Passy of France and Dr. Henry W. Warren of Colorado. A noticeably large number of greetings were received from Baptist denominations and conferences in various parts of the country, including Topeka, Kas.; Pittsburgh and the District of Columbia. Memorials were received from the New Orleans and the Philadelphia boards of trade.

Two mass meetings under the auspices of the congress were held tonight. At one was considered the work and influence of The Hague tribunal, Oscar S. Straus, formerly United States minister to Turkey, and a member of The Hague court, presided. The other mass meeting was conducted by the Christian Endeavor society, with the Rev. Francis E. Clark as chairman.

CAUGHT IN A DORMITORY.

Young Negro Was Too Busy in the Allegheny General Hospital.

Edgar Walker, an 18-year-old negro, who says his home is in Lorraine street, Allegheny, was caught in the nurses' dormitory of the Allegheny General hospital yesterday afternoon.

The nurses, it is alleged, saw the prisoner on the third floor rummaging through a bureau drawer. They notified Supt. P. K. Bechtel, who telephoned to police headquarters, and Detective Einstein caught Walker. Supt. Bechtel made information against Walker, who was given a hearing and sent to jail for court. He got nothing at the hospital, but three pawn tickets were found on him. He also had on an overcoat which he admits he stole from B. Nusbaum of 505 Arch street last week.

Supt. Bechtel says Walker worked for a time at the hospital.

Bartenders to Form District Council.

T. J. Sullivan, president of the International Association of Hotel and Restaurant Employes, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday on his way to Charleroi, where there is a dispute requiring his assistance to adjust. While here he will assist in forming a district council of delegates of the locals in Western Pennsylvania.

COMPANIES FENCE IN A CITY STREET

Building in Thoroughfare, Although It Has Not Been Vacated by Councils.

COMMITTEE DENOUNCES ACT

Believing that councils would vacate a portion of McPherson street, between Richland street and Braddock avenue, Twenty-first ward, private corporations have already taken possession of the street, and, after fencing it in, are erecting buildings on the the thoroughfare. Instead of vacating the street, the surveys committee of councils yesterday voted to send in a recommendation to councils against the vacation.

A special sub-committee had been appointed to investigate the request for the vacation, and Chairman C. W. Helmold of the sub-committee reported to the general surveys committee yesterday that McPherson street was a 60-foot street and one of the most important thoroughfares from Wilkinsburg and the Thirty-seventh ward to the Twenty-first ward.

Mr. Helmold said private corporations were attempting to close the street, and he regarded it as "impudence" for them to expect councils to vote for the vacation. Charles Gulland, another member of the sub-committee which investigated, stated that the street had been fenced in by the companies owning the abutting property, and he said these concerns were the D. J. Kennedy Builders' Supplies Company, the Gallagher Lumber Company and the Highland Brewing Company.

He said the Kennedy company is building foundations for coal bins across the street, anticipating the vacation petition would go through. To vacate this street, he said, would be to give these companies property worth many thousands of dollars. It is proposed to vacate a whole block. This would make a blind street and shut off communication from McPherson street to Braddock avenue. Braddock avenue is being opened and will cross under the Pennsylvania railroad, and be one of the most direct cross-town thoroughfares from the East End to Braddock and Homestead.

Strangely, the ordinance for the vacation of McPherson street was introduced by a councilman from the Twenty-first ward, Robert Porter, and he was not at the surveys committee yesterday to defend it. The surreptious attempt to pass this vacation bill and also the one for the vacation of Fillmore street in the Fourteenth ward has cast suspicion on all such measures, and in the future every vacation ordinance will be closely scrutinized before it gets through councils. The ordinances for Fillmore and McPherson streets were approved by the surveys committee several weeks ago, but were reconsidered by the committee at the next meeting after attention had been called to them by the newspapers.

So pronounced has the feeling since become in councils against street vacations that every vacation bill hereafter will be held up in the committee unless some person comes to its defense and gives convincing reasons for its approval. Two other street vacations were found in the batch of bills in the committee yesterday and they were referred to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Frederick, Johns and Helmold, for investigation. These two measures provide for the vacation of an unnamed alley in the Thirteenth ward and for the vacation of a portion of Richland street, between Susquehanna and Finance street, Twenty-first ward.

Ordinances affirmatively recommended were those establishing grades on Concord, Montezuma, Reimer, Loyal and Alhambra alleys; the dedication of Alderson street and repealing the location of a part of Solway street from Forbes street eastwardly.

The committees on finance and public works, called to meet yesterday, both failed to secured quorums.

Held for Assaults.

Clarence Brown, aged 18, was committed to jail yesterday, charged by his mother with assaulting his two sisters, aged 12 and 6 years. Adam Kolls was committed for felonious assault and battery on Barton Bolinski at a Polish wedding at 2748 Liberty avenue Monday night. Bolinski has a number of knife wounds in his body.

"JIM CROW" LAW WILL BE TESTED

Howard University Professor to Appeal on Sentence Passed in Maryland.

RELIES ON THE CONSTITUTION

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.

Prof. William H. H. Hart of Howard university, who was fined in Maryland for refusing to obey the "Jim Crow" law, will appeal his case to the supreme court of the United States, and the highest tribunal will thus be called upon to pass on this statute.

Prof. Hart claims that while traveling on an interstate express between Boston and Washington he was ordered, in Maryland, to occupy the "Jim Crow" section and refused. He bases his rights on that section of the Constitution which says that "congress shall have exclusive power to regulate commerce between the states."

Prof. Hart says his case would have been dismissed in Maryland on a technicality, but he insisted on making a test. He was released on a bond, and at his trial last week he acted as his own attorney.

In the trial of the case Prof. Hart, according to his story, offered evidence in refutation of the allegation that he was a colored man. He presented a printed record of his family, showing him to have descended directly from an Anglo-Saxon, who came to this country from England in 1639 and settled in Massachusetts.

The court rejected the record as evidence, to which the defendant excepted, thus leaving that fact to be determined with the other issue. Prof. Hart explained his mother, whom his father married in Alabama, was a daughter of a Seminole Indian, and it was from her that he had some marks which lead persons to regard him as a negro.

PAINTERS BADLY INJURED.

Swinging Scaffold Broke and Dropped Them to the Ground.

Charles Campbell and Frank Stewart, house painters, were seriously injured yesterday by the breaking of a swinging scaffold. They were painting a house in Francis street, opposite the Municipal hospital, and were near the roof. They fell about 40 feet.

Campbell suffered a broken ankle and a badly sprained back. Stewart had his wrist and nose broken and was injured internally. The men were taken to the Municipal hospital, just across the street. Dr. B. A. Booth, city physician, attended them. Thus they became the first patients treated in the new building. They were later sent to the West Penn hospital, as the Municipal is not yet ready for use.

UNITED CIGAR STORES CO.

OURS is simply a big store broken up into 300 parts for your convenience. The individual attention of the little store; the values of the big store—these have built us a big business, and big business has given us a purchasing power that enables us to control the output of a dozen big factories and keep the quality of our cigars 30 to 50 per cent better than is otherwise possible.

Selected for special mention this week:

CIGARS UNITED

PALMA de CUBA

Agents

AGENTS wanted in Pittsburgh and natural gas towns to sell the famous Willtom gas light burner; it excels all other high-power burners in brilliancy, durability and economy; makes fully 300 candle power light with one small regular sized 10-cent mantle; lasts indefinitely. The new Willtom No. 6, just out, is the king for high pressure residences and stores; can be used on high or low pressure; either ARTIFICIAL OR NATURAL GAS. Its illuminating power is three times greater than that of the ordinary burner; any mantle or any style globe or chimney can be used. It is a light that never fails. It is the only DUST PROOF light in existence. The air holes are enclosed by a perforated shield which excludes all lint and dust from the burner. It is the easiest regulated of all gas lights. The Willtom side screw regulator is the simplest and best adjustable gas check ever devised. The flame can be regulated from the highest to the lowest point of combustion, thus saving the consumer 25 or 30 per cent of his lighting bills. People who use the Willtom "No. 6" have the satisfaction of knowing that every atom of gas they pay for is turned into light. We are offering special inducements to agents; the best of the season just starting enabling them to make $5 to $15 a day.

Apartments.

BACHELORS! GIVE HEED
To this announcement concerning the "Knickerbocker Apartments," Allegheny. Built exclusively to cater to the comfort of men, these luxurious, handsomely furnished apartments can be enjoyed for the same expenditure as you make for your half-respectable, stuffy rooms in some "rooming-house." For the rent, which may seem high at first glance, is very low considering that you have the privilege of "doubling-up"—(one, two three or four men may occupy a suite)—and you will have no extra expenses. The rental of $35 to $50 includes steam heat, electric light, bed linen, towels, night-and-day elevator service, chambermaid service and complete furnishment.

TREMENDOUS BARGAINS.
There is not one person in a hundred who appreciates how much a little advertising can be made to do for him. The man who wants to sell a house, hire a servant, find a lost dog, or do any of a hundred other similar things, usually finds before he is through that a "want ad." in a reliable paper is the simplest, easiest and cheapest way of accomplishing his purpose. Those men who have been fortunate enough to place their "want ad." in THE GAZETTE have always found its prices real bargains when judged by the results obtained. It has over 72,000 families on its lists to whom it can appeal for you—that is, you speak to over a quarter million people when you use its columns. No wonder you are certain of results. Look below at some of the bargains offered you.

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and directing the mayor and the director of the department of public works to make a contract with C. F. Knapp for the repair and remodeling of the electric light plant situate on Braddock street, Second ward, for the price of $33,472 00, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof.

Whereas, By an ordinance of the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny entitled "An ordinance authorizing and ordering the repair and remodeling of the electric light plant situate on Braddock street, Second ward, which was damaged by fire Saturday, June 18, 1904; instructing the mayor and the director of the department of public works to advertise for proposals and award the contract therefor, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof," passed finally in councils July 21, 1904, and approved by the mayor July 25, 1904, the repair and remodeling of the electric light plant situate on Braddock street, Second ward, was authorized and ordered, and the mayor and the director of the department of public works were instructed to advertise for proposals and award the contract therefor; and,

Whereas, Pursuant to said ordinance the mayor and said director duly advertised for proposals, and opened same publicly in accordance with said advertisement on the 8th day of August, 1904; and,

Whereas, The lowest bid received amounts to the sum of $33,472 00, which was the bid of C. F. Knapp, and which is $2,222 00 in excess of the amount of the estimate furnished to councils prior to the passage of said ordinance; and,

Whereas, It has been found that there was a mistake in the estimate furnished to councils and that the said estimate was too low, and the director of the department of public works has furnished councils with a proper estimate, which amounts to the sum of $33,472 00; and,

Whereas, The bid of C. F. Knapp for doing said work for the price of $33,472 00 is not in excess of the estimate now furnished by the director of the department of public works, and is the lowest bid received, and is a fair and reasonable price for said work; therefore

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacttd by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the mayor and the director of the department of public works are hereby authorized and directed to accept the said bid of C. F. Knapp and award the contract for the repair and remodeling of the electric light plant situate in Braddock street, Second ward, in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor on file in the office of the director of the department of public works, to C. F. Knapp for the price or sum of $33,472 00.

The cost and expense thereof to be paid out of Item No. 6, Appropriation No. 14, bureau of public lighting, department of public works.

Section 2. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law in councils this 30th day of September, A. D. 1904.

ST. PAUL THE LEADER IN AN EXCITED MARKET

The Stock Advanced More Than Seven Points—Many New High Prices Made—Sharp Reaction in Steel Preferred—Big Local Market.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Yesterday's New York stock market was one of the largest of the year, the sales exceeding 1,300,000 shares. During the first two hours the transactions reached 700,000 shares, and there were many signs which usually mark the culmination of a prolonged speculative movement. St. Paul was the leader of the advance, and its violent rise of more than 7 points caused some apprehension among traders. The stock opened at 150⅞, which proved to be the low price of the day, and it rose rapidly to 167, the highest of the year, and equivalent to an advance of 10 per cent in two days, inasmuch as the dividend of 3½ per cent came off on Monday. It is probable that a large short interest existed in the stock. Traders became very bearish on it during the latter part of July and in August, when reports were being received of extensive damage to spring wheat. These reports were confirmed by the government figures, which confirmed the bears in their attitude on St. Paul, which would be one of the greatest sufferers by a short spring wheat yield. Yesterday, however, traders were inclined to take more stock in a story which coupled St. Paul with Erie in a deal whereby these two roads had agreed to take Union Pacific's holdings of Northern Securities, and thereby reach an amicable settlement of the pending legal contest over the distribution of the assets of Northern Securities. The fact that Erie advanced to the highest price of the year, that Northern Securities jumped to 115 and that Union Pacific made a new record by advancing to 204¾ tended to confirm the belief that if a deal such as that outlined were not pending, at least some important negotiations affecting the railroad world were going on. There was no other reasonable explanation for such heavy dealings at advancing prices. Nearly a score of other prominent railroad stocks rose to the highest prices for the year, Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific and Louisville-Nashville being conspicuous.

The fact that Pennsylvania was also strong, advancing to 133½, the highest for more than a year, did not seem to formulate with the ideas that a new eastern outlet for the roads of the northwest was being negotiated, although there was some explanation for the strength of Pennsylvania in the statements of earnings for August, published yesterday morning. This showed that while there had been a large decrease in gross earnings on lines directly operated east of Pittsburgh and also on the lines west of Pittsburgh, the operating expenses had been reduced to a point where the result was a very fair increase in net earnings.

All the Gould stocks were active and higher under the leadership of Missouri Pacific, which crossed 101. The various members of the Pennsylvania group, with the exception of Baltimore & Ohio, were rather heavy and closed slightly lower.

The industrial stocks were all active, but U. S. Steel was subordinate in influence to St. Paul, until late in the afternoon, when Steel preferred broke to 75. This was followed by a considerable reaction throughout the general list and the market became decidedly feverish. In the final dealings there was a recovery, but closing quotations showed gains and losses pretty evenly distributed.

Call loans, after ruling firm at 2 per cent for most of the day, eased off and closed at 1½ per cent, the final loan being at 1¾ per cent.

Commodity markets were all lower. Wheat, corn, oats and provisions all closed at the lowest prices for the day, while cotton recovered slightly in the final dealings. There were no export clearances of wheat and only 6,100 barrels of flour, but the exports of corn amounted to 362,000 bushels. Bradstreets reported an increase in the world's visible supply of wheat of 9,800,000 bushels.

The Pittsburgh stock market yesterday was the most active of the year, and, as a rule, prices were strong and higher. The feature was the buoyancy of the Coal issues. Pittsburgh Coal common opened higher at 15¾ and advanced to 16, closing at 15¾ bid. The preferred stock, which had closed on Monday at 65 bid, opened at 67 and advanced to 68¼, the highest of the year. There was a reaction to 67 late in the day, but the price recovered to 67½ bid at the close. The scarcity of offerings was conspicuous all day. River Coal preferred rallied to 24, closing at a net gain of $2 a share. Only 130 shares came out on the advance, and at the close there was no stock offering for sale. All the steel issues were strong during the early part of the day, Crucible common selling at 67⅜ and the preferred at 41. A break of 1¼ per cent in U. S. Steel preferred late in the day caused a reaction in the general list, but there was a recovery from the lowest and the market closed firm. Westinghouse Electric closed a fraction lower at 82½ asked, while Air Brake was $2 lower at 135, and closed offered at 134½. U. S. Glass advanced $3 a share to 46 and closed at that price bid, the highest on record. After the close of the market the announcement of the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on Pittsburgh Coal preferred was made.

NOTES AND COMENT.

The declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on Pittsburgh Coal preferred will make the shorts on the stock fell all the more nervous. Several brokers reported yesterday that they had had numerous applications from persons who wanted to borrow the stock, and it was said that a considerable short interest existed on account of Cleveland traders, who are supposed to have sold last spring, while the strike on the lakes was in progress. There is also said to be some short interest in the banks of brokers for weeks past. Still, the tone is very much influenced by New York. This was seen yesterday afternoon, when the sharp reaction in United States Steel preferred caused an immediate falling off in business on the local board.

Next Friday afternoon John D. Bailey will sell at auction several blocks of local bank and other stocks. The list appears in the advertising columns of this issue.

T. H. Robinson has transferred his membership in the Pittsburgh stock exchange contingent upon the election of A. C. Robinson. Both are members of the firm of Robinson Bros.

Tonopah Extension was nominally quoted at 160 bid, 180 asked. Dispatches from San Francisco, where the stock is also dealt in, stated there were no offerings in that market.

A large delegation of Pittsburgh bankers will leave Pittsburgh today to attend the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association, which will be held at Atlantic City tomorrow and Friday.

If the United States Steel Corporation has been converting preferred stock into 5 per cent sinking fund bonds, as many persons believe, there was the opportunity for conducting an enormously profitable operation. Throughout last August there was a difference of fully 20 points between the market value of the bonds and the stock, the former selling at 75 to 80 and the stock at 57 to 60. This difference has now narrowed down to about 8 points. During August and September there was the opportunity to sell sinking fund bonds in the open market at an average of say 80½, and with the proceeds buy stock at an average of 65½, making a profit of 15 per cent in addition to saving 2 per cent in the interest charge.

Gross earnings of Canadian Pacific for the last week in September increased $51,000, and for the month increased $288,000.

The Deutsche bank is understood to have been quite a large buyer of Steel preferred in the past few days. This is regarded as in the nature of investment buying.

It is Wall street opinion that Reading dividend talk has probably a better foundation than that in Chesapeake & Ohio. It is said that the new certificates are being held up because the second preferred stock is to be retired this winter. The common dividend is expected to be made at the rate of not less than 3 per cent, and may possibly be 4 per cent.

A dispatch from New York credited Pittsburgh with being a considerable buyer of Pennsylvania railroad stock on Monday and yesterday.

The dividend to be declared by the Pennsylvania railroad directors at the meeting on November 1 will be paid November 30 to stockholders of record November 5.

The gross earnings of Wabash for the last week in September increased $92,535.

A block of $500,000 Union Pacific convertible 4s was bought last week by the president of one of the principal Chicago banking institutions. The purchase is interesting from the fact that the institution represented does most of its business through the National City bank.

The directors of the International Power Company has declared a dividend of 3 per cent on the preferred stock, payable October 15 to stockholders of record October 3.

A bid of 62 for a round lot of Orient Coke Company stock was made on the local curb yesterday.

There are men on the floor of the New York stock exchange, however, who are overtrading. Many an operator is long of 30,000 shares of stock when he ought to be long only 3,000. Certain western houses are carrying as many stocks as they ever carried. Standard Oil people have been content to let the market take care of itself, and have been doing little to oppose the advance, but those who known what is going on at 26 Broadway say that just at present the man who is heavily committed to the long side of the market is in a dangerous position. There is high authority for the statement that James R. Keene a few weeks ago made a thorough canvass of Wall street, and gathered accurate figures as to the extent of the short interest in Steel preferred. These figures were shown to J. P. Morgan, and th result was that Mr. Keene was told to advance Steel preferred until these shorts covered. Mr. Keene has been more active in the market than for two years.—"Adams" in Philadelphia News Bureau.

There is absolutely no foundation for the statement that has lately appeared in the daily papers of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to the effect that the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville Railway Company has purchased the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Greensburg railway, and the officers of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville Railway Company emphatically state that the purchase of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Greensburg railway is not even being considered by them.

Wall street was full of rumors yesterday that a large short interest had been driven to cover and had been badly hurt by the rise in St. Paul.

The gross earnings of Chicago & Alton for August increased $145,000. Net earnings increased $128,000.

London was a heavy seller of New York stocks at the opening of the market yesterday. Foreigners appeared to be taking profits on United States Steel.

Following is an extract from the market letter issued last night by a Wall street commission house that has been bullish on the market for two months: "Signs were abundant today that the general stock list is high enough for the time being. Therefore we would not advise purchases until we have had a substantial setback. This may come at any moment or it may be more gradual. The heavy profit-taking in United States Steel shares with a decline of some 1¼ points in the preferred showed that insiders considered the stock about high enough. The manipulation by the Gates people, the rise in St. Paul being accompanied by the circulation of many deal reports that seemed to come from close to those interested, had the look of a last effort to mark up certain stocks so as to facilitate selling elsewhere. As St. Paul sold at 158¾ it could go higher if any real news developments are under way. From careful inquiries we are convinced that nothing is breaking at the moment. For the time being stocks may be sold to advantage on strong spots."

The October number of Moorhead's Quarterly Record" fully maintains the original standard set for accuracy and completeness as a record of Pittsburgh stock exchange transactions.

Died of His Injuries.

CLEARFIELD, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—After alighting from a passenger train at Grampian late last night, Thaddeus Robinson of Philipsburg attempted to walk in front of the engine and was run down. Both legs were mangled and he died a few minutes later.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges were $6,185,530, an increase of $1,043,000.

FIRST AVENUE PROPERTY SOLD

Harry Davis Disposes of 420-424 to Local Manufactory for $82,500.

ALLEGHENY DISPUTE IS SETTLED

The former Mason property at 420-414 First avenue has been sold through the office of Samuel W. Black & Co. for about $82,500. The former owner was Harry Davis and the buyer is a well-known manufacturing concern which takes the property as a site for a big manufactory and warehouse. The lot measures 60 feet in First avenue by 80 feet in Cherry alley, being at the northeast corner of these two thoroughfares. A two-story brick building of nominal value stands on the lot. This was formerly occupied as a wholesale liquor store, but has been vacant for some time. It will be torn down at once and a six-story building to cost $60,000 erected in its stead.

Mr. Davis bought the property from the Mason heirs in 1903 for $60,000, so that on an ownership of less than two years he clears $22,500. The present sale is at the rate of $1,375 a foot for the First avenue frontage, or $17 18 a square foot. The deal is interesting as showing the trend of small manufacturing concerns and warehouses toward the lower avenues, where within two years a dozen or more of the most substantial buildings in the city have been erected.

Small Verdict After Long Fight.

After a long period of litigation the Lutz & Schramm Company of Allegheny was yesterday awarded a verdict of $60,000 damages in its suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for damages caused by the latter running an elevated spur from the West Penn railroad tracks across the pickle company's property to Herrs Island. When the railroad company began operations last year different boards of viewers were appointed to estimate the losses sustained by the Lutz & Schramm Company, but no verdict was reached that was satisfactory. The case was then taken into court and has been pending there for months. The pickle company sued for $350,000, and witnesses testified their property was worth from $550,000 to $700,000. Hence the award of $60,000 was a great surprise. The spur which the railroad built crosses the company's property at a height of about 14 feet. It passes through a big shed and within 10 feet of the main building of the plant. The company asked for pay for 12,300 square feet taken by the right-of-way and also for the spoiling of its switch and general damages to the rest of its property.

The sale of the First ward school house to P. Miller, president of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, $160,000, noted in this article in another column, takes out of the market one of the most valuable properties in the Point district, and one of the most interesting relics of downtown Pittsburgh in early days. The general public will await with much interest the final disposition of the property, which it is thought by many believed it will be used for railroad purposes.

Through the office of Samuel W. Black & Co. the first floor and basement of 704 Smithfield street has been sub-leased to the Six Little Tailors of New York for a term of years. The first lease was held by the John Newton Porter Company of New York, dealers in trading stamps. This is the second time the rooms have been sub-let since their lease was made.

John Cooper has bought from F. C. Page 24x100 feet on the north side of Penn avenue, near Twentieth street, Twelfth ward, for $1,500. The property is improved with a brick building.

Bids will be taken about October 15 by Architect H. S. Estep on the new Masonic temple at McKeesport. The estimated cost is $80,000.

Architect J. Lewis Beatty has plans for extensive alterations to the Fifth National bank building in lower Fifth avenue. The changes include an entrance to Third avenue and will be made before the Fort Pitt bank moves into the building.

First Flats Are Popular.

Flats are evidently as popular in Swissvale as elsewhere around the city judging by the speed with which the first two modern apartment houses erected in that town to date have been rented. They belong to C. C. Hamilton, the real estate broker, and stand at Braddock and Westmoreland avenues. One building was completed July 15 and the other August 16. Of the 15 suites of three, four and five rooms in the two buildings all but two have been rented at prices ranging from $15 to $25 a month each. The total rental of the buildings is $4,728 annually. Most of the tenants are business men of the East End and employes of the Westinghouse works.

Allison & Allison is the name of a new firm of architects with offices at 1023 Westinghouse building. The members are J. E. Allison, an architect of 13 years' experience in Pittsburgh, and the designer of many public buildings and fine residences in and near the city, and D. C. Allison, a graduate of the architectural school of the University of Pennsylvania.

The architectural firm of Hawley & Wharton, who were until recently in the Westinghouse building, has taken offices at 724 Bessemer building.

Another new real estate firm announced is Robert M. Eurich & Company, 604 Arrott building. Mr. Eurich was formerly associated with the old firm of John K. Ewing & Company. The new firm will act as store brokers in addition to doing a general real estate business.

Bought a Dwelling Corner.

One of the most desirable corners for sale along the Beechwood boulevard was sold yesterday by John M. Bruce to David Emery, Jr., for $4,500. The property is at the intersection of the boulevard and Linden avenue, and at the point where the Wilkins avenue extension will cross. It measures 115 feet in the boulevard and 80 feet in Linden avenue, with a depth of 60 feet. A frame house, one of the oldest in this locality, is the only improvement. Directly across the boulevard is the old ice pond which was sold by Mr. Bruce last year to W. L. Curry, who will fill it up and build six houses soon.

J. W. Hill, who is now building six houses in Edgewood, will shortly begin the erection of 10 more dwellings to cost $5,500 each. These will be eight and 10-room brick houses on lots 30x150 feet each, and will face in Gordon street, near Swissvale avenue.

Architects Rutan and Russell have plans for a $7,000 residence to be built in Sewickley for John S. George.

Locust street: The estate of Catherine Speaker sold to Millie Aufderhide an improved lot, 19.5x65 feet, in Locust street, near Van Braam street, Fourteenth ward, for $4,800, and an improved property, 28.5x55 feet, on the south side of Tustin street to Emma Zimmerman for $3,400.

The only building permit of any consequence issued by the bureau of building inspection was one to the Pittsburgh Ice Company for the removal and reconstruction of a building located on the Pennsylvania railroad near Negley avenue, to cost $18,000.

ANOTHER RISE IN SUGAR ANNOUNCED IN NEW YORK

Will Probably Reach Here Today—Prices Change in Many Lines of Produce.

The American Sugar Refining Company will announce another 5-point raise on all grades of sugar today. The increase was announced yesterday in New York, and it is not yet known whether it will affect the local market or not. The probabilities are that it will, but this will be determined when the board meets here today.

The hot chestnut man has appeared. The first of his kind took his stand at Smithfield and Liberty streets yesterday and from the crowd which surrounded him and his little roasting pan it is evident the hot chestnut has lost none of its popularity with Pittsburghers. He made the produce men feel good, as the nut business never gets the right kind of a swing on until the hot chestnut man has begun to dispose of his little delicacy.

The produce market generally was slow yesterday, and the men along the street look for little improvement until the local supplies are out of the market. Potatoes are holding their own, although reports from the west indicate that they will be higher-priced in the near future, as they are rotting fast. Up in Trumbull county, which is a great potato country, the farmers are hauling their tubers to the depots for 30 cents a bushel and glad to get it. They all complain of the potato rot and declare that, while the crop was large, the loss from this cause will not leave one-half of what they harvested. This is news to most of the men along the street, as this complaint was the first that has come in. The farmers blame the trouble on wet weather during the summer and too much seeding from old stock.

In groceries there is practically nothing doing. Flour continues at the price scheduled last week, with no immediate prospect of a change. The mess pork gear is the most disturbing one in that line. Receipts of fruit yesterday were: Apples, 13 cars, making 42; cabbage, 3 cars, making 46; cantaloupes, 2 cars, making 23; celery, 3 cars, making 7; grapes, 2 cars, making 30; pineapples, 1 car, making 2; peaches, 5 cars, making 34; pears, 14 cars, making 25; potatoes, 9 cars, making 40; sweets, 8 cars, making 27; tomatoes, 1 car, making 2; miscellaneous, 7 cars, making 14.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts of hay, grain and feed at the railroad yards yesterday were: Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 1 car rye, 2 cars corn, 3 cars hay, 1 car flour, 1 car oats, 1 car feed. Baltimore & Ohio, 6 cars oats, 11 cars hay, 2 cars straw. Pennsylvania lines, 3 cars oats, 6 cars hay, 1 car corn, 1 car straw.

Although the receipts of hay are heavy, the market still holds firm and good hay finds a ready sale at full quotations. Oats are holding firm and rye went up cent yesterday, being quoted today at 87 and 87½. The market is firm and the demand equal to the supply.

WHEAT WEAKENS ON INCREASE IN SUPPLY

Corn and Oats Show Slight Gains, but Provisions Are Down.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—A big increase in the world's visible supply weakened wheat at the close today. Liberal receipts in the Northwest emphasized the depression. Compared with last night's figures, December wheat closed ⅝@¾c lower, May is off ⅞@⅞c. December corn is up ¼c. Oats show a gain of ¼c. Provisions are down 5 to 15c.

Owing to smaller local receipts than expected there was a fair demand for wheat at the opening. Offerings were comparatively light. In consequence, a steady tone was manifested. December was a shade lower to a shade higher at $1 13¼@1 13¾. May opened ¼@¾c lower to a shade higher, at $1 13¼@1 13½. For the first few minutes pit traders and commission houses were moderate buyers. December selling up to $1 12½, and May to $1 13¾@1 13½. Liberal arrivals, however, in the northwest, soon caused active selling of the December delivery. A reaction followed, December declining to $1 12½ and May to $1 12⅝. Later the pit crowd bought back much of the wheat sold earlier in the day. The market assumed a firmer tone, an advance of about ½c from the low point being registered. Additional advices in regard to reported record breaking sales of flour in the northwest, and advices from Australia indicating poor crop prospects had considerable influence in bringing out the renewed demand. Quick reversal in sentiment came, nevertheless, with announcement of an increase of 10,000,000 bushels in the world's available stocks, the market being adjusted to heavy selling pressure. As a result prices slumped, and the feeling at the close was weak, prices falling at the lowest point of the day. Final quotations on December were at $1 12½. May closed at $1 12⅝. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 27,700 bushels. World's visible supply, according to Bradstreets, increased 16,000,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,300,400 bushels compared with 1,537,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 1,242 cars against 1,682 cars last week and 1,194 cars a year ago.

A decrease of 50 per cent in primary receipts compared with last year counter-balanced the weakening effect of lower prices of wheat, creating a firm tone in corn. Local receipts, also, were smaller than estimated, and this fact aided the bulls in an effort to support the market. December opened ½@¾c higher at 51½@51¾c, sold up to 51¾c and closed at 51½c. Local receipts were 166 cars, with 14 cars of contract grade.

Oats were firm on good buying by cash houses and on covering by shorts. The strength of the cash article was a help to speculative prices. December opened ⅛@¼c higher at 31¼@31½c, sold between 31¼ and 31⅜c, and closed at 31¼@31½c. Local receipts were 232 cars.

Small receipts of hogs and higher prices at the yards caused a firm tone in provisions early in the day, but the market weakened later on selling by brokers, supposed to be acting for local packers. There was also some profit taking by outside holders. At the close January pork was off 12½@15c, at $13 45@13 47½. Lard was down 12½c at $7 55. Ribs were 5c lower, at $6 97½. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 59 cars; corn, 97 cars; oats, 134 cars; hogs, 23,000 head.

The board of trade will be closed Saturday, October 8, Chicago day.

The leading futures, reported by John D. Armstrong & Co., members of the Chicago board of trade, Farmers Bank building, are as follows:

CLAIMS JUROR IS WRONGLY LISTED

Robert Davis Gives Unusual Reason for New Trial in Sheraden Case.

BECHTEL TRIAL POSTPONED

Robert Davis by his father, James Davis, made a motion for a new trial in the suit against the Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cincinnati & St. Louis railroad, giving an uncommon reason therefor. The action resulted from the Sheraden explosion in which a jury last week found for the railroad company. It is asserted that William Williams, one of the jurors who served on the case, is a constable and an officer in the employment of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad. It is also charged that he was marked "retired" on the jury list.

The trial of the cases of fraud against E. J. Bechtel and others, charged with operating an endless chain "home development" scheme, was postponed indefinitely in criminal court. Attorney John Marron, one of the defendants' counsel, asked for the postponement, saying that the defense had not yet prepared its side of the case.

In the suit of Evan Lloyd against William Kauffman in which the plaintiff asks damages for alleged intimacy on the part of the defendant with plaintiff's wife, the testimony of the defendant, taken under a rule at the instance of the plaintiff, has been filed. The report shows that on the first date set for the taking of his testimony on cross-examination, the defendant refused to be sworn on the advice of his counsel. An attachment was issued for him and on September 26 he testified he is an architect in the Lewis block and that he had associated with Mrs. Lloyd.

By the will of Michael H. Kerney, late of Pittsburgh, all the decedent's personal property to his wife absolutely, and his realty is left to her during her life time. At her death the following bequests are to be paid: Ann, a sister of decedent, $900; William Regan, a nephew, $500; St. Agnes' Roman Catholic church, $400 for masses. The residue of a $15,500 estate goes to his sister Bridget.

Suit for $3,000 damages for slander was entered against Albert Page by Albert Miller.

In the divorce suit of J. Franklin Williams against Elizabeth P. Williams, the latter filed an answer in which she claims she is already divorced from the plaintiff. The divorce, she said, was granted in South Dakota on August 27, 1898.

In the divorce suit of William Schmidt against his wife Annie E. Schmidt, the wife demands a jury trial. She is charged with deserting him, but claims that she was driven away by his brutality.

Charles Horton, Samuel Rudolph, E. Hollenbeck and Frank Ehlenz have entered suits against the proprietor of the Harrison hotel at Brackenridge for $1,000 each, alleging they were refused accommodation.

Letters of administration were granted Hannah M. Standish on the estate of William L. Standish, who died intestate at Edgeworth, on September 12. The personality is estimated to be worth $850,000 and realty, $50,000. The widow, Thomas A. Standish, a son, and Ethel O. Shannon are the heirs.

Harry Neese, Mike Connell and John Murphy were each sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary. It was alleged that on September 21, the defendants held up and robbed Christ Eberla in Penn avenue, and secured $62.

Julius Hoerner was acquitted of a charge of forgery and one of embezzlement, made by W. E. Henry in behalf of the Columbia Phonograph Company. The costs were placed on the prosecutor.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Joseph W. Palmer, a contractor, of Pittsburgh. He gives his liabilities as $2,275 45, with assets of $775.

The following executions were issued: B. Casagranda vs. A. R. Atterman, $193 71; Harry Cronshore vs. Lewis Brown, $2,029 62; same vs. Jacob P. Nill, $2,029 62; The George A. Hogg Iron and Steel Foundry Company vs. A. F. Baumgarten & Bro., $558 17; M. J. Carahan vs. Bridget M. Costello, $146 61; Theodore Mondscheine vs. Chris Schmidt, $78 13.

CZAR DELAYS PARTING WITH BALTIC SQUADRON

PETERHOF, Oct. 4.—The emperor has postponed for several days his trip to Reval, where he intended to bid farewell to the Baltic fleet. Lieut.-Gen. Grippenberg, who is to command the second Manchurian army, has arrived here. He will be received in audience by the emperor tomorrow.

THE THREE RIVERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 4.—The stage of the river at 8 o'clock this evening was 3.3 feet and falling. Weather clear and cooler. Today's departures were: Katie Mac, Portsmouth; Levi J. Workum, Madison; Courier, Louisville. The stage of the river reached the lowest point since 1887 when the stream was at the 3.3 foot stage. There is every prospect that the river will go even much lower as there is no rain in sight and no water except the rise which is coming from Parkersburg. This swell is expected to make about 12 inches rise here. The Maysville gauge showed 2.2 feet today. This is the new mark established by the local forecast officer S. Bassler for the information of those who are interested in river matters. Capt. H. White of Tupley, Ohio, was the guest of Capt. Fred Hartweg on 'change today.

WHEELING—River 3 feet 2 inches and rising. Cloudy and warm.

LOUISVILLE.—River stationary. In canal, 2.2; on falls, .0. Below locks, 3 feet. Clear and pleasant.

STEUBENVILLE.—River 2 feet 9 inches and rising. Weather clear and warm.

GREENSBORO.—River 5 feet and stationary. Weather fair and cold. Columbia down Wednesday and Wood ward up.

OIL CITY.—River 1 foot 5 inches and falling. Weather clear and cool.

WARREN.—River 1 foot and falling. Weather clear and cool.

POINT PLEASANT.—River 1 foot 10 inches and rising. Weather clear and pleasant.

PARKERSBURG.—River 3 feet 7.10 and falling. Weather clear and hot. No boats.

GALLIPOLIS.—River 3 feet and rising. Weather cloudy and cool.

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 8 o'clock last night was 3.1 feet and the river was falling slowly.

WILL HAVE A NEW BOAT.

Capt. John Klein Says the Mayflower Will Be Replaced—To Buy or Build.

Capt. John Klein of the steamer Mayflower, which was burned Monday morning, announced yesterday that a new boat, bigger and better than the Mayflower, will be in the business next season. The underwriters visited the wreck yesterday and will meet with Capt. Klein today or tomorrow to fix the loss. The owners have abandoned the boat as a wreck and will make no attempt to raise or rebuild her. Capt. Klein stated that, while it was possible she might be raised and repaired, the expense would be too great and he will either buy or build a new boat.

The chief difficulty in the way of buying is that the Mayflower was the widest boat on the three rivers. Her hull was 46½ feet and she was 61 feet wide over all. The John K. Speed, burned several years ago, was the only boat which approached her in width. Her tonnage, 922 tons, was also much greater than any other boat on the local rivers.

The pilots' party which left to view the river bottom last week has not been heard from for several days. When last heard from they announced that the river had changed but little. They were enjoying the trip and expected to reach Cincinnati today.

Fog delayed the Columbia, the Morgantown packet, yesterday until afternoon. She got away with a good trip.

John L. Vance, president of the Ohio River Improvement association, is expected in Pittsburgh in a few days to arouse interest in the coming convention of the association at Huntington, W. Va., Nov[illegible]ber 16, 17 and 18.

BEER BOTTLERS HAVE GRIEVANCES

Struck Because the Brewers Refused to Sign the New Agreement.

TROUBLE MAY BE ADJUSTED

There is a possibility of bottled beer being advanced in price owing to a strike of the men who handle the beverage. The members of Local No. 144 of the International Brewery Workers struck yesterday morning because the brewers refused to sign the new agreement. The old scale expired Saturday, but the men worked Monday, pending a conference which was held between committees of both sides, but failed to agree.

The new agreement calls for the same wages as last year. The workmen asked for an increase from $2 to $2 25 a day, but, in order to effect a settlement, withdrew their demand for an increase. The principal feature which is preventing an agreement is the expiration of the new scale. The union wants the scale to terminate April 1, 1907, while the brewers want no change in the date of expiration, and are willing to sign a new agreement to expire October 1, 1906.

The local union is not wholly responsible for the trouble. At the last convention of the brewery workers a resolution was passed stipulating that all scales in any city expire on the same date. In Western Pennsylvania there are three branches of workmen, the brewers, the drivers and the bottlers. Last January the brewers' scale expired and a new agreement was made which expires December, 1907. The drivers' scale expires next April. The workmen ask that their new agreement expire on the same date as that of the drivers.

Secretary Charles J. Andrews of the Pennsylvania Brewers association said yesterday that there were several minor points to be adjusted, but thought the trouble could be settled. He asked for a joint conference, to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The committee of the union granted the request. Secretary Andrews said it matters little to the association when the scale expires.

There are about 250 bottlers in Western Pennsylvania, but of this number only about 35 were affected by the strike. So far only 200 men struck, but the union has decided to call out all workmen unless their demands are acceded to. If non-union men are employed the drivers and brewers will be called out on a sympathy strike, which will affect about 1,500 workmen.

LARGE ESTATE IS LEFT BY WILLIAM H. WALKER

The will of William Walker, known as Harry Williams, which has been filed for probate, disposes of an estate valued at between $600,000 and $750,000, much of it life insurance, which goes to his widow, in addition to the insurance the widow is given all the property for life, and after her death it is to be apportioned equally among their four children. His two sisters in Baltimore get $10,000 each. The will further provides for the maintenance of his theaters after his death.
